PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Rev. SR 14B, Amdt. 5]

BREAD AND BAKERY PRODUCTS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

A new section 13 is added to Revised Supplementary Regulation 14B to read as follows:

SEC. 13. Emergency adjustment in maximum prices. Maximum prices for sales by producers of bread and bread-type rolls other than rye bread and rye rolls, as defined in paragraph (c) of section 7 of this regulation, as determined under any other provision of this revised supplementary regulation or any other regulation or order, are hereby increased at the rate of one cent per pound in the case of bread and by one cent per dozen in the case of bread-type rolls. Each producer may apply such increases in the case of bread by adjustment in his maximum price per loaf, by adjustment of the weight of the loaf, or by a combination of both, so as to result in an increase of one cent per pound. Any decrease in weight pursuant to section 12 hereof shall be disregarded for purposes of this section. Whenever a producer increases or decreases his maximum price per loaf of bread or sales unit of bread-type rolls pursuant to this section, any reseller may increase or must decrease his maximum price by a like amount per loaf or unit. This section shall not be applicable to sales of bread or sales units of rolls where the weight has been increased and the price adjusted since March 15, 1946, under the provisions of section 2 of this regulation. However, any producer who has increased his weight and price under section 2 since March 15, 1946, may revert to his former weight and price and then take advantage of the provisions of this section 13.

NOTE: Under this section you are permitted to increase your maximum price of your bread 1 cent per pound either by an adjustment in price or by adjustment of the weight, or by a combination of both. In making your calculations you will proceed as follows:

Divide your present price of bread by your baked weight. The result will be your present price per ounce of bread. Since the section permits an increase of 1 cent per pound you are permitted an increase of 0.0625 cent per ounce. Now add 0.0625 cent to your present price per ounce of bread to arrive at your new price per ounce.

To your present price per loaf add 1 cent, and then divide your new price by your new price per ounce to arrive at your new baked weight where an adjustment in weight is required. There are listed below several examples of this procedure.

Example No. 1. A 14 ounce loaf with a maximum price of 7¢. The 7¢ price divided by 14 ounces gives you 0.5000¢ as your present price per ounce.

0.5000¢ present price per ounce plus
0.0625¢ permitted increase per ounce

0.5625¢ new price per ounce

7.0000¢ present price per loaf plus
1.0000¢ increase in price per loaf

8.0000¢ new price per loaf.

8.0000¢ divided by 0.5625¢ equals 14.22 new baked weight ounces. The result after adjustment is an 8¢ price and a baked weight of 14.22 ounces.

The same loaf of bread need not be increased in price but can be decreased in weight as follows:

7.0000¢ divided by 0.5625¢ gives you 12.44 new baked weight ounces. The result after adjustment is a 7¢ price and a baked weight of 12.44 ounces.

Example No. 2. An 18-ounce loaf with a maximum price of 10¢. Price 10¢ divided by 18 ounces gives you 0.5556¢ present price per ounce.

0.5556¢ present price per ounce plus
0.0625¢ permitted increase per ounce

0.6181¢ new price per ounce
10.0000¢ present price per loaf plus
1.0000¢ increase in price per loaf

11.0000¢ new price per loaf.

11.0000¢ divided by 0.6181¢ gives you 17.80 new baked weight ounces. The result after adjustment is 11¢ price and a baked weight of 17.80 ounces.

The same loaf of bread need not be increased in price but can be decreased in weight as follows:

10.0000¢ divided by 0.6181¢ gives you 16.18 new baked weight ounces. The result after adjustment is a 10¢ price and a baked weight of 16.18 ounces.

This amendment shall become effective June 12, 1946.

SIOUX CITY STOCK YARDS CO.

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR MODIFICATION

Pursuant to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), the Secretary of Agriculture on December 13, 1934, issued an order prescribing reasonable rates and charges for stockyard services rendered by the respondent. Upon petitions for modification filed by respondent, this order has been modified from time to time.

By an original and supplemental petition filed on May 23 and May 28, 1946, the respondent has requested that the proposed schedule of rates and charges set out in the data attached to respondent's petition be established at respondent's stockyard.

The effect of such proposed modification, if granted, would increase the rates and charges at respondent's stockyard, thus resulting in additional revenues to respondent, and, therefore, public notice should be given of the filing of such petition in order that all interested persons may have an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to the public and to all interested persons of the filing of such petition for modification.

All interested persons who desire to be heard upon the matter requested in said petition for modification shall notify the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., within 15 days from the date of publication of this notice.

Copies hereof shall be served upon the respondents by registered mail or in person.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 7th day of June 1946.

NOTICE OF PETITION FOR MODIFICATION

By an order entered on February 17, 1937, pursuant to the provisions of the Packers and Stockyards Act, 1921, as amended (7 U. S. C. 181 et seq.), the Secretary of Agriculture prescribed reasonable rates and charges to be observed by the respondent. Except for minor modifications made during the years 1938 and 1939, this order remained in effect until April 1, 1940, when the order of February 17, 1937, was modified, and, as so modified, still remains in effect.

By a petition filed on May 31, 1946, the respondent has requested that the proposed schedule of rates and charges set out in Exhibit 2 attached to respondent's petition be established at respondent's stockyard.

The effect of such proposed modification, if granted, would increase the rates and charges at respondent's stockyard, thus resulting in additional revenues to respondent, and, therefore, public notice should be given of the filing of such petition in order that all interested persons may have an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given to the public and all interested persons of the filing of such petition for modification.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

SERVICE ALLOCATIONS FOR 920–940 AND 940–960 MEGACYCLE BANDS [1]

PUBLIC NOTICE

JUNE 3, 1946.

In the Commission's report of allocations from 25,000 kilocycles to 30,000,000 kilocycles (Docket 6651) dated May 25, 1945, the frequency band 920–940 megacycles was allocated to the experimental broadcast services, and the 940–960 megacycle band was allocated to fixed and experimental broadcast services, the latter band on a shared basis between broadcasting and low power fixed services such as police facsimile, control circuits, public service, special emergency automatic relays or repeaters, relay broadcast, and broadcast studio-to-transmitter links.

The Commission has received urgent inquiries as to the exact manner in which the various services mentioned above would be accommodated in the different bands provided. Potential manufacturers and users of FM studio-to-transmitter link equipment are particularly anxious to have the Commission indicate in detail the frequencies which are available to that service.

Accordingly, the following tentative service-allocation plan for the frequency bands 920–940 and 940–960 megacycles has been formulated for the various services which reflects the desire of the Commission that certain frequencies be made definitely available for the immediate use of specific services having a pressing need for them:

(1) Assignments to FM studio-to-transmitter links may be made in the upper portion of the 920–940 megacycle band in the event that future requirements indicate that insufficient space is available in the band of frequencies 940–952 megacycles.

(2) Assignments to Experimental Broadcasting Service in the 920–940 megacycle band may be made progressively upward from 920 megacycles.

(3) The band of frequencies 952–960 megacycles is to be used for fixed circuits such as police facsimile, control circuits, etc., with assignments progressing downward from 960 megacycles.

(4) The band of frequencies 940–952 megacycles is to be used for FM studio-to-transmitter links with assignments progressing upward from 940 megacycles.

(5) Assignments in the frequency bands 920–940 and 940–960 megacycles are to be on multiples of 100 kilocycles in order that a flexible channeling system may be provided. (The bandwidths required by the different services concerned can be accommodated through the assignment of an appropriate number of adjacent channels to each station.)

[1] Part 4—Rules governing broadcast services other than standard broadcast.
Part 5—Rules and regulations governing experimental radio service.

(6) A frequency tolerance of .01% and a bandwidth of 500 kilocycles are advocated for FM studio-to-transmitter links.

The relatively narrow beams which may be employed by point-to-point stations in this region of the spectrum should make possible a high degree of frequency conservation by means of geographic separation as differentiated from frequency separation. It is contemplated that the authorization of FM studio-to-transmitter equipment will require the showing of a definite need for the use of a radio circuit instead of a wire circuit.

It is to be pointed out that general provisions have been made in the Commission's report of allocations from 25,000 kilocycles to 30,000,000 kilocycles (Docket 6651), dated May 25, 1945, for the operation of the above-mentioned services in bands other than 940–960 megacycles, and the policies proposed herein do not preclude such operation provided a proper need can be shown to exist. However, detailed allocation plans for such bands must necessarily be formulated around the over-all indicated requirements of all services to which the bands apply, with particular reference to the suitability of the bands for each of the services for which consideration must be given.

The Commission wishes to obtain the comments of all services which expect to use frequencies between 920 and 960 megacycles with regard to the above proposed policies and with particular attention to the following subjects:

(a) Distances to be covered and power considered necessary.

(b) Practical transmission bandwidth, frequency tolerance, and receiver selectivity data for each type of emission and comunication service contemplated.

(c) Whether frequency space allowed above for each service is considered adequate.

(d) Directive characteristics of antennas proposed for each type of service and the maximum degree of directivity believed practical.

It is requested that comments from those interested in this subject be submitted in writing to the Secretary of the Commission by June 15, 1946.

Secretary.

FM BROADCASTING OTHER THAN NON-COMMERCIAL EDUCATIONAL BROADCAST SERVICE

ORDER PROVIDING OPPORTUNITY FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

In the matter of promulgation of rules and regulations and Standards of Good Engineering Practice for FM broadcasting other than non-commercial educational broadcast service. Docket No. 6768.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held in its offices in Washington, D. C. on the 24th day of May 1946;

Whereas, it appears that the public interest, convenience, and necessity may be served by the adoption of the attached proposed amendments to the Commission's rules and regulations, and Standards of Good Engineering Practice for FM broadcasting other than noncommercial educational broadcast service;

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That any persons desiring to submit written statements with respect to these proposed rules and regulations and standards, file such statements with the Commission on or before June 15, 1946; and any persons desiring the opportunity of oral argument file their requests with the Commission on or before June 15, 1946; and

It is further ordered, That in absence of protests on or before June 15, 1946, the proposed rules and regulations and standards will be promulgated.

§ 3.202 Areas of the United States. For the purpose of allocation the United States is divided into two areas. The first area—area I—includes southern New Hampshire; all of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and Connecticut; southeastern New York as far north as Albany-Troy-Schenectady; all of New Jersey, Delaware, and the District of Columbia; Maryland as far west as Hagerstown; and eastern Pennsylvania as far west as Harrisburg.[1] The second area—area II—comprehends the remainder of the United States not included in area I.

§ 3.203 Class A stations. (a) A class A station is a station which operates on a Class A channel and is designed to render service primarily to a community or to a city or town other than the principal city of an area, and the surrounding rural area. The transmitter power and antenna height of a class A station shall normally be capable of coverage equivalent[2] to a minimum of 0.1 kw and a maximum of 1.0 kw effective radiated power at 250 feet antenna height, as determined by the methods prescribed in the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning FM Broadcast Stations. Class A stations will not be authorized with more than 1 kw effective radiated power. Standard power ratings of transmitters used for Class A stations shall be not less than 250 watts nor more than 1000 watts. A normal minimum separation for class A stations of 50 miles will be provided on the same channel and 35 miles on adjacent channels.

(b) Twenty channels beginning with 104.1 mc and ending with 107.9 mc (channels 281 through 300) are designated as Class A channels. All of these channels are available for assignment in cities which are not the central city or cities of a metropolitan district. Ten of these channels are also available for assignment in central cities of metropolitan districts which have fewer than six class B stations.[3]

(c) The main studio of a class A station shall be located in the city served and the transmitter shall be located as near the center of the city as practicable.

§ 3.204 Class B stations. (a) A Class B station is a station which operates on a class B channel and is designed to render service primarily to a metropolitan district or principal city and the surrounding rural area, or to rural areas removed from large centers of population. The service area of a class B station will not be protected beyond the 1000 uv/m contour; however, class B assignments will be made in a manner to insure, insofar as possible, a maximum of service to all listeners, whether urban or rural, giving consideration to the minimum signal capable of providing service. Standard power ratings of transmitters used for class B stations shall normally be 1000 watts or greater. In the following subsections, antenna height above average terrain and effective radiated power are to be determined by the methods prescribed in the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning FM Broadcast Stations.

(1) In area I, class B stations will be licensed to operate with a service area equivalent[2] to a minimum of 10 kw effective radiated power and antenna height of 300 feet above average terrain and a maximum of 20 kw effective radiated power and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain.[4] In metropolitan districts in area I with a population greater than 250,000 the minimum service area shall be the equivalent[2] of 20 kw effective radiated power and an antenna height of 350 feet above average terrain. Class B stations in area I will not be licensed with an effective radiated power greater than 20 kw.

(2) In area II, class B stations will be licensed to operate with a service area equivalent[2] to a minimum of 2 kw effective radiated power and antenna height of 300 feet above average terrain and a normal maximum of 20 kw effective radiated power and antenna height of 500 feet above average terrain.[4] In area II, where it is shown that the public interest would be served by authorizing greater power or antenna height either to serve greater area or to provide a higher signal intensity within an area, the power, antenna height, and area will be determined on the merits of the case, with particular attention being given to rural areas which would not otherwise receive service.

(b) Sixty channels beginning at 92.1 mc and ending at 103.9 mc (channels 221 through 280) are designated as class B channels.

§ 3.205 Station location. (a) Each FM broadcast station shall be considered located in the state and city where the main studio is located.

(b) The transmitter of each FM broadcast station shall be so located that satisfactory service is delivered to the city where the main studio is located, in accordance with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning FM Broadcast Stations: Provided, however, Upon special showing of need, authorization may be granted to locate the transmitter so that adequate service is not rendered to this city, but in no event shall this city be beyond the 50 uv/m contour.

§ 3.206 Main studio. The term "main studio" means the studio from which the majority of local programs originate and/or from which a majority of station announcements are made of programs originating at remote points.

The following changes are proposed for the Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning FM Broadcast Stations.

2. Engineering standards of allocation.

A. Sections 3.202 to 3.206 inclusive of the rules and regulations describe the basis for allocation of FM Broadcast Stations, including the division of the United States into Areas I and II. Where reference is made in the rules to antenna heights of Class A stations, section 2 E (1) of these Standards should be consulted; for Class B stations, section 2 E (2) should be consulted.

B. In determining the predicted and measured field intensity contours of FM broadcast stations the following shall govern:

(1) Class A stations will normally not be required to determine their contours.

(2) Class B stations shall determine the extent of their 1000 uv/m and 50 uv/m contours.

The above contours shall be determined in accordance with the methods prescribed in these Standards.

C. Although some service is provided by tropospheric waves, the service area is considered to be only that served by the ground wave. The extent of the service is determined by the point at which the ground wave is no longer of sufficient intensity to provide satisfactory broadcast service. The field intensity considered necessary for service is as follows:

TABLE I

Area:	Median field intensity
City business or factory areas	1000 uv/m
Rural areas	50 uv/m

A medium field intensity of 3000 to 5000 uv/m should be placed over the principal city to be served, and a median field intensity of 1000 uv/m should be placed over the business district of cities of 10,000 or greater within the metropolitan district served. The location of the main studio of a class A station is specified in § 3.203 of the rules. A field intensity of 5000 uv/m should be provided over the main studio of a class B station except as otherwise provided in § 3.204 of the rules.

These figures are based upon the usual noise levels encountered in the several areas and upon the absence of interference from other FM stations.

D. A basis for allocation of satellite stations has not yet been determined. For the present, applications will be considered on their individual merits.

E. The service area is predicted as follows:

(1) Class A stations. A map, topographic where obtainable, shall be submitted for the area within 15 miles of the proposed antenna site. On this map shall be indicated the antenna location and a circle of 10 miles radius with the antenna location as center. Representative points shall be picked on this circle 15 degrees apart and the elevation of these points determined. The average elevation of these points will be considered the average elevation of the circle. The difference between the elevation of the center of the radiating system and the average elevation of this circle shall be considered the height of the antenna over the terrain 10 miles from the transmitter. In cases where the applicant believes this method to be grossly in error due to peculiarities of the terrain, this method shall be used for determining the antenna height but a showing may be made, if desired, determining the height by other means and describing the method used. Calculations of the service contours of Class A stations are not required.

(2) Class B stations. (No changes in present section 2 E (2)).

PENN-YORK NATURAL GAS CORP.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

JUNE 10, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on May 31, 1946, an application was filed with the

[1] In some of the territory contiguous to area I, the demand for frequencies requires that applications be given careful study and consideration to insure an equitable distribution of facilities throughout the region. This region includes the remainder of Maryland, Pennsylvania, and New York (except the northeastern corner) not included in area I; Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Ohio, and Indiana; southern Michigan as far north as Saginaw; eastern Illinois as far west as Rockford-Decatur; and southeastern Wisconsin as far north as Sheboygan. Other regions may be added as required.

[2] For the purpose of determining equivalent coverage, the 1000 uv/m contour should be used.

[3] For the time being, until more FM broadcast stations are authorized, the Commission will not authorize class A stations in central cities of metropolitan districts having four or more standard broadcast stations.

[4] In the determination of appropriate coverage, consideration should be given to population distribution, terrain, service from other FM stations, trade area and other economic factors. Among the recognized trade area authorities are the following: J. Walter Thompson (Retail Shopping Areas), Hearst Magazines, Inc. (Consumer Trading areas), Rand McNally Map Co. (Trading Areas) and Hagstrom Map Co. (Four Color Retail Trading Area Map).

Federal Power Commission by Penn-York Natural Gas Corporation ("Applicant"), a corporation organized under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, with its principal place of business in Buffalo, New York, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize the Applicant to construct and operate the facilities hereinafter described.

Applicant proposes to construct the following-described facilities:

(1) One additional 8" pipeline stream bed crossing at Cattaraugus Creek, parallel to, connected with, and approximately one hundred (100) feet distant from Applicant's presently existing 8" pipeline which crosses Cattaraugus Creek at a point on the Erie and Cattaraugus county line and which 8" pipeline extends from Applicant's Arcade Station in Wyoming County, New York, to its Sheridan Station, in Chautauqua County, New York, the Cattaraugus Creek crossing being located approximately twenty-five (25) miles west of said Arcade Station. The length of the proposed new pipeline crossing will be approximately one thousand (1,000) feet, and the two pipeline crossings will be joined with appropriate headers and valves to permit operation of either singly.

(2) Applicant also proposes to construct one steel building, 40' x 80', to be used as a garage, warehouse and workshop, and to be located in the Town of Arcade, Wyoming County, New York. Applicant submits that this proposed building will be located at a central point on the company's pipeline system and will provide centralized, more efficient and less costly operation of its system.

The application recites that Applicant owns and operates a pipeline which extends from Harrison Township, Potter County, Pennsylvania, to the distribution lines of Republic Light, Heat and Power Co., Inc., at two points known respectively as Billo Station, Town of Alden, Erie County, New York, and Sheridan Station, Town of Sheridan, Chautauqua County, New York. The application further states that Applicant presently has one producing gas well and that it purchases the bulk of the gas it transports and sells to Republic Light, Heat and Power Co., Inc. from New York State Natural Gas Corporation.

Applicant proposes by means of the proposed pipeline to assure maintenance of adequate service by elimination of the hazard involved, should a break occur in the one pipeline now crossing Cattaraugus Creek during flood and ice conditions. Applicant submits that the construction of the proposed pipeline will provide a much greater degree of safety and that it is in the public interest that this crossing be constructed. Applicant proposes by means of the proposed steel building to provide more centralized, more efficient and less costly operation of its system. Applicant states that it does not presently own any similar garage, warehouse and workshop facility at a central point on its system, and that its present facilities are not movable and are insufficient in size, in addition to being located in Pennsylvania at the extreme south end of its 10" pipeline.

The estimated over-all capital cost of constructing the proposed facilities is $20,000.

Any interested State Commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of Penn-York Natural Gas Corporation should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen days from the date of this publication, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

[Rev. SO 119, Order 251]

A. MARCHAND, INC.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. A. Marchand, Incorporated, 680 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for bathroom and closet fixtures of its manufacture by increasing by 15 percent the ceiling prices to each class of purchaser as established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

As used in this paragraph "ceiling prices as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188", shall mean the ceiling prices established under that regulation without the inclusion in those ceiling prices either directly or indirectly of any adjustment, either individual or industry-wide.

(b) Ceiling prices of purchasers for resale. (1) A purchaser for resale, who had an established ceiling price prior to the effective date of this order for any article, whose manufacturer's ceiling price was adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this order, may increase that established ceiling price by 15 percent.

(2) A purchaser for resale who had no established ceiling price prior to the effective date of this order for any article whose ceiling price is subject to this order, shall determine his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is one which meets all the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the resale ceiling price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter, properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted ceiling prices for resales of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) All requests contained in the application for price adjustment filed by A. Marchand, Incorporated, assigned OPA Docket No. 6069-SO-119-56C, not specifically granted by this order are hereby denied.

(f) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall have no application to any sale or delivery of any article subject to this order.

(g) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective on the 11th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

SOLID FUELS IN BOSTON REGION

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region I of the Office of Price Administration by §§ 1340.259 (a) (1) and 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Region I Order No. G-70 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(a) What this order does. This is a revision of Region I Order No. G-70, which established specific maximum prices for certain solid fuels when sold in specified areas in Region I. The body of the order contains the general provisions which are applicable to all solid fuels in all of the areas covered by this order. The special provisions and specific prices applicable in particular areas are set forth in appendices, separately numbered, each of which has appeared as an amendment to the original order or will appear as an amendment to this revised order.

All appendices heretofore issued under Order No. G-70 (and effective thereunder on the effective date of this revised order) shall become appendices hereof and shall retain their present numbering: Provided, further, That the provisions, schedules and terms contained in any such appendix, as modified or affected by any Region I supplementary order which is outstanding and applicable thereto on the effective date of this revised order, shall continue in full force and effect as so modified in such appendix under this revised order until such appendix is revised by an amendment issued to this revised order, or until the provisions of any region I supplementary order, otherwise applicable thereto, have been revoked in respect to such appendix. If any special provision in an appendix is contrary to or inconsistent with any of the general provisions, the special provision shall be controlling in the area covered by that appendix. Any solid fuel for which specific prices are not provided will continue to be priced under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

Nothing contained in this order shall be so construed as to permit noncompliance with any statutes of the State or States within which any area covered by this order is located, or any rules or regulations promulgated under any such statutes, concerning sales or deliveries of solid fuels.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall:

(1) Sell, or in the course of trade or business, buy any solid fuel for which a specific price is established by this order at a price higher than the specific maximum price (but lower prices may be charged, paid or offered); or

(2) Obtain a higher than maximum price, directly or indirectly, by:

(a) Granting less than the discounts, allowances or price differentials which are specifically required;

(b) Charging for a service unless it is expressly requested by the buyer, charging more for a service than the amount authorized by this order, or charging for any service for which a charge is not specifically authorized by this order;

(c) Using any tying agreement or making any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him, except that a dealer may comply with the requirements or standards with respect to deliveries which have been or may be issued by any agency of the United States government; or

(d) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained.

(c) Transportation tax. Any dealer subject to this order may collect, in addition to the specified maximum prices established herein, provided he states it separately, the amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 actually paid or incurred by him, or an amount equal to the amount of such tax paid by any of his prior suppliers and separately stated and collected from the dealer by his supplier; Provided, however, That no part of that tax may be collected in addition to the maximum price on sales of lesser quantities than one-quarter ton or any sales of any quantity of bagged fuel; and Provided further, That the dealer need not state separately from his selling price the amount of said tax on a sale to the United States or any agency thereof, any State government, or any political subdivision thereof.

(d) Addition of increases in supplier's prices prohibited. The maximum prices established by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in purchase costs or in suppliers' maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereof, and need not be decreased to reflect decreases in such costs or maximum prices. Increases or decreases in the maximum prices established by this order to reflect such increases or decreases are within the discretion of the Regional Administrator.

(e) Conditions upon sale of Pennsylvania Anthracites (and other solid fuels—(1) Quality standards and applicability of prices for Pennsylvania anthracite. All anthracite sold subject to this order shall conform to OPA quality standards, except to the extent that any anthracite which fails to conform thereto is sold pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph.

(a) The specific maximum prices set forth in this order (or in any appendix hereto) for broken, egg, stove, chestnut, pea, buckwheat and rice sizes of Pennsylvania Anthracite may be charged only for Pennsylvania Anthracite of those sizes the ash content of which does not exceed that specified in § 1340.200 (a) (6) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 112 for the particular size.

(b) Maximum prices for Pennsylvania Anthracite received by a dealer which has been identified by his supplier prior to its resale as anthracite with an ash content in excess of OPA quality standards shall be the maximum prices established under this area order, less the following amounts:

	Per net ton [1]
Broken, egg, stove and chestnut	$1.00
Pea	.80
Buckwheat No. 1	.60
Rice (buckwheat No. 2)	.50

[1] For sales of fractions of a net ton, the reduction shall be proportionate.

(c) Such anthracite shall be kept separate in storage and delivery from all other anthracite. Every dealer selling such anthracite must, in addition to the information required by the terms of any other invoicing requirement, place the following legend on the invoice, sales slip, or receipt:

Price reduced because of high ash content.

(2) Higher priced anthracites. A dealer selling anthracites under this order for which different maximum prices are established hereunder, shall segregate each such anthracite from other anthracite, except to the extent that any such anthracite is sold pursuant to the provisions of this subparagraph.

The specific dollars-and-cents prices set forth in any appendix to this Revised Order No. G-70 for any higher priced anthracite (i. e., for any anthracite other than Group I) may be charged only if the following conditions are observed:

(a) The particular coal is not mixed with any other coal, either in storage or delivery; Provided, however, That if a purchaser requests a delivery of a mixture of two or more coals, the dealer may comply with such requests if the quantity of each is separately weighed, the price charged does not exceed the weighted average of the maximum prices for the individual coals, and the invoice or similar document delivered to the purchaser clearly states the quantity of each coal in the mixture, identified by the terms used herein; And provided further, That two or more coals may be mixed and sold at the price provided for that one which carries the lowest price, in which case the name used may be that of any coal in the mixture to which the lowest price would apply;

(b) An invoice or similar document is delivered to the purchaser which describes the coals by the names used in this order;

(c) The records kept by the dealer, pursuant to the record-keeping clause of this order, clearly identify the higher priced coals by the names used in this order, and are complete and accurate as to any mixtures permitted by subparagraph (a) above and as to the composition thereof and name or names used therefor; and

(d) The dealer preserves and keeps available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, all invoices and other records of his purchases of higher priced coals.

(3) The maximum prices set forth in any price schedule established under this order for sales of solid fuels to consumers (whether for delivered sales, yard sales, or sales f. o. b. transportation facilities, at seller's yard, dock or other terminal facilities) are applicable, unless otherwise specified, only to sales of solid fuels to consumers in less than railroad carlots. In connection with every sale under this order to a consumer of any solid fuel sold in not less than railroad carlots, the maximum price set forth in the applicable price schedule for the particular solid fuel shall, unless said price is specifically applicable to consumer sales in quantities of railroad carlots or greater, be reduced ten cents per net ton.

(f) Geographical applicability. Specific maximum prices which are established by an appendix to this order for "yard sales," sales f. o. b. transportation facilities at a dealer's yard, dock or other terminal facility, or sales at retail stores and other fixed locations shall apply to all such sales at points located in the area covered by the particular appendix, regardless of the ultimate destination of the fuel. Specific maximum prices for sales on a delivered basis shall apply to all such sales to purchasers who receive delivery within the area covered by the appendix, regardless of whether the dealer is located within that area.

(g) Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at whatever maximum price is in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

(h) Applicability of other regulations. (1) To the extent applicable, the provisions of this order supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, and dealers whose prices are established by this order are not required to file reports under § 1340.262 (c) thereof for those solid fuels for which specific maximum prices are established. However, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, as amended, shall continue to apply in all cases where specific maximum prices are not established by this or some other order, and as to all transactions prior to the date upon which specific maximum prices become effective, and all dealers shall continue to observe the requirements of § 1340.262 (a) concerning preservation of base period records.

(2) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(i) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to the criminal penalties, civil and enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration having jurisdiction over the area in which the violation occurred.

(j) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Every dealer subject to this order shall post all of the maximum prices established hereby which apply to the types of sales made by him in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public and shall keep a copy of this order available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours. In the case of a dealer who sells directly to consumers from a truck or wagon, the posting shall be done on the truck or wagon. All postings shall include the relevant terms of sale.

(2) Every dealer selling fuel for sales of which a maximum price is set by this order shall give to each purchaser an invoice or similar document showing:

(a) The date of the sale or delivery, the name and address of the dealer and of the buyer, the kind, size and quantity of the solid fuel sold, the price charged, and the terms of sale; and

(b) Separately stating any special services rendered and other charges made and the amount charged therefor.

This paragraph shall not apply to sales of quantities of less than one-quarter ton unless the dealer customarily gave such a statement of such sales, but in the case of bagged fuel, the invoice shall be given on all sales to dealers and retail stores, and it shall show both the price per bag and the total charge.

(3) In the case of all other sales, every dealer shall comply with the invoice requirements contained in § 1340.263 (b) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, as amended.

(k) Records. Every person making a sale of solid fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall keep a record thereof, showing the date, the name and address of the buyer (if known), the per-net-ton price charged and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in this order. The record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made for it.

(l) Definitions. When used in this revised order, except where otherwise provided in an appendix hereto, the following terms shall have the following meanings. These definitions include only those terms which are used generally in this order and in a number of appendices. When necessary, other terms which are used in a particular appendix are specifically defined therein.

COLUMBIA GAS & ELECTRIC CORP. AND DAYTON POWER AND LIGHT CO.

ORDER CLOSING RECORD AND RESERVING JURISDICTION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 7th day of June 1946.

Columbia Gas & Electric Corporation ("Columbia"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of The United Corporation ("United"), also a registered holding company, and Columbia's public utility subsidiary, The Dayton Power and Light Company ("Dayton"), having filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 with respect to, among other things, the sale by Columbia of 1,530,000 shares of common stock, $7 par value, of Dayton in accordance with the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50; and

The Commission having, by order dated May 23, 1946, granted the application and permitting the declaration to become effective, subject, however, to a reservation of jurisdiction over the price to be paid Columbia for the Dayton common stock and the underwriters' spread and its allocation and all legal fees and other expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Applicant and declarant having, on June 6, 1946, filed a further amendment to the application-declaration stating that Columbia had offered the common stock of Dayton for sale, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, and had received the following bids:

Bidder	Price per share to company
Blyth & Co., Inc., and Mellon Securities Corp.	$33.639
Morgan, Stanley & Co. and W. E. Hutton & Co.	30.6399

The amendment further stating that Columbia has accepted the bid of Blyth & Co., Inc., and Mellon Securities Corp. for the common stock of Dayton, as set out above, and that the stock will be offered for sale to the public at a price of $35.75 per share resulting in an underwriters' spread of $2.111 per share; and

The Commission having examined the amendment and having heard further testimony and oral argument with respect to the bids submitted and having on June 6, 1946, issued its memorandum opinion concluding that, in view of the difficult questions raised under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the further complications which might result if certain indicated violations of the Securities Act of 1933 were established, it would be inadvisable to enter a definitive order under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 prior to 8:00 p. m., e. d. s. t., of that date, the time of expiration of the underwriting contract; and

The Commission having this day been advised of an extension of the underwriting contract for a period of twenty-four hours until 8:00 p. m., e. d. s. t., June 7, 1946; and

The Commission having further examined the record in the proceedings under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and now being satisfied that the applicable requirements of such Act have been met, and being further satisfied that any violations of the Securities Act of 1933 which may have occurred would not require denying the application or withholding effectiveness of the declaration filed under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935;

It is ordered, That the record reopened by Commission's order dated June 6, 1946, be, and the same hereby is, closed except with respect to legal fees and other expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transaction, as to which matters jurisdiction was heretofore reserved.

It is further ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved with respect to the price to be paid Columbia for the Dayton common stock and the underwriters' spread and its allocation be, and the same hereby is, released, and that said application and declaration, as amended, be, and hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, respectively, subject, however, to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO. AND OHIO POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 7th day of June, A. D. 1946.

American Gas and Electric Company ("American"), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, Ohio Power Company ("Ohio Power"), having filed an application and amendments thereto pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions.

American is the owner of all the presently outstanding 4,792,952 shares of no par value common stock of Ohio Power. American proposes to purchase from Ohio Power and Ohio Power proposes to sell to American 200,000 shares of no par value common stock of Ohio Power for a cash purchase price of $4,000,000. Ohio Power proposes to apply the proceeds from the sale of said common stock together with treasury cash to the payment of its presently outstanding bank loans in the principal amount of $4,750,000. American, in effecting the proposed transactions, states that it intends to utilize $3,441,266 of the proceeds from the sale of its holdings of the common stock of The Scranton Electric Company together with $558,734.00 of its general corporate funds.

Ohio Power requests that the requirement to increase its earned surplus by $1,000,000 per year through the year 1948 contained in the Commission's order dated March 26, 1941, be removed concurrently with the payment of said bank loans. The application states the consummation of the proposed transactions is contingent upon the approval by the Commission of the above request by Ohio Power.

The application states that the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio which has jurisdiction over the proposed issuance and sale of common stock and the use of the proceeds thereof has approved the proposed transactions.

American has requested that the Commission enter an order reciting that the proposed use by American of $3,441,266 of the proceeds of the sale by American of the common stock of The Scranton Electric Company for the proposed purchase by American from Ohio Power of the said 200,000 shares of no par value common stock of Ohio Power for a cash purchase price of $4,000,000 is necessary and appropriate to the integration or simplification of the Holding Company System of which American is a member and necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, and that such order conform to the pertinent requirements of sections 371 and 1808 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and contain the recitals, specifications and itemizations therein required.

Said application having been filed on May 17, 1946, and said amendments having been filed on May 22, 1946, and June 6, 1946, and notice of said filing having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 of said act and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said application within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered the hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed transactions hereinabove mentioned satisfy the requirements of the provisions of the act and the rules thereunder, insofar as they are applicable, and that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said application be granted and that the effective date therein be advanced:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 that the aforesaid application be, and the same hereby is, granted.

It is further ordered, That, upon consummation of the proposed transactions, the dividend restriction with respect to the common stock of Ohio Power contained in the order of the Commission dated March 26, 1941 be modified to eliminate therefrom the requirement that Ohio Power increase its earned surplus by $1,000,000 per year for the years 1946–1948, inclusive.

It is further ordered and recited, That the use by American of the balance of $3,441,266 of the proceeds of the sale of the common stock of The Scranton Electric Company for the purchase of shares of the common stock of the Ohio Power Company is necessary and appropriate to the integration or simplification of the Holding Company System of which American is a member, and necessary and appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

CAMBRIDGE ELECTRIC LIGHT CO. AND NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 10th day of June 1946.

Notice is hereby given that a joint application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 by New England Gas and Electric Association (New England), a registered holding company, and its subsidiary, Cambridge Electric Light Company (Cambridge); and

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 21, 1946, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reason for such request and the nature of his interest, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. At any time thereafter such application-declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated pursuant to said Act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration which is on file in the offices of said Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

Cambridge proposes to issue its notes payable to The First National Bank of Boston in amounts not exceeding in the aggregate $3,338,000, all of such notes to be issued and dated prior to March 31, 1948, in such denominations as Cambridge shall elect at the time of issue to mature not later than December 31, 1951, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 2% per annum.

Cambridge has presently outstanding indebtedness aggregating $500,000 due The First National Bank of Boston, represented by notes maturing June 30, 1946. The new notes will be issued to retire said existing notes maturing June 30, 1946, and thereafter in such amounts as may be necessary to pay for proposed additions and betterments to the plant and property of Cambridge.

As soon as the loans made by The First National Bank of Boston shall aggregate $1,000,000 and completed fundable additions to plant are at least $1,000,000, Cambridge will issue and sell additional shares of its capital stock sufficient to provide $1,000,000, which cash will be applied to the reduction of its note indebtedness. Under the terms of the loan agreement with The First National Bank of Boston, New England will at that time purchase such additional capital stock when the same has been duly authorized and issued. It is the further intention of Cambridge that the remainder of the temporary borrowings will eventually be replaced by an issue of first mortgage bonds.

The application by Cambridge is filed pursuant to section 6 (b) for exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the act of the issue and sale of the notes payable in the aggregate amount of $3,338,000. New England has joined in the filing under section 12 (f) of the act by reason of its participation in the loan agreement with The First National Bank of Boston; it agrees therein, subject to approvals required of regulatory authorities, to purchase the new additional shares of capital stock of Cambridge to be issued in the future.

By the Commission.

(D) By inserting at the end thereof the following:

TENTATIVE SURTAX TABLE

TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1945

Surtax net income	Percent	Total tentative surtax
$0 to $2,000	17	$340
$2,000 to $4,000	19	720
$4,000 to $6,000	23	1,180
$6,000 to $8,000	27	1,720
$8,000 to $10,000	31	2,340
$10,000 to $12,000	35	3,040
$12,000 to $14,000	40	3,840
$14,000 to $16,000	44	4,720
$16,000 to $18,000	47	5,660
$18,000 to $20,000	50	6,660
$20,000 to $22,000	53	7,720
$22,000 to $26,000	56	9,960
$26,000 to $32,000	59	13,500
$32,000 to $38,000	62	17,220
$38,000 to $44,000	66	21,180

$150,000 to $200,000	87	150,820
$200,000 up	88

The tentative surtax for any amount of surtax net income not stated in round numbers in the tentative surtax table is computed by adding to the tentative surtax for the largest amount stated which is less than the surtax net income, the tentative surtax upon the excess over that amount at the rate indicated in the table. Accordingly, the tentative surtax upon a surtax net income of $63,128 would be $34,866, computed as follows:

Tentative surtax on $60,000 from table	$32,520
Tentative surtax on $3,128 at 75 percent	2,346
Total	34,866

Since section 12 specifies that the surtax is 5 percent less than the tentative surtax, the surtax upon a surtax net income of $63,128 would be $33,122.70, computed as follows:

Tentative surtax on $63,128	$34,866.00
Less: 5 percent of $34,866	1,743.30
Surtax	33,122.70

PAR. 6. Section 29.12–3, added by Treasury Decision 5425, is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after "For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943," the words "and before January 1, 1946,".

(1) Surtax net incomes not over $25,000. Upon corporation surtax net incomes not over $25,000, 6 per centum of the amount thereof.

(2) Surtax net incomes over $25,000 but not over $50,000. Upon corporation surtax net incomes over $25,000, but not over $50,000, $1,500 plus 22 per centum of the amount of the corporation surtax net income over $25,000.

(d) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. For treatment of taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, see section 131.

PAR. 10. Section 29.15–1 is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out so much as follows the first paragraph and precedes the example and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, the "corporation surtax net income" of a corporation is its net income minus (1) the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2, (2) the credit provided in section 26 (b) for dividends received, and (3) in the case of a public utility, the credit provided in section 26 (h) for dividends paid on its preferred stock. For the purposes of determining the corporation surtax net income, dividends received on the preferred stock of a public utility must be disregarded in computing the credit provided in section 26 (b) for dividends received. For the purposes of determining the corporation surtax net income for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, such credit is limited to 85 percent of the corporation's net income reduced by the credit provided in section 26 (e) for income subject to the excess profits tax imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2, rather than to 85 percent of the adjusted net income so reduced.

For taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, the rates of corporation surtax are as follows:

(1) Upon corporation surtax net incomes of $25,000 or less, 10 percent of the amount thereof.

(2) Upon corporation surtax net incomes over $25,000 but not over $50,000, $2,500, plus 22 percent of the amount of such income in excess of $25,000.

(3) Upon corporation surtax net incomes of more than $50,000, 16 percent of the entire amount thereof.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945, the "corporation surtax net income" of a corporation is its net income minus (1) the credit provided in section 26 (b) for dividends received and (2) in the case of a public utility, the credit provided in section 26 (h) for dividends paid on its preferred stock. For the purposes of determining the corporation surtax net income, dividends received on the preferred stock of a public utility must be disregarded in computing the credit provided in section 26 (b) for dividends received.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945, the rates of corporation surtax are as follows:

(1) Upon corporation surtax net incomes of $25,000 or less, 6 percent of the amount thereof.

(2) Upon corporation surtax net incomes over $25,000 but not over $50,000, $1,500 plus 22 percent of the amount of such income in excess of $25,000.

(3) Upon corporation surtax net income of more than $50,000, 14 percent of the entire amount thereof.

The credit provided in section 26 (a) for interest received on obligations of the United States or its instrumentalities is not allowable in computing corporation surtax net income for any taxable year.

For treatment of taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, see § 29.108–2.

The computation of the surtax on corporations may be illustrated by the following examples:

(B) By redesignating the example as Example (1) and inserting at the end thereof the following:

Example (2). The B Corporation, a domestic corporation which is not a public utility, has for the calendar year 1946 a net income of $75,000. The net income includes dividends received from a corporation which is not a public utility, in the amount of $5,000, and dividends received on the preferred stock of a public utility in the amount of $2,000. The B Corporation's surtax for the calendar year 1946 is $9,905, computed as follows:

Net income	$75,000
Less credit for dividends received (85 percent of $5,000)	4,250
Corporation surtax net income	70,750
Tax (14 percent of $70,750)	9,905

If, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943, and before January 1, 1946, a return is made for a fractional part of a year resulting from the termination by the Commissioner under section 146 of the taxable period, the normal-tax exemption and the surtax exemptions shall be reduced to that proportion of the full normal-tax exemption (in the case of the normal tax) and the full surtax exemptions (in the case of the surtax) which the number of months in the period for which the return is made bears to 12 months, but such exemptions shall not be reduced for a fractional part of a year otherwise resulting. If, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945, such a return is made, the exemptions for normal tax and surtax shall be similarly reduced. A return is required in the case of every taxable year beginning before January 1, 1946, which is a period of less than 12 months, if the gross income for such taxable year is greater than the personal exemption or the normal-tax exemption, as the case may be, for such taxable year as so reduced. A return is required in the case of every taxable year beginning after December 31, 1945, which is a period of less than 12 months, if the gross income for such taxable year is greater than one exemption for normal tax and surtax as so reduced. In the case of a return by a corporation for a fractional part of a year the credit provided by section 26 (e) for the income of the corporation subject to excess profits tax, for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944, is considered the amount of which the excess profits tax of the corporation imposed for the taxable year computed without regard to the tax deferment under section 710 (a) (5) is 90 percent, and for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943, and before January 1, 1946, the amount of which such excess profits tax so computed is 95 percent. As to the definition of tax imposed for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, see section 26 (e). For treatment of taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, see § 29.108–2.

PAR. 26. Section 29.47–2, as amended by Treasury Decision 5401, is further amended by inserting immediately after the words "for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943," in the fifth sentence of the second paragraph of (a), the fifth sentence of the second paragraph of (b), and the third sentence of the fourth paragraph of (b) the words "and before January 1, 1946,".

PAR. 31. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.108–1 the following:

SEC. 131. FISCAL YEAR TAXPAYERS. (Revenue Act of 1945, approved November 8, 1945.)

(a) Income taxes. Section 108 of the Internal Revenue Code is amended by striking out "(c)" at the beginning of subsection (c) and inserting in lieu thereof "(d)", and by inserting after subsection (b) the following:

(c) Taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946. In the case of a taxable year beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, the tax imposed by sections 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 400 shall be an amount equal to the sum of—

(1) That portion of a tentative tax, computed as if the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1945, were applicable to such taxable year, which the number of days in such taxable year prior to January 1, 1946, bears to the total number of days in such taxable year, plus

(2) That portion of a tentative tax, computed as if the law applicable to years beginning on January 1, 1946, were applicable to such taxable year, which the number of days in such taxable year after December 31, 1945, bears to the total number of days in such taxable year.

PAR. 32. There is inserted immediately following § 29.108–1 the following:

§ 29.108–2 Computation of tax for taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946. For a taxable year beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, the normal tax, surtax, and optional tax imposed by sections 11, 12, and 400 upon taxpayers other than corporations, and the normal tax and surtax imposed by sections 13, 14, and 15 upon corporations shall be computed as follows:

(a) That portion of a tentative tax computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1945, which the number of days prior to January 1, 1946, in the taxable year of the taxpayer bears to the total number of days in such taxable year, and

(b) That portion of a tentative tax computed under the law applicable to taxable years beginning on January 1, 1946, which the number of days after December 31, 1945, in the taxable year of the taxpayer bears to the total number of days in such taxable year.

The provisions of section 108 apply to estates, trusts, and nonresident alien individuals whose tax is computed under sections 11 and 12. The method of computation prescribed in section 108 is not applicable, however, to an insurance company subject to Supplement G, an investment company subject to Supplement Q, or a Western Hemisphere Trade Corporation as defined in section 109.

The provisions of section 108 apply to a taxable year beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, whether or not such taxable year is one of less than 12 months. In the case of a taxpayer, whether a corporation or a taxpayer other than a corporation, which is subject to the provisions of section 108 (c) and which because of a change in accounting period has a taxable year of less than 12 months, the net income shall be placed on an annual basis under the provisions of section 47 (c) (1) for the purpose of both tentative tax computations under section 108 (c), or shall be computed under the exception in section 47 (c) (2) for the purpose of both such tentative tax computations. Regardless of the method adopted, the amounts of the tentative normal tax and surtax so computed upon the basis of 12 months' income shall be properly reduced under section 47 (c) in order to determine the tentative taxes under section 108 (c). However, in the case of a taxpayer, whether a corporation or a taxpayer other than a corporation, which is subject to the provisions of section 108 (c) and which because of any reason other than a change in accounting period has a taxable year of less than 12 months, the net income shall not be placed on an annual basis under section 47 (c) (1) and shall not be computed under the exception in section 47 (c) (2).

In any case in which the taxpayer, whether a corporation or a taxpayer other than a corporation, which is subject to the provisions of section 108 (c) has an excess of net long-term capital gains over net short-term capital losses, the alternative tax under section 117 (c) shall be an amount equal to the sum of the proper portions of the tentative taxes determined under section 108 (c), by computing each such tentative tax pursuant to the alternative tax computation provided in section 117 (c), regardless of whether either tentative tax so computed on the alternative basis is larger or smaller than the tentative tax computed without regard to section 117 (c).

Except as hereinafter provided, in the case of a corporation whose taxable year begins in 1945 and ends in 1946, the credit under section 26 (c) for income subject to the tax imposed by subchapter E of chapter 2 (the excess profits tax), for the purposes of the tentative tax computation provided in section 108 (c) (1), shall be the adjusted excess profits net income used in computing the tentative excess profits tax provided in section 710 (a) (7), and for the purposes of the tentative tax computation provided in section 108 (c) (2), no credit for income subject to the tax imposed by such subchapter E is allowable.

In the case of a taxable year of a corporation of less than 12 months, the credit under section 26 (e) for income subject to excess profits tax, for the purpose of the tentative tax under section 108 (c) (1), shall be an amount computed as provided in § 29.47–1 or § 29.47–2 (a) or (b), depending upon whether or not such taxable year is a year of less than 12 months because of a change in accounting period and upon whether the net income has been placed on an annual basis under section 47 (c) (1) or has been computed as the net income for a 12-month period under the exception contained in section 47 (c) (2).

In the case of a corporation computing its excess profits tax under section 721 (relating to abnormalities in income in the taxable period), section 726 (relating to corporations completing contracts under the Merchant Marine Act of 1936), section 731 (relating to corporations engaged in mining strategic minerals), or section 736 (b) (relating to corporations with income from long-term contracts), such credit for income subject to excess profits tax shall be, in the case of the tentative tax computed under section 108 (c) (1), the amount of which the tentative excess profits tax computed under the provisions of section 710 (a) (7) without regard to the 80 percent limitation provided in section 710 (a) (1) (B) is 95 percent.

With respect to the credit for income subject to excess profits tax imposed by Chapter 2E for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, in case the corporation is entitled to use the excess profits credit based upon a constructive average base period net income, see § 29.26–4.

In the case of a taxpayer, whether a corporation or a taxpayer other than a corporation, subject to the provisions of section 108 (c), any credit against the tax otherwise imposed by sections 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, and 400, such as the credit for taxes paid to a foreign country or possession of the United States under section 131, shall be deducted from, and any limitation in such credit shall be based upon, the tax computed under section 108 (c). However, in those instances in which an individual taxpayer computes a tentative tax under section 108 (c) by taking into account the optional standard deduction under section 23 (aa), the following credits shall not be allowed: all credits under section 131 with respect to taxes of foreign countries and possessions, and all credits with respect to taxes withheld at the source under section 143 (a), relating to interest on tax-free covenant bonds.

Example. Corporation A is a domestic manufacturing corporation which makes its income tax returns on the basis of a fiscal year ending March 31. For the fiscal year ended March 31, 1946, it had a gross income of $1,000,000, which did not include any dividends or interest. Its allowable deductions are $400,000, its excess profits credit is $200,000, and there are no adjustments to be made under section 711 in computing excess profits net income. Its adjusted excess profits net income for the purposes of the tentative excess profits tax computed under section 710 (a) (7) is $390,000. The normal tax and surtax of Corporation A for its fiscal year ended March 31, 1946, are $73,479.45 and $46,027.40, respectively, computed as follows:

(2) In the case of an estate or trust, that the net income does not exceed the credit allowed in section 163 (a) (1).

(C) By striking out the next to the last paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

A nonresident alien individual not engaged in trade or business within the United States at any time within the taxable year is subject to the tax imposed by section 211 (a) on gross income and is not entitled to any personal exemption or credit for dependents for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944, to the normal-tax exemption or the surtax exemptions for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943, and before January 1, 1946, or to the exemptions under section 25 (b) for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. The benefit of such exemptions or credit for dependents may not be received by filing a claim therefor with the withholding agent. However, in the determination of the tax to be withheld at the source under section 143 (b) with respect to remuneration paid on or after July 1, 1943, for labor or personal services performed within the United States by a nonresident alien, the benefit of the personal exemption for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1944, or the normal-tax and surtax exemptions or exemption for both normal tax and surtax for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943, shall be allowed, prorated upon the basis of $1.40 per day for the period of employment during any portion of which labor or personal services are performed within the United States by such alien. Thus if A, a nonresident alien seaman employed by the X Shipping Corporation, is paid upon the termination of the voyage and such voyage covers 100 days, and A performed personal services within the United States during, or incident to, such voyage, the amount of $140 will be allocated as the portion of the personal exemption, normal-tax and surtax exemptions, or exemption for normal tax and surtax to be allowed as a credit against the remuneration of A for personal services performed within the United States during such voyage, and withholding shall be applied against the balance, if any, of such remuneration. If, for example, the total remuneration paid to A for such voyage is $800, of which the amount of $120 is allocable to sources within the United States, there is no withholding. As to what constitutes remuneration for labor or personal services performed within the United States, see section 119 (a) (3) and § 29.119–4. PAR. 44. Section 29.362–2 is amended by inserting after "16 percent of the amount thereof" in the first sentence the following: "for taxable years beginning before January 1, 1946, and at the rate of 14 percent of the amount thereof for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945".

PAR. 45. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.400–1 the following:

SEC. 103. INDIVIDUALS WITH ADJUSTED GROSS INCOMES OF LESS THAN $5,000. (Revenue Act of 1945.)

(a) In general. The tax table (including the note at the foot of such table) in section 400 (relating to optional tax on individuals with adjusted gross incomes of less than $5,000) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendment made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. For treatment of taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, see section 131.

PAR. 46. Section 29.400–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5425, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first sentence of the paragraph in (b) which begins with the words "For the purposes" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

For the purposes of determining whether a taxpayer may elect to pay the tax under Supplement T for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943, the amount of the adjusted gross income is controlling, without reference to the number of exemptions or surtax exemptions, as the case may be, to which the taxpayer may be entitled.

(B) By striking out the paragraph in (b) which begins with the words "To determine" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

To determine the amount of the tax for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1943, the individual ascertains the amount of his adjusted gross income, refers to the schedule set forth in section 400 which is applicable to the taxable year, ascertains the income bracket into which such income falls, and, using the number of exemptions (or surtax exemptions) applicable to his case, finds the tax in the vertical column having at the top thereof a number corresponding to the number of exemptions (or surtax exemptions) to which the taxpayer is entitled. Thus, if for 1946 A has adjusted gross income of $4,415 and has three exemptions, including his own exemption, his tax is $481.

(C) By striking out the paragraph in (b) which begins with the words "In any case" and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

If, for a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1943, and before January 1, 1946, the taxpayer and his spouse elect to pay the tax imposed by Supplement T on the basis of a joint return and the return includes income of both husband and wife, the tax determined under the table shall be reduced by 3 percent of the smaller adjusted gross income but in an amount not in excess of $15.

PAR. 47. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.401–1 the following:

SEC. 102. ALLOWANCE OF SAME EXEMPTIONS FOR NORMAL TAX AS FOR SURTAX. (Revenue Act of 1945.)

(b) Technical amendments.

(10) Section 401 (defining "surtax exemption" for the purposes of Supplement T) is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 401. DEFINITION OF "EXEMPTION." As used in the table in section 400, the term "number of exemptions" means the number of the exemptions allowed under section 25 (b) as credits against net income for the purpose of the normal tax and the surtax imposed by sections 11 and 12.

(c) Taxable years to which applicable. The amendments and repeals made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945. For treatment of taxable years beginning in 1945 and ending in 1946, see section 131.

PAR. 48. Section 29.401–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5425, is further amended by inserting at the end of the first paragraph of (b) the following:

The term "number of exemptions", which, for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1945, is used instead of the term "number of surtax exemptions", means the number of exemptions allowed under section 25 (b) for such years as credits against net income for the purpose of the normal tax and the surtax imposed by sections 11 and 12. See § 29.25–3.

(Sec. 62 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 32; 26 U. S. C. 62) and sections 101, 102, 103, 121 (a), (c), and (d), 122 (g) and (h), 131 (a), and 152 of the Revenue Act of 1945 (Pub. Law 214, 79th Congress))

Chapter XI—National Railway Labor Panel

[Gen. Wage Approval 3]

PART 1301—GENERAL WAGE APPROVALS

RAILWAY CARRIERS

§ 1301.3 General Wage Approval No. 3. The President of the United States having found, on May 22, 1946, that wage or salary increases of 2½ cents per hour made in settlement of existing disputes between certain employees subject to the Railway Labor Act, represented by twenty separate labor organizations, and certain carriers subject to the Railway Labor Act, represented by three Conference Committees, would be consistent with the standards then in effect, under the stabilization laws, for the purpose of controlling inflationary tendencies; and the various carriers concerned in these disputes, representing the larger part of the railway industry, having agreed to put such wage or salary increases into effect; and other carriers subject to the Railway Labor Act, but not concerned in these disputes, having in the past followed the practice of increasing wages or salaries in accordance with increases made by the majority of the railway industry; therefore, it is hereby found that the provisions of this section are consistent with, and will aid in the effectuation of the stabilization laws.

Therefore, pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order 9299 of February 4, 1943, Executive Order 9581 of June 30, 1945, section 3 (a) of Executive Order 9697 of February 14, 1946, and section 308 (c) of the Supplementary Wage and Salary Regulations issued by the Economic Stabilization Director on March 8, 1946; It is hereby ordered:

(a) Any wage or salary increase not in excess of 2½ cents per hour made on or after May 22, 1946, by any carrier (as "carrier" is defined in Section 1, First, of Title I of the Railway Labor Act, as amended), with respect to any of such carriers' employees who are subject to the jurisdiction of the Chairman, will be deemed approved.

(b) This section is not applicable to any carrier subject to the Railway Labor Act whose wage-setting practices follow the movements of any industry other than the railroad industry. In the case of organized employees with duly recognized bargaining representatives, the approval conveyed herein is applicable only in the event that the terms of the increase meet with the concurrence of such recognized representatives of the employees.

(c) This authorization is permissive in nature and shall not be construed as directing or ordering payment of such increases as are herein approved.

H. H. SCHWARTZ,
Chairman.

Approved:

CHESTER BOWLES,
Economic Stabilization Director.

DAYLITE MARKETS, INC.

Daylite Markets, Inc., a corporation with offices located at 6423 Colgate Avenue, Los Angeles, California, is engaged in the operation of a chain of food markets. On April 4, 1946, without authorization from the Civilian Production Administration, the corporation began and thereafter continued the construction of a market building and five stores at 8331–8343 East 18th Street, Los Angeles, California, at an estimated cost of $52,000, which amount exceeded the limit of $1,000 permitted by Veterans Housing

[1] Filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Program Order–1. The responsible officers of the corporation were familiar with the restrictions on construction and their actions constituted a wilful violation of Veterans Housing Program Order–1. This violation has diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the Civilian Production Administration. In view of the foregoing facts, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.937 Suspension Order No. S–937. (a) Neither the Daylite Markets, Inc., its successors and assigns, nor any other person shall do any further construction on the market building and five stores located at 8331–8343 West Third Street, Los Angeles, including putting up, completing or altering the structures, unless hereafter authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Daylite Markets, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the Civilian Production Administration, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

Issued this 12th day of June 1946.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

HIDES, SKINS AND LEATHER

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created shortages in hides, skins and leather for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

(a) General definitions.
(b) Provisions applying to all hides, skins, and leather.
(c) Untanned cattlehides, calfskins, and kips.
(d) Pickled sheepskins and slats.
(e) Regular reports.
(f) Plants without quotas.
(g) Appeals.
(h) Communications to the Civilian Production Administration.
(i) Violations.

§ 3290.196 Conservation Order M–310—(a) General definitions. (1) "Tanner" means a person in the business of tanning, dressing, or similarly processing hides or skins, who in any calendar month after April 1, 1940, processed or processes more than 500 hides or skins.

(2) "Contractor" means a person in the business of causing hides or skins to be tanned or dressed for his account in any tannery not owned or controlled by him.

(3) "Collector" means a person, including a dealer or importer, engaged in the business of acquiring from others untanned hides or skins for resale, or removing hides or skins from animals not slaughtered by him.

(4) "Producer" means a person in the business of slaughtering animals.

(5) "Military order" means an order for hides, skins or leather for delivery against a specific contract placed by any of the following, or for incorporation in any product to be delivered against such a contract:

The Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration.

(6) "Military specifications" or "military quality" means, except as herein otherwise specifically provided, the specifications applicable to military orders or the quality of material meeting such specifications.

(7) "Sole leather" means vegetable tanned sole leather unless otherwise specified.

(8) "Whole stock" means sides, crops, backs, bends, shoulders with heads on, shoulders with heads off, bellies and belly centers.

(b) Provisions applying to all hides, skins and leather. (1) No person shall process any hides, skins or leather contrary to any specific direction issued from time to time by the Civilian Production Administration relating to the processing or production of specific types of leather to meet military or designated civilian requirements.

(2) No producer, collector, tanner, contractor or cutter shall sell, deliver, accept delivery of, cut, use or incorporate in any product any hides skins or leather contrary to any specific direction issued from time to time by the Civilian Production Administration deemed necessary in order to fill military or designated civilian requirements.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of any regulation or order of the Civilian Production Administration, no preference rating shall be applied or extended for the delivery of hides, skins or leather, except:

(i) Leather for military orders (excluding sole leather whole stock and cattlehide splits in the blue, pickled, or lime state); or

(ii) When specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration pursuant to this paragraph (b) (3) (ii).

(4) [Deleted May 13, 1946.]

(c) Untanned cattlehides, calfskins and kips—(1) Definition. "Cattlehide", "calfskin" and "kip" mean the hide or skin of a bull, steer, cow or buffalo, foreign or domestic (excluding slunks).

(2) No producer or collector shall put into process or cause to be put into process any untanned cattlehide, calfskin or kip, or portion thereof, other than splits and gluestock, except to the extent specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. Applications for such authorization may be made by letter setting forth the quantity of each kind of cattlehide; calfskin or kip, or portion thereof, which the applicant desires to put into process or cause to be put into process.

(3) No tanner or contractor shall purchase or accept delivery of any untanned cattlehide, calfskin or kip or portions of any of them for any purpose except in quantities specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. A tanner, however, may accept delivery of and tan hides for the account of a contractor who he knows has been specifically authorized in writing to purchase hides. No person shall make any sale or delivery which he knows or has reason to believe would be accepted in violation of this paragraph. Applications may be made on Form CPA–1325 for the purchase of domestic cattlehides, and on Form CPA–1322 for the purchase of domestic calfskins and kips. Authorization to purchase is granted on Form CPA–1323 except from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation which is granted on Form CPA–3507. Form CPA–1323 must be returned to CPA with information showing the applicant's use of the authorization in accordance with the terms of the form. The following transactions may be made without authorization:

(i) Transactions between collectors and between producers and collectors for purposes of resale or delivery within the continental United States;

(ii) The purchase and acceptance of delivery of less than 500 hides or skins in any calendar month by any person (other than a tanner) not specifically authorized to purchase or accept delivery of hides or skins.

(4) In acting under paragraph (c) (3), it will be the policy of the Civilian Production Administration, so far as is practicable, to grant authorizations so that contractors or tanners will obtain cattlehides, calfskins or kips in the proportions that their respective wettings of such skins computed separately during the calendar year 1942, bore to all wettings thereof during that year by all contractors and tanners producing the same type of leather, except that authorizations to tanners or contractors having more than a practicable minimum working inventory may be withheld or may be granted in reduced quantities.

(d) Pickled sheepskins and slats—(1) Effect of paragraph and definitions. The provisions of this paragraph (d) restrict deliveries of pickled sheepskins and slats as defined below. Imported skins may not be withdrawn from Customs without specific authorization from the Civilian Production Administration. In addition the Civilian Production Administration authorizes deliveries of both domestic and imported skins to tanners and contractors. For the purposes of this order pickled sheepskins and slats are defined as follows:

(i) "Pickled sheepskin" means a dewooled, untanned, unsplit skin which has been removed from a sheep or lamb, and has been either pickled or otherwise prepared for tanning. It does not include a hair sheepskin even after it has been dehaired or de-wooled, which has been imported from countries other than the following: Argentina, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, New Zealand, Australia, Iceland and Canada. A "hair sheepskin" is a skin from a sheep or lamb which is imported into the continental United States with the hair or wool on it of more than ¼" in length under Customs classification as free, or conditionally free under carpet wool bond, or subject to carpet wool duty.

(ii) "Slat" means a sheepskin imported into the continental United States in the dried, untanned condition which has no wool or hair on it or has wool or hair less than ¼" in length of no commercial value.

(2) Restrictions on withdrawal from Customs. No person shall withdraw any sheepskins, flesh splits of such skins, or slats from United States Customs within the continental United States except as specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. Before arrival of the sheepskins, flesh splits, or slats in the United States the importer shall notify the Civilian Production Administration, Hide and Leather Branch, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M–310, by letter specifying the quantity, type, country of origin, probable date of arrival, name of ship, if available, and the names of tanners or contractors, if any, to whom he prefers to sell pickled sheepskins or slats which he has no quota to receive as a tanner or contractor. The importer, or the tanner or contractor to whom he sells the skins, may be granted authorization by the Civilian Production Administration (on Form CPA–4403) to withdraw them from Customs, under the criteria in paragraphs (d) (5) or (f).

The provisions of this paragraph do not relieve the importer from complying with applicable provisions of General Imports Order M–63.

(3) Restrictions on purchase and acceptance of delivery by a tanner or contractor. (i) No tanner or contractor shall purchase or accept delivery of pickled sheepskins or slats for any purpose except in quantities specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. A tanner, however, may accept delivery of pickled sheepskins or slats for the account of a contractor who he knows has been specifically authorized in writing to have such skins tanned for his account either under this paragraph (d) (3) or under paragraph (d) (2). No person shall make any sale or delivery which he knows or has reason to believe would be accepted in violation of this paragraph. In the case of a tanner or contractor who performs the de-wooling operation or has it done for his account, the movement of pickled sheepskins after de-wooling to be tanned for him or for his account shall constitute an acceptance of delivery by him subject to this paragraph.

Application for authorization to purchase, accept delivery or have pickled sheepskins or slats tanned for the applicant's account must be made on Form CPA–4404.

(ii) However, this paragraph (d) (3) does not apply to any pickled sheepskins or slats before they are imported into the continental United States. Also, a tanner or contractor who has been designated in an authorization under paragraph (d) (2) to receive imported pickled sheepskins or slats, may receive them without restriction under this paragraph (d) (3) and without counting them against the total quantities specifically authorized under this paragraph (d) (3).

(4) No person shall split or frize the grain of any pickled sheepskins except as follows: a contractor or tanner may split or frize the grain of any skins (or have them split or frized for his account) which were in his possession before February 16, 1946, or which he has obtained under an authorization from CPA under paragraphs (d) (2) or (d) (3) above.

(5) Policy. In acting under paragraphs (d) (2) and (3), it will be the policy of the Civilian Production Administration, so far as is practicable, to grant authorizations so that:

(i) Each tanner and contractor will obtain pickled sheepskins and slats in the proportion that wettings for his own account of such skins during any calendar year 1941 to 1945, inclusive, bears to the total computed by adding together the wettings of such skins for his own account by each tanner and contractor during the calendar year from 1941 to 1945 which he selects.

(ii) Each tanner and contractor will obtain heavy foreign pickled sheepskins (averaging 45 pounds per dozen or heavier) in the proportion that his wettings of such skins during calendar year 1941 bore to the total thereof by all tanners and contractors during the same period.

Authorizations to tanners or contractors having more than a practicable minimum working inventory may be withheld or may be granted in reduced quantities.

(6) Base period report. Each tanner or contractor seeking to qualify under paragraph (d) (5) for authorizations under paragraphs (d) (2) or (3) shall file as soon as possible a one-time base period report on Form CPA–4405.

(e) Regular reports. Every person described below shall, on or before the 10th day of each month execute and file reports with the Civilian Production Administration, as directed on the respective forms mentioned below:

Tanners and contractors of cattle hides	CPA–1325
Tanners and contractors of calfskins and kips	CPA–1322
Tanners and contractors of pickled sheepskins and slats	CPA–4404

Failure to file any of the reports mentioned above or any other reports requested pursuant to approval by the Bureau of the Budget shall constitute a violation of this order.

(f) Plants without quotas. Any person who owns a plant equipped to process hides or skins but whose past operations do not qualify him under paragraphs (c) (4) or (d) (5), may apply for authorization under paragraphs (c) or (d) by letter. The letter should be addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Hide and Leather Branch, Washington 25, D. C., and should indicate the name and address of the plant, type and quantity of leather raw material which the applicant wishes to process per month, and the quantity of each type which he has processed during the preceding four calendar months. Authorizations may be granted on an equitable basis to applicants who did not process a monthly average of more than 500 hides and skins of all kinds during the preceding four calendar months.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Communications to the Civilian Production Administration. All reports, applications, forms, or communications required under or referred to in this order, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Textile Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–310.

(i) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or who furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 13th day of June 1946.

(6) Rotenone solvate. $9.65 per pound, f. o. b. processor's plant.

(7) Other unfinished rotenone products. The maximum price shall be determined by the seller after specific authorization from the Office of Price Administration. A seller who seeks an authorization to determine a paragraph shall file with the Agricultural Chemicals Section of the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., an application setting forth:

(i) A description of the commodity for which a maximum price is sought,

(ii) A list of materials used in the manufacture of the commodity,

(iii) An outline of the manufacturing process,

(iv) The seller's cost of raw materials, packages, manufacturing and other expenses,

(v) Changes in the selling price since January 1, 1941, and

For example, the maximum prices for dusts containing .5% and .75% pure rotenone shall be 10 cents and 13 cents per pound, respectively. In the event the insecticide contains active insecticidal ingredients in addition to rotenone, the above prices may be increased by the amount of the delivered cost to the manufacturer for each such additional active ingredients guaranteed in the finished insecticide. If the manufacturer of the finished rotenone insecticide is also the manufacturer of the additional active ingredient he may use his maximum price for a sale to another insecticide manufacturer as his own delivered cost of such additional active ingredient.

(2) Finished rotenone insecticides for which no maximum price had been established prior to June 1, 1944. (i) The price for the most closely similar insecticide for which a maximum price is established in subparagraph (1) above plus or minus, as the case may be, the difference between the total cost of all raw materials and packages used in the manufacture of the similar insecticide and the total cost of all raw materials and packages used in the manufacture of the insecticide being priced.

(ii) If a manufacture cannot otherwise determine his maximum price, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for authorization to establish a maximum price in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) (7) of this appendix

COAL TAR

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Appendix A to Maximum Price Regulation 447 is amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (e) is redesignated (f) and the first sentence is amended as follows: "The maximum prices established by paragraphs (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e) apply to good clean coal tar in which the water content has been reduced to a maximum of 2% by volume."

2. A new paragraph (e) is added to read as follows:

(e) Where a plant is equipped to burn fuel oil or coal tar as a fuel, the maximum prices for the sale of coal tar established in (a), (b), (c), and (d) may be increased if it appears the producer may divert the coal tar from distiller-buyers for utilization as fuel. The price increase may be granted upon application by the producer to the Rubber, Chemicals & Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The application submitted shall contain the following items of information:

(2) The grade and delivered price per gallon of fuel oil for which coal tar has been substituted as a fuel.

(i) Multiply the percentage relation of the British Thermal Unit value of coal tar per gallon to fuel oil per gallon by the delivered price of fuel oil per gallon.

(ii) Additional handling charges incurred per gallon of fuel oil and coal tar may be added.

(4) A statement of the British Thermal Unit value per gallon of fuel oil purchased and coal tar to be sold and the amount of handling charges per gallon, if any.

Any decrease in the delivered price of fuel oil below that contained in the application shall be reported within 5 days after such decrease to the Rubber, Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

The price increase may be granted by order if, in the judgment of the Administrator, it will result in the removal of an impediment to the distribution of coal tar for distilling purposes. Unless and until such an order is received signed by the Administrator, the existing maximum prices will continue to be the maximum prices. The maximum prices established by the order may be revoked or modified by the Administrator at any time.

This amendment shall become effective June 18, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 13th day of June 1946.

Margin as used in that formula shall mean the percentage mark-up over current raw food cost that is currently being realized in your establishment.

You must maintain the prices established under this subparagraph for a period of 60 days, at which time, if the costs for items so priced have changed, you may file new ceiling prices, in accordance with the instructions contained in this subparagraph.

You may take advantage of this subparagraph only if you continue to offer and make freely available meals, food items and beverages at and below the middle prices of the class in which the new item falls, in accordance with section 1 (g) (2), except when a particular class consists entirely of items which are not controlled by maximum price regulation at other levels.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON HANDLING OF MILK

Proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City Marketing Area.

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), and in accordance with the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended (7 CFR, Cum. Supp. 900.1 et seq., 10 F.R. 11791), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in District Court Room 409, Federal Building, Kansas City, Missouri, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., June 18, 1946, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Greater Kansas City Marketing Area (7 CFR, Cum. Supp. 913.2 et seq.; 7 CFR 1943 Supp. 913.16; 8 F.R. 2521, 3688, 8294; 11 F.R. 5468). These amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

This public hearing is for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to economic or marketing conditions which relate to the amendments, or any modification thereof, which are hereinafter set forth.

The Pure Milk Producers Association of Greater Kansas City, Inc., has proposed the following amendments:

1. Delete § 913.3 (a) (3) and substitute therefor the following:

(3) "Producer" means any person who, with respect to the regulations applicable to milk to be used for consumption as milk or cream in the marketing area, (i) under supervision of the Health Department of Kansas City, Missouri, Independence, Missouri, Excelsior Springs, Missouri, Kansas City, Kansas, or Leavenworth, Kansas, or (ii) under a permit issued by the Missouri State Board of Health or under a permit issued by the State of Kansas authority charged with the inspection for fluid milk in other parts of the marketing area, produces milk which is purchased or received at an approved plant: Provided, That any delivery of milk or cream during the period by such person is made only to an approved plant. The phrase "purchased or received at an approved plant" shall also apply to the milk of a producer which a cooperative association causes to be diverted from the farm of such producer to the plant of a non-handler for the account of such cooperative association.

2. Delete § 913.3 (a) (4) and substitute therefor the following:

(4) "Handler" means (i) any person who operates an approved plant from which Class I milk or Class II milk is disposed of in the marketing area, or (ii) any cooperative association with respect to milk of any producer which such cooperative association causes to be temporarily diverted from the farm of such producer to the plant of a handler or to the plant of a non-handler for the account of such cooperative association.

3. Delete § 913.3 (a) (7) and substitute therefor the following:

(7) "Other source milk" means milk or milk products received from sources other than producers or handlers who receive milk from producers.

4. Add as § 913.3 (a) (11) the following:

(11) "Producer milk" means all milk produced by a producer as defined in (3) of this paragraph and purchased or received by a handler, either directly from such producer or from another handler.

5. Add as § 913.3 (a) (12) the following:

(12) "Approved plant" means any milk plant approved by the applicable health authority for the handling of milk disposed of for fluid consumption as milk in the marketing area and currently used for any or all of the handling functions of receiving, weighing (or measuring), sampling, cooling, pasteurizing, bottling, or other preparation of milk delivered by producers, as defined in (3) of this paragraph, for fluid sales or disposition as milk or cream for fluid consumption in the marketing area.

6. Delete § 913.5 (a) (5) and substitute therefor the following:

(5) The receipts of other source milk and the butterfat content.

7. Delete § 913.6 (a) and substitute therefor the following:

(a) Milk to be classified. All milk and milk products purchased or received by each handler at his approved plant shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section.

8. Delete in § 913.6 (b) the phrase "paragraph (a) of this section," and substitute therefor the following: "paragraph (c) of this section,".

9. Reletter § 913.6 (c) as (d).

10. Add as § 913.6 (c) the following:

(c) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) Milk or skim milk sold or disposed of in fluid form by a handler to a plant of a non-handler who distributes fluid milk shall be Class I: Provided, That if the non-handlers' other receipts of milk were from qualified dairy farmers and if the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of such non-handler, such milk shall be classified as follows: (i) determine the use of all milk and milk products received at the plant of such non-handler and (ii) allocate the milk disposed of by the handler to such non-handler to the highest use remaining after subtracting, in series beginning with the highest use classification, the receipts of milk by such non-handler from qualified dairy farmers. This provision shall not apply if during any period the receipts of producer milk on the Greater Kansas City market are less than Class I and Class II sales.

(2) Cream sold or disposed of as fluid cream by a handler to a plant of a non-handler who distributes fluid cream shall be Class II: Provided, That if the non-handlers' other receipts of milk were from qualified dairy farmers and if the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of such non-handlers, such cream shall be classified as follows: (i) determine the use of all milk and milk products received at the plant of such non-handler, and (ii) allocate the cream disposed of by the handler to such non-handler to the highest use remaining after subtracting in series beginning with the highest use classification, the receipts of milk by such non-handler from qualified dairy farmers. (5) Cream sold or disposed of as fluid cream by a handler who purchases or receives milk from producers to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers shall be Class II: Provided, That if the amount of such cream so sold or disposed of is in excess of the amount classified as Class II in such purchasing handler's plant, such excess cream shall be classified in the next highest class in which such purchasing handler has use: Provided, That if either or both handlers have purchased other source milk, such cream so sold or disposed of shall be classified so as to return to the producers at both plants the highest class utilization of producer milk: And provided further, That if such cream was sold or disposed of from a handler's plant located outside the marketing area to another handler who purchases or receives milk from producers, such milk shall be allocated to the lowest class usage of such purchasing handler.

NEW YORK METROPOLITAN MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS AND MARKETING AGREEMENTS

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions on proposed amendments to the Order (No. 27), as amended, and to a proposed marketing agreement, regulating the handling of milk in the New York Metropolitan Milk Marketing Area.

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq., 10 F.R. 11791), notice is hereby given of the filing of this report with respect to proposed amendments to the order, as amended, and to a marketing agreement, regulating the handling of milk in the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, to be made effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.). Interested parties may file exceptions to the report with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1331, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 7th day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Pursuant to notice of hearing issued on January 9, 1946 (11 F. R. 534), the hearing was convened in Brooklyn, New York, on January 17, 1946, in Watertown, New York, on January 21, 1946, and at Syracuse, New York, on January 22, 1946. Thereafter, by notice issued April 18, 1946 (11 F.R. 4417), a hearing was held at Utica, New York, beginning on May 14, 1946, for further consideration of proposals considered at the prior hearing and for consideration of additional proposals.

The issues developed at the hearing, and relative to which proposed amendments were considered, relate principally to the following:

1. Revision of the minimum prices for the various classes of milk;

2. Revision of butterfat differentials on Class III and Class IV–B milk;

3. Elimination or modification of provisions relating to payments for milk or milk products from other than producer sources;

4. Revision of the definition of Class III milk to include "syruped malted milk";

5. The addition of a new provision imposing an additional charge in connection with past due payments to or from the producer settlement fund;

6. Revision of provisions relating to the suspension and cancellation of pool plant designations, particularly as to requirements or obligations of handlers in supplying milk and cream for the marketing area;

7. The addition of a new provision for allocation of available milk supplies among handlers;

8. Expansion of the area in which location differentials are applicable, and provision for the payment by handlers of all such differentials;

9. The basis of classification as to the period allowed for handling cold storage cream, the movement of frozen desserts or homogenized mixtures in New York City, and the prior assignment in the prescribed accounting procedure, of producers' milk to Class II–B products;

10. The establishment of limitations on the time within which handlers may make claims on the producer settlement fund and within which the market administrator may audit, reaudit or charge handlers;

11. Storage cream payments, particularly as to claims for such payments, reports on the storage of cream, and eligibility for payments;

12. The addition of provisions authorizing the market administrator to recommend to the Secretary amendments to the order, and requiring the market administrator to publicly disclose the name of any person failing to make payments for administrative expense; and

13. Revision and reorganization, primarily for clarification and without significant change in meaning, of provisions (a) requiring announcement of prices by the market administrator, (b) relating to transportation differentials, and (c) relating to the accounting for and classification of skim milk.

Conclusions. With respect to the foregoing issues it is concluded:

1. The Class I–A price provision should be amended by, (a) extending the table contained therein to provide prices beyond the top limits now provided, (b) increasing the price 5 cents per hundredweight during the months of July through March and reducing the price 15 cents per hundredweight during the months of April through June, and (c) providing for a fixed minimum price of not less than $4.15 during the months of July through December 1946.

2. Evidence in the record indicates that the Class I–B price should be increased, and in view of administrative complications involved in making the Class I–C price a floor under the Class I–B price as specifically proposed in the notice of hearing, it is concluded that the Class I–B price should be the same as the Class I–A price.

3. The Class II–A price provision should be amended by (a) extending the table contained therein to provide prices beyond the top limits now provided and (b) naming a fixed minimum price of not less than $3.00 per hundredweight during the month of July 1946.

4. The Class II–B price, in order to be more nearly competitive with alternative sources of butterfat, should be the Class II–E price plus 25 cents during the months of August through February and plus 20 cents during the months of March through July, but not less than the Class II–D price.

5. The Class II–D and Class II–E prices, including the floor now provided, should not be changed, except for rewording to retain the present floor during all months. Deletion of the factor of 10 cents in the floor provisions is not justified without further evidence as to conditions resulting from such a change.

6. In order to maintain a relatively favorable outlet for milk during seasons of the year when adequate outlets returning a higher price to producers may not be available, the Class III price should be reduced 10 cents per hundredweight during the months of March through June and 2 cents during the months of January, February, July, August, and September, but by reason of no apparent necessity for utilizing milk during the months of October, November, and December so as to result in a return to producers lower than somewhat above the present Class III price, the price during such months should be increased 5 cents per hundredweight. Revision of the Class III butterfat differential as herein provided is equivalent to a further reduction in the price of Class III milk of approximately 4 cents per hundredweight on milk of average butterfat content.

7. The Class IV–A and IV–B prices, in order not to be lower than necessary to result in the utilization in these classes of milk for which a higher value use is not available, should remain at their present level except that during the months of relatively short supply (October through February) the Class IV–A price should not be less than the Class II–E price, and the Class IV–B price should not be less than the Class III price. Evidence in the record at this time does not justify adoption of the posting and auction plan" proposed relative to Class IV–A and Class IV–B milk.

8. The value of skim milk at the Class V–B price should be deducted from the Class III price before dividing by 35 in determining the Class III butterfat differential in order to more equitably adjust the cost to handlers of milk containing more or less than 3.5 percent butterfat.

9. The factor of "9.45" contained in the formula for determining the Class IV–B butterfat differential should be changed to "9.0" in order to correspond with an earlier change in the Class IV–B price formula.

10. The payments for cream and plain condensed milk from non-pool sources, upon a declaration by the market administrator of a temporary emergency should be reduced for such temporary period to an amount equal to the difference between the Class II–A or Class II–B price and the Class II–E price.

11. The term "other concentrated milk products" should be substituted, in the definition of Class III milk, for the terms "malted milk powder" and "ice cream powder" in order to facilitate the classification of new products.

12. Additional evidence is required before adding a new provision for adjustment of payments past due to or from the producers settlement fund.

13. In order to clarify the order as to the conditions under which pool plant designations may be suspended by the market administrator, and to more effectively and equitably provide for meeting the fluid milk and cream requirements of the market during the months of short supply, the provisions relative to the suspension and cancellation of pool plant designations should be amended to more specifically set forth the conditions under which the market administrator may suspend pool plant designations; to extend the period of August through December to the period of July through February during which pool plant designations may be suspended for failure to meet requirements; to establish varying monthly percentages of milk in certain classes, rather than the present figure of 75 percent, which, if met, will protect the handler from cancellation; and to restrict the classes of milk credited in meeting the percentage requirements during the months of November and December to Class I–A and Class I–C.

14. A new provision for the allocation of available milk supplies among handlers should not be included in the order.

15. Evidence in the record is not sufficient to justify a change at this time in the present provisions of the order relative to location differentials.

16. The order should be amended to permit classification in classes other than II–B of milk used in frozen desserts or homogenized mixtures which are moved from the plant where made to a second plant in New York City and then outside.

17. An amendment should be made setting forth the portion of the handling of cold storage cream required to be performed during the period of time allowed for establishing classification.

18. The provision setting forth the principles governing accounting procedure should be expanded to require assignment pool milk, cream, and plain condensed milk to Class II–B (in addition to Class I–A, II–A, and IV–A) prior to assignment of non-pool milk, cream, or plain condensed milk to Class II–B.

19. Further evidence should be obtained and consideration given the establishment of limitations on the time within which claims may be made by handlers on the producer settlement fund and within which the market administrator may charge handlers before such a provision is included in the order.

20. The order should be amended establishing a limitation on the time within which claims may be filed for storage cream payments; specifically requiring storage cream reports; and making handlers eligible for storage cream payments on butterfat used in Classes II–D, II–E, or II–F during the months of July to March (rather than October to March).

21. The order should be amended authorizing the market administrator to recommend to the Secretary amendments to the order, and requiring the market administrator to publicly disclose the name of any person failing to make the required payments for administrative expense.

22. That provision of the order requiring announcement of prices should be amended to require announcement of all product price quotations used in determining class prices; to include the term "nonfat dry milk solids"; to substitute the term "U. S. Grade A or U. S. 92-score butter" for the term "92-score butter"; to more specifically define the period within which price quotations for butter and nonfat dry milk solids are to be used in determining Class I–A and Class II–A prices; and to otherwise clarify the provision.

23. Provisions relating to transportation differentials should be amended to eliminate the 5-mile differential as between highway and mileage distances; to specifically designate the latest mileage guide issued by the Household Goods Carriers' Bureau for use in computing highway mileage distances; to designate Columbus Circle as the point in New York City from which mileage distances to plants are to be computed; and to otherwise coordinate the provision with the various class price amendments.

24. The order should be amended by bringing together in one section all provisions relating to the operation of the producer settlement fund, and by changing such provisions to provide for rendering once each month (rather than more frequently) to each handler a statement of his account.

25. The Class V–A and Class V–B definitions and other provisions relating to the classification of and accounting for skim milk should be amended merely for the purpose of clarification.

26. The provision on payments for administrative expense should be amended by changing the date on which such payments are due from the 20th to the 18th day of each month in order to coincide with the date on which producer settlement fund accounts are due, and also to provide for adjustment of errors in such payments.

(a) Handlers' accounts. The market administrator shall establish an account for each handler who is required to make payments to the producer settlement fund or who received payments from the producer settlement fund. After computing the uniform price and each handler's pool debit or credit each month, and at such other times as he deems appropriate, the market administrator shall render each handler a statement of his account showing the debit or credit balance, together with all debits or credits entered on such handler's account since the previous statement was rendered.

(1) Add to each handler's net pool obligation the value of his Class I–C milk at the uniform price.

(2) Multiply the quantity of milk received by each handler from producers by the uniform price.

(3) If the result obtained in (2) of this paragraph is less than the result in (1), the difference shall be entered on the handler's producer settlement fund account as such handler's pool debit.

(e) Adjustments of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors made in payments to or from the producer settlement fund, the market administrator shall debit the handler's producer settlement fund account for any unpaid amount. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler, the market administrator shall credit the handler's producer settlement fund account for any such amount.

(g) Storage cream payments. With respect to butterfat in frozen cream held in one or more licensed cold-storage warehouses for more than 28 days under the conditions set forth in § 927.4 (c) (5), the handler whose net pool obligations included such butterfat as Class II–B milk may make claim, on forms supplied by the market administrator, for payments out of the producer settlement fund, if such buterfat was received from producers during the months of April to September, inclusive, and was used in Classes II–D, II–E, or II–F during the months of July to March, inclusive, or in Class IV–A during the months of January to March, inclusive. The market administrator shall, after investigation and audit of such claim, make payment to such handler out of the producer settlement fund, or issue credit against balances due from such handler to the producer settlement fund, in an amount equal to the difference between the Class II–B price and the class price for such utilization in effect for the month during which the milk was received from producers. Claims pursuant to this paragraph shall be made not later than 30 days after the month during which such frozen cream is utilized: Provided, That if the reported utilization of such cream is found by the market administrator to be in error, claims may be made during a period ending not later than 30 days after notice by the market administrator of such error.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

NATURAL GAS PIPELINE CO. OF AMERICA

JUNE 11, 1946.

Notice is hereby given that on June 3, 1946, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America ("Applicant"), a Delaware corporation with its principal place of business at Chicago, Illinois, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, to authorize (1) the construction and operation of certain facilities in Ogle County, Illinois; and (2) the sale of natural gas to Rochelle Gas Company for resale for consumption in the City of Rochelle, Illinois, and its environs. Applicant, together with Texoma Natural Gas Company, owns and operates an integrated natural-gas transportation system which includes, among other facilities, a 24-inch main pipeline extending from the Panhandle Field in Texas in a general northeasterly direction across portions of Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois to a point near Joliet, Illinois; and a 20-inch lateral pipeline connecting with such main pipeline at Geneseo, Illinois, and extending therefrom in a northeasterly direction to a point approximately 29 miles south of the Wisconsin State line.

Applicant delivers natural gas for distribution in numerous communities in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas.

The facilities which Applicant seeks authorization to construct and operate are described as follows:

A two-inch pipepline in Ogle County, Illinois, commencing at a point of connection with Applicant's aforementioned 20-inch lateral pipeline, in Township 41 North, Range 1 East, and extending therefrom in a southeasterly direction for a distance of approximately six miles to a point near the city limits of Rochelle, Illinois, connecting with a regulating and metering station to be there constructed; such station; and all necessary appurtenances thereto.

The application recites that Rochelle Gas Company has been manufacturing and distributing carbureted water gas in and in the vicinity of Rochelle, which in 1945 had an estimated population of 5,000; and that said company proposes to discontinue the manufacture of carbureted water gas and to substitute natural gas in lieu thereof.

The application further recites that it is contemplated that the pipeline system of Applicant will permit a pressure of 500 pounds per square inch at the point of commencement of such two-inch pipeline; that the capacity to deliver of such pipeline is estimated to be 1200 Mcf per day at a terminal pressure of 50 pounds per square inch; and that the requirements of Rochelle Gas Company will be supplied from gas reserves presently connected with the intake of Applicant's transportation system.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of Part 67 of the provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act, and if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with the reasons for such request.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application of Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America should file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than fifteen (15) days from the date of this publication, a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's provisional rules of practice and regulations under the Natural Gas Act.

age of coal cars in the coal regions in the Eastern part of the United States; it is ordered, that:

(a) Rerouting coal from West Virginia. Upon reconsignment by the owners of the coal from points of origin south of Fairmont, West Virginia, moving via the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, now held at Charlotte Docks or in transit to Charlotte Docks, that carrier is hereby directed (1) to forward that coal by the way of Genesee Dock, Ontario Car Ferry to Cobourg, Ontario, so that it may move therefrom; or (2) in the event the said car ferry ceases operation, then via all-rail routes to junctions with Canadian railroads so that it may move therefrom to Canadian destinations.

[Rev. SO 119, Order 250]

NATIONAL ENAMELING AND STAMPING CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. National Enameling and Stamping Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for galvanized household utensils of its manufacture by increasing by 10.8 percent the ceiling prices to each class of purchaser as established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

As used in this paragraph "ceiling prices as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188," shall mean the ceiling prices established under that regulation without the inclusion in those ceiling prices either directly or indirectly of any adjustment, either individual or industry wide.

(b) Ceiling prices of purchasers for resale. (1) A purchaser for resale, who had an established ceiling price prior to the effective date of this order for any article, whose manufacturer's ceiling price was adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this order, may increase that established ceiling price by 10.8 percent.

(2) A purchaser for resale who had no established ceiling price prior to the effective date of this order for any article whose ceiling price is subject to this order, shall determine his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is one which meets all the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration, however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the resale ceiling price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter, properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted ceiling prices for resales of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) All requests contained in the application for price adjustment filed by National Enameling and Stamping Company, on March 21, 1946, and all amendments and additions thereto, not specifically granted by this order are hereby denied.

(f) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall have no application to any sale or delivery of any article subject to this order.

(g) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective on the 13th day of June 1946.

Issued this 12th day of June 1946.

[SO 133, Order 47]

KING AXE AND TOOL CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. The King Axe and Tool Company, Oakland, Maine, may increase by 10 percent its current maximum prices (exclusive of any permitted increases), for sales of (axes) which it manufactures.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. A reseller shall calculate his ceiling price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called by the OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, allowances and other price differentials in effect during March 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) Reports. The manufacturer shall file the report described in section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

The provision of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to resale prices of articles covered by this order.

(f) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 13th day of June 1946.

Issued this 12th day of June 1946.

[Region VIII Order G-19 Under RMPR 251]

ELECTRICAL SERVICES IN SPOKANE, WASH., AREA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration by sections 9 and 20 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for all "electrical services" performed in the Spokane Area, which comprises the following:

In the State of Idaho. The Counties of Benewah, Bonner, Boundary, Clearwater, Idaho, Kootenai, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, and Shoshone.

In the State of Washington. The Counties of Adams, Asotin, Benton, Columbia, Douglas, Perry, Franklin, Garfield, Grant, Lincoln, Pend Oreille, Spokane, Stevens, Walla Walla, and Whitman, and that portion of Okanogan County lying south of a line extending northeast from the most northerly point of Douglas County.

(b) Maximum prices for jobs selling under $100.00. The maximum price for "electrical services" selling for less than $100.00 shall be the sum of a charge for labor, a charge for the materials used, and such other charges as may be permitted by this order. The maximum charge for labor shall be the sum of separate charges determined by multiplying the number of hours of labor performed in each category by the maximum hourly rate provided for that category by subparagraph (b) (1). The maximum price of the materials used shall be as provided by subparagraph (b) (2).

(1) Maximum labor charge: (i) For sellers who employ one or more workmen. The maximum hourly rate for each workman shall be the "labor cost" per hour multiplied by 1.5 (rounded to the nearest 5 cents), but not in excess of $2.50.

(ii) For sellers who employ no workmen, but who perform their own work on the job, the maximum hourly rate shall be $2.25.

(iii) Measurement of hours. The total number of hours per workman chargeable against any job is to be computed from the time such workman leaves the seller's shop or field office or the previous job (whichever is later) until he completes the job (if he proceeds to another job) or until he returns to the shop or field office (if he proceeds there directly), excluding, however, any stops or delays in transit. Time in transit to and from any job may be charged only once each day. The man-hours for which charges may be made shall not exceed those actually paid for by the seller and shown in the seller's pay roll and on any records or invoices which this order may require the seller to prepare, issue, or keep.

(iv) Overtime work may be charged for at 1½ times the maximum hourly rate stated above, except that overtime may be charged at two times such rate whenever sellers are required by union contract to pay labor at such doubled rate: but an overtime rate may be charged only if overtime work is performed at the customer's written request and only if the employee (if any) is paid on an overtime basis, and only if the work is performed on Saturday, Sunday, a legal holiday, or after the performance of a standard day's work on a given day and before 8:00 a. m. of the following day.

(v) Minimum charge. If a job requires less than one man-hour, there may be collected a minimum charge equal to the maximum charge for one hour.

(2) Materials. (i) The maximum price for any materials shall be the lower of the following:

(a) The highest price charged for such material by the seller during March 1942, plus any increase authorized by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) The price published as of the date of the issuance of this order in Moore's Electrical Goods Price Book published by Moore Price Services, Inc., Lloyd Bldg., Seattle, Washington; or, for materials not priced in such book, the maximum price provided by the appropriate maximum price regulation for uninstalled sales of such materials at retail or the seller's cost (not exceeding legal cost) plus 50%, whichever is lower.

(ii) Only materials actually and necessarily used on the job shall be charged to the customer.

(c) Jobs selling for $100.00 or more. (1) For any job selling for $100.00 or more, the maximum price shall be the sum of labor costs, material costs, other direct costs, and a margin not exceeding the following:

Total labor, material, and other direct costs:	Margin—Percent of cost
For the first $200 in costs	25
For the next $300 in costs	20
For costs over $500	15

Provided, That:

(i) For sellers in business during March 1942, the margin shall not exceed the margin used in the most comparable job in the period January 1, 1939, to March 31, 1942, or the margin stated above, whichever is lower; and

(ii) No margin may be added to the cost of subcontracts for "electrical services" and the margin to be added to the cost of subcontracts for other services incidental or supplemental to the main contract shall be 10% of costs; and, for the purpose of determining the margin applicable to other remaining costs, subcontract costs shall be treated as the first costs incurred on a job.

(2) Other Direct Costs include only the cost of subcontracts (subject to the limitations stated above), workmen's compensation insurance, Social Security tax, unemployment compensation tax, building permits and fees, and rentals of equipment covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 134, the equipment rentals to be charged at prices not exceeding the maximum rental rates.

(3) Administrative and overhead costs, selling expenses, and those mileage and out-of-town expense allowances for which provision is made elsewhere in this order are not to be included as direct cost.

(d) Estimates. Where work is performed on a cost-plus job on the basis of an estimate submitted by the seller, the maximum price therefor shall be that provided by paragraph (b) or (c) of this order, whichever is applicable, but shall not exceed the estimated price by more than 15%, except to the extent permitted by paragraph (e) relating to extra work.

(e) Other charges.—(1) Mileage. For necessary travel to and from a job when the work is performed at a place more than 15 miles from the seller's nearest place of business, as measured along the most direct customary route, mileage may be charged at the rate of 6 cents per mile per day per job (both ways), but only for the excess over such distances.

(2) Out-of-town expenses. A seller shall be reimbursed for expenses paid by him for employees required to remain out of town for the purposes of the job, but not in excess of $5.00 per day per employee.

(3) Extra work. Any changes in plans or specifications made at the written request of the customer involving an increase in the cost of the work covered by the original estimate shall be charged for under the terms of paragraph (c); Provided, however, That the margin used shall not exceed 15%.

(4) Authorization by customer. The above items must be explained to and authorized by the customer prior to starting the work and invoiced properly as a separate item.

(f) Lump-sum contract. Where a seller offers to supply services of the kind covered by this order on the basis of a lump-sum contract, the seller agreeing to charge a fixed price, such price may exceed the maximum price computed in accordance with the terms of paragraph (c) of this order but not by more than 5%. With respect to such job the seller shall keep records as required by other paragraphs of this order, these records to be available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(g) Definitions. (1) "Electrical services" means the installation, alteration, or repair of any electrical device, wiring, equipment, or materials in a building, structure, or construction project, or the sale of such articles on an installed basis.

(2) "Labor cost" means the wage rate in effect on October 3, 1942, or the wage rate which has been established by proper governmental agencies for the particular classification of labor and in the area in which the seller has his business address, but not more than the wage rate actually paid. In the case of a seller performing some of the direct work on a job himself, his "labor cost" therefor shall be deemed to be the wage rate prevailing in the area for journeyman electricians.

(3) A standard day's work shall consist of eight hours unless otherwise stipulated in a contract between labor union and seller.

(h) Scope of this order. (1) The maximum prices established by this order include all expenses, and no additional charge may be made for any other cost or incidental services.

(2) Lower prices than the maximum prices established by this order may be charged, demanded, offered, or paid.

(i) Records and invoices. Every person making sales subject to paragraphs (b) and (c) of this order shall furnish each customer an invoice or sales slip on which he has certified that the price charged does not exceed the price permitted by this Order No. G–19, and showing the time spent by each classification of employee on the job, the rate charged for each such classification, the materials for which charges are made and their quantities and the charges therefor, the names and addresses of the buyer and seller, the location of the job and the date of its completion, and an itemization of any other charges (such as for mileage or "other direct costs") authorized by this order. Such seller shall also keep records showing the same information, and in addition, the itemized cost of the labor and materials involved. These records and duplicates of such invoices or sales shall be kept by the seller at his place of business and shall be available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

(j) Relation of this order to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251. Except as otherwise provided in this order, this order supersedes sections 6, 7, and 8 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251 with respect to sales covered by this order; however, all other sections of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, together with all amendments thereto that have been or may be issued, shall apply to sales covered by this order. As to such sales it also supersedes any other order issued under section 9 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

(k) This order may be revoked, amended, or corrected at any time.

This order shall become effective June 7, 1946.

PART 292—EXEMPTIONS AND CLASSIFICATIONS

NON-SCHEDULED OPERATIONS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C. on the 17th day of May, 1946. (Amendment No. 2 of § 292.1 of the Economic Regulations.)

The Civil Aeronautics Board, acting pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 205 (a) and 416 (b) thereof, and in accordance with certain findings and conclusions set forth in its opinion issued concurrently herewith in the Investigation of Non-Scheduled Air Services, Docket No. 1501, relating to non-scheduled air carriers; and finding that the present enforcement of all the provisions of Title IV of said act would be an undue burden on such class of air carriers by reason of the limited extent of, and the unusual circumstances affecting the operations of such class of air carriers, and would not be in the public interest; and deeming its action necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of said act, and to exercise and perform its powers and duties thereunder, hereby makes and promulgates the following regulation:

Effective June 15, 1946, § 292.1 of the Economic Regulations, as amended, is hereby amended in its entirety to read as follows:

Within the meaning of this section, any operation shall be deemed to be non-scheduled if the air carrier does not hold out to the public expressly or by a course of conduct that it operates one or more aircraft between any designated points regularly or with a reasonable degree of regularity upon which aircraft it accepts for transportation for compensation or hire, such members of the public as apply therefor or such express or other property as the public offers.

(b) Provisions not covered. The exemption provided by this section shall not be applicable to the provisions of section 401 (1), 407 (a), and 411 of the act: Provided, That no provisions of any rule, regulation or order that may be adopted by the Board requiring reports pursuant to section 407 of the act shall be deemed applicable to any non-scheduled air carrier unless such rule, regulation or order expressly provides that such provision is to be applicable to air carriers engaged solely in non-scheduled operations.

(c) Indirect air carriers. The exemption provided by this section shall extend only to non-scheduled air carriers directly engaged in the operation of aircraft in air transportation.

(d) Reports required. Every air carrier undertaking to engage solely in non-scheduled operations shall, within 30 days after the commencement of such operations (or if such air carrier is already engaging in such operations on the effective date of this section, within 30 days after the effective date of this section), file with the Secretary of the Board a statement under oath setting forth the following information:

(1) Name and address of the carrier, and location of principal operating base.

(2) If a corporation, information showing state of incorporation, and names, addresses and citizenship of the officers and directors and also of stockholders holding more than 10 per centum of the capital stock. (5) A copy of the schedule of rates charged, and most recent announcement of service issued.

(6) Whether service is available to the general public or only to selected applicants under special contract.

(7) Date service inaugurated, and if service is in operation for two calendar months prior to date of report, the following data for such two-month period:

(i) Revenue plane-miles flown by types of aircraft;

(ii) Pounds and pound-miles of revenue cargo carried;

(iii) Revenue passengers and revenue passenger-miles carried;

(iv) Total revenue from all such traffic together with net operating profit or loss during such period; and

(v) The number of full-time employees at end of such period.

If any carrier has not been in operation for two calendar months prior to the date of the report, the foregoing data shall be submitted at the expiration of two calendar months after the inauguration of service.

[1] NHA Reg. 60–13B is a revision of NHA Reg. 60–13A, 10 F.R. 9774–9775 and revokes NHA Reg. 60–11, 9 F.R. 2819, 2820.

§ 703.20 Purposes. (a) These §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, provide for the disposition of war housing developed under Public Laws 849 (Lanham Act), 781 (Naval Appropriation Act, 1941) and 9, 73, 353 (Temporary Shelter Acts), and other war housing transferred to the National Housing Agency under the Lanham Act.

(b) Sections 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, are a revision of Regulation No. 60–13A. It is the purpose of this revision to prescribe the preference to be given veterans and their families and the families of servicemen in the disposition of permanent housing projects to be used for private residential purposes, as set forth in § 703.25 (a), and to otherwise clarify Regulation No. 60–13A. These §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, also revoke Regulation No. 60–11 (9 F.R. 2819, 2820).

§ 703.21 Responsibility for disposition. (a) The Office of the Administrator will determine when projects or parts thereof are no longer needed in the interest of the orderly demobilization of the war effort and will then terminate such projects or parts thereof and thereby: (i) Make temporary war housing available to the Federal Public Housing Authority for reuse for purposes of Title V of the Lanham Act as amended, or, if not reused, for disposition; and (ii) make permanent war housing available to FPHA for disposition.

(b) The Federal Public Housing Authority shall be responsible for the reuse or disposition of war housing projects or parts thereof upon their termination. The FPHA shall establish policies and procedures for disposition, obtain the recommendations of local governments and execute the disposition program, all in accordance with applicable laws and these §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive.

§ 703.22 Consultation with local governments. (a) Formal discussions with representatives of local governments regarding disposition problems shall be initiated sufficiently in advance of the disposition of the war housing projects or parts thereof that local agencies will have adequate prior opportunity to study disposition problems, reach agreements within the community, and prepare recommendations regarding disposition programs.

(1) Where the disposition of public war housing involves problems that are acute or materially affect other housing in the community the Office of the Administrator, with the Federal Public Housing Authority, will initiate discussions with representatives designated by the elected head of the local government having jurisdiction over the area in which the housing is located.

(2) In other cases the Federal Public Housing Authority will be responsible for such discussions and will consult with representatives of local governments. In all cases the FPHA shall make available all necessary data regarding the projects available for disposition.

(3) Where more than one unit of local government is affected by the disposition, joint consultation shall be sought.

(b) The Federal Public Housing Authority shall receive the recommendations of the representatives of the local government and shall review them for legality, financial return to the government, and conformity with National Housing Agency policies regarding disposition.

§ 703.23 General policies regarding disposition. (a) The FPHA will follow, insofar as practicable, the recommendations of representatives of the local governments in the disposition of public war housing subject only to the provisions of applicable law, the policies stated in these §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, and considerations of an equitable return to the Federal Government.

(b) In the disposition of public war housing projects consideration shall be given to the improvement of the local housing supply, to minimizing adverse effects upon existing private housing and to encouraging future private construction. Recommendations and judgments of local governments on these factors will be accepted insofar as practicable, upon satisfactory showing that they have been analyzed and considered.

§ 703.24 General policies regarding permanent projects. (a) The term "permanent" includes all housing developed under the above laws, except housing determined "to be of a temporary character" pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act.

(b) Permanent public war housing projects, or parts thereof, shall be terminated as expeditiously as possible consistent with the housing needs still remaining for continuing war activities, in accordance with NHA General Order No. 11–19, and disposed of as expeditiously thereafter as in the public interest.

(c) In accordance with the Lanham Act, permanent war housing projects shall be sold for private residential purposes unless transferred or sold for residential use by other Federal agencies or unless transfers to local housing authorities for low-rent housing use as hereinafter provided are specifically authorized by the Congress.

(d) Where a local authority and the governing body of the community proposes that a project be utilized for public low-rent housing purposes, and the FPHA concurs, the FPHA will submit the proposal to the Administrator for his consideration and for submission to the Congress.

§ 703.25 Terms and conditions of sale of permanent projects. (a) The disposition by FPHA of terminated permanent projects or parts of projects to be used for private residential purposes shall be in accordance with the following:

(1) In all cases of sales of dwellings in such projects preference shall be given to actual occupants or prospective occupants, that is, those who are actually using or will themselves use the premises for residential purposes. Actual occupants will have preference over prospective occupants and as among prospective occupants, veterans, servicemen, or their families shall have first preference. Occupants and prospective occupants include individuals or mutual ownership corporations whose membership is comprised of occupants or prospective occupants.

(2) In case of sales to individuals, the dwelling units must be suitable for individual ownership and it should be considered feasible to dispose of substantially all of the dwellings in the project in this manner within a reasonable time. Furthermore, until January 1, 1948, or the date of termination of rent control under Federal authority (whichever is the later), no unit may be resold except at a price approved by the FPHA.

(3) No sale shall be made to a mutual ownership corporation unless there is a financially sound plan of purchase and its membership meets the requirements of the FPHA.

(4) All purchasers, their successors or assigns, shall agree that until January 1, 1948, or the date of termination of rent control under Federal authority (whichever is the later) they shall not: (i) Evict the present occupants of any unit except for causes recognized by courts of law as justifying an eviction because of breach of contract of tenancy; (ii) raise the rent of any tenant occupying the project at the time of sale above the rent in existence at the date of sale except that prior to January 1, 1948, the rent of any tenant who is paying an adjusted rent less than the scheduled rent because of distressed circumstances may be increased upward at any time in accordance with any increased ability to pay, but not to exceed the scheduled rent, and provided such increase is approved by the FPHA.

(5) All purchasers, their successors or assigns, shall agree that until January 1, 1948, first preference on resale or rental of individual units shall be given to veterans, servicemen, or their families. Such preference will not be deemed to be complied with if the unit is sold or rented within 30 days of the unit's availability to other than a veteran, serviceman, or his family, who is available and qualified.

(b) Prior to sales to occupants and prospective occupants, prices shall be publicly announced equal to their market values based on competent appraisal, in order that advantage not be taken of scarcity in the market to obtain inflated prices.

Prior to sales to other than occupants and prospective occupants, public notice shall be given and proposals solicited. Sales shall be consummated at prices conforming so far as practicable to appraised value, and the highest and best offer obtainable shall be accepted unless it shall be found in the public interest to accept a lower offer.

(c) Insofar as possible, sales for private residential purposes should be made for cash and such financing as is necessary obtained in the private financial market. Where such financing is not available, FPHA shall establish appropriate sale terms.

(d) When sold for on-site use, demountable dwelling structures shall be disposed of as permanent structures as outlined in preceding paragraphs. In the disposition of demountable dwelling structures, the community may recommend the removal of demountable family dwellings if there is no physical need for such structures in the community or if not appropriate to the site on which they are located. Community recommendations for the removal of demountable family dwellings will be given every consideration by the FPHA, consistent with broad Federal policy and the protection of the Federal interest. The FPHA will carefully examine any commitments as to removal, either formal or implied and will faithfully carry out any such obligations. Appropriate terminated demountables, suitable for off-site sale shall be sold to meet veterans' needs in the following order of preference: (i) Federal agencies, (ii) educational institutions or local public bodies, or their representatives, (iii) individual veterans, servicemen, or their families, (iv) to others who will purchase the housing in marketable quantities and remove and resell or rent the housing to veterans, servicemen, or their families subject to appropriate restrictions on resale prices and rents. When sold for off-site use, the sale shall require that purchasers, successors and assigns shall agree that until January 1, 1948, they will give first preference to veterans, servicemen, or their families among qualified tenants or purchasers, in the rental of dwellings or their sale for owner occupancy, as the case may be, and at sales prices approved by the FPHA.

(e) Any sale to a Federal agency shall be subject to the conditions described in paragraph (a) (4) and (5) of this section.

§ 703.26 General policies regarding temporary projects. (a) The term "temporary housing" includes all housing developed under the above laws and determined "to be of a temporary character" pursuant to section 313 of the Lanham Act; except terminated trailers which, when surplus to the functions and needs of NHA, shall be declared surplus and turned over to the disposal agency designated by the War Assets Administration for disposal pursuant to the Surplus Property Act of 1944.

(b) Where feasible and in accordance with the policies of the Administrator, terminated temporary housing and trailers no longer needed on the original site for demobilization purposes shall be removed to other localities to provide housing for distressed veterans and distressed families of veterans and servicemen under Title V of the Lanham Act. Such temporary housing shall be removed, upon expiration of Title V need, in accordance with section 313 of the Lanham Act.

(c) Temporary housing not utilized in connection with paragraph (b) of this section, will be removed as promptly as may be practicable and in the public interest in accordance with section 313 of the Lanham Act. Deferments in the removal of temporary housing may be authorized when the Administrator, after consultation with local communities, finds that temporary housing is still needed in the interest of the orderly demobilization of the war effort for either residential or non-residential purposes.

(d) Temporary housing may be transferred to other Federal agencies for use on or off the present site, subject to the understanding in the case of on-site use that the transferee Federal agency will carry out the provisions of the Lanham Act and NHA regulations concerning the removal of temporary housing.

(e) Where temporary housing is sold or transferred for removal to other than a Federal agency, it shall not be removed in an intact or substantially intact condition, but shall be reduced to parts not greater than flat panels, unless it is to be removed for Title V use or is to be removed for non-residential use by a public, non-profit, or charitable institution, in which case it may be removed in an intact condition.

(f) In the disposition of surplus temporary war housing, Federal agencies shall have first preference, state and local governments shall have preference over other buyers, and non-profit institutions, such as charitable organizations and schools, shall have preference over private buyers.

§ 703.27 Separate disposition of community or commercial facilities. (a) Where community, commercial or other non-dwelling facilities are to be disposed of separately from the war housing to which they are appurtenant and are not transferred to landowners in connection with the termination and settlement of Government leasehold estates, the following order of preference shall be observed: First, to Federal agencies; second, to state or local governments; third, to non-profit institutions; fourth, to veterans for owner-operated small business or commercial purposes.

§ 703.28 Land. (a) Any owned land which is no longer needed shall be declared surplus to the War Assets Administration for appropriate disposal, and any leases or temporary uses of land which are no longer needed shall be terminated.

§ 703.29 Preferential purchases. (a) The preferences provided for in these §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, for the acquisition of the war housing property may only be exercised if the party having such preferences offers to purchase for his own use the property to be disposed of at the sales price established by FPHA, unless in the case of Federal agencies transfer without reimbursement is otherwise authorized by law.

§ 703.30 Definition of veteran and serviceman. As used in these §§ 703.20 to 703.31, inclusive, a veteran means a person who has served in the military or naval forces of the United States during World War II and who has been discharged or released therefrom under conditions other than dishonorable. Serviceman means any person who is serving in the military or naval forces of the United States.

§ 703.31 Revocation. NHA Regulation 60–11 is hereby revoked.

This regulation shall be effective immediately.

WILSON W. WYATT,
Administrator.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

[Suspension Order S–939, as Amended May 29, 1946, Amdt. 1]

THEODORE G. MEYER

Theodore G. Meyer, 200 Quint Street, San Francisco, California, a contractor, engaged in the building of small family dwellings, was suspended by Suspension Order No. S–939, issued on May 20, 1946, and amended May 29, 1946. The respondent has appealed from the provisions of the order. The Chief Compliance Commissioner has reviewed the case, and has concluded that the amended suspension order, issued May 29, 1946, goes beyond the intent of the compliance commissioner's recommendation insofar as its effect is retrospective. It is therefore directed that the suspension order be amended by adding to paragraph (d) the following: "or to preference ratings placed or to be placed on orders for materials necessary to construct 19 houses authorized by FHA on May 10, 1946, project serial No. 66–121–09734, and 3 houses authorized by FHA on May 10, 1946, project Serial No. 66–121–09735, all located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California."

In view of the foregoing it is hereby ordered, that: § 1010.939 Suspension Order No. S–939, as amended on May 29, 1946, and effective May 30, 1946, be, and hereby is, amended by the substitution of the following paragraph (d) for the present paragraph (d):

(d) The provisions of this order shall not apply to preference ratings placed or to be placed on orders for materials necessary to complete the construction of the 38 houses authorized on Form CPA–4386, project Serial No. 66–121–00098 and located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California, or to preference ratings placed or to be placed on orders for materials necessary to construct 19 houses authorized by FHA on May 10, 1946, project Serial No. 66–121–09734, and 3 houses authorized by FHA on May 10, 1946, project Serial No. 66–121–09735, all located in Miraloma Park Subdivision, San Francisco, California.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

INVENTORIES

(a) What this regulation does.

General Restrictions

(b) Restriction on delivery.
(c) Restrictions on receipts.
(d) Restriction on ordering more than needed.
(e) Adjusting outstanding orders when requirements change
(f) Restriction on processing.

Exceptions

(g) In general.
(h) Receipts permitted after contract cancellations or cut-backs.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Previous inventory authorizations.
(j) Separate inventories.
(k) Redistribution of excess inventories.
(l) Violations.
(m) Revisions of tables.
(n) Appeals, letters and questions.

§ 944.53 Priorities Regulation 32—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation contains the inventory rules formerly in § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 and in CMP Regulation 2. Its purpose is to prevent excessive inventories by restricting ordering, deliveries, receipts and processing of materials in short supply. All kinds of materials are covered including raw or semi-fabricated materials, commodities, equipment, accessories, parts, assemblies or products of any kind, whether or not acquired with priorities assistance.

The general rule on receipts is in paragraph (c) (1), and this is controlling unless a more specific limitation or exception is indicated in Table 1 or 2 or a direction to this regulation, or unless Table 3 (formerly Order M–161) exempts the material entirely. Other exceptions to the inventory limitations are stated in paragraphs (g) and (h) and in directions to this regulation.

General Restrictions

(b) Restriction on delivery. No person may deliver any material if he knows or has reason to believe that acceptance of the delivery would be in violation of this regulation.

NOTE: For rule on making or delivering material earlier than required by customers, see Interpretation 3.

(c) Restrictions on receipts—(1) General rule. A person may not accept delivery of any material if his inventory of that material is, or will be, more than a practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet his own deliveries or to supply his services on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation.

NOTE: For rule on when material is considered to be in inventory, see Interpretation 4; for rule as to seasonal industries, see Interpretation 1.

(2) Special rules in Tables 1 and 2. If Table 1 at the end of this regulation shows a special inventory limit on a particular material or product (either specifically or by reference to another CPA order or regulation), that limitation governs and the restrictions of paragraph (c) (1) above may be disregarded unless the applicable order or regulation (or a note in Table 1) also states that a practicable minimum working inventory may not be exceeded. The same is true with respect to particular classes of persons shown on Table 2. Where a specific period of time is shown on Table 1 or 2, no person affected may accept delivery of any material specified if his inventory of it is, or will be, more than he needs during the immediate period specified on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation. Even if an order or regulation is not listed on Table 1 or 2, any specific inventory limits imposed by it must be complied with. If an order or regulation listed on Table 1 or 2 is revoked or a listing removed from the tables all provisions of this regulation, including paragraph (c) (1), are automatically applicable.

(3) Early delivery of steel, iron products, copper and copper base alloys. Early delivery, up to 15 days before the requested delivery month, may be accepted from a producer of steel, iron products, copper or copper base alloys (in the forms listed on Table 1), but the producer may not make the early delivery if it would interfere with any rated orders. Other special rules on these materials are explained in Table 1.

(d) Restriction on ordering more than needed. (1) A person may not place any order, whether rated or unrated, for delivery of any material on earlier dates or in larger amounts than he would be permitted to receive under this regulation. Orders aggregating more than he is allowed to receive may not be placed with different suppliers even though he intends to cancel one or more of them before delivery. However, this restriction does not apply to materials listed on Table 3 of this regulation nor to purchases by ultimate consumers for personal or household use. The restriction does not forbid the placing of orders for delivery under the conditions explained in Interpretation 11 to Priorities Regulation 1, but such orders may not be scheduled for production as long as this restriction is effective.

(2) This restriction does not require immediate adjustment of orders placed before August 28, 1945. However, in view of its policy to prevent hoarding and speculative buying of materials in short supply, the CPA may direct adjustments or cancellations in individual cases where orders are in excess of reasonably anticipated needs especially where failure to do so might result in unbalanced distribution and curtail total production.

(3) If the inventory limits applying to any material are made more restrictive, whether by a change in Table 1 or otherwise, any person affected must immediately cancel, reduce or defer any order for the material to the extent that the scheduled delivery would result in an inventory greater than permitted by the new restriction and other applicable provisions of this regulation.

(e) Adjusting outstanding orders when requirements change. If because of a change in operations, slowing or stoppage of production, delayed delivery by a supplier, or any other change in requirements, a person who has ordered material for future delivery would, if he accepted delivery on the date specified, exceed the limits prescribed by this regulation, he must promptly adjust his outstanding orders, and, if necessary, postpone or cancel them. Paragraph (h) below describes what further deliveries may be accepted.

(f) Restriction on processing. No person may process, fabricate, alloy or otherwise alter the shape or form of any material if his inventory of the material in its processed, fabricated, alloyed or otherwise altered shape or form is, or will be, more than a practicable minimum working inventory. However, this does not restrict a person from altering the form of surplus materials by scrapping or reprocessing them, unless a CPA order specifically says otherwise. The CPA may issue directions to Priorities Regulation 32 or other orders that are more restrictive on processing than the general limitations of this paragraph. In such case, these more restrictive directions or orders control instead of the general restrictions of the paragraph.

Exceptions

(g) In general. This paragraph, paragraph (h) below, and certain directions to this regulation state general exceptions to the restrictions on acceptance of delivery described in paragraph (c) above, and to all other inventory restrictions on delivery and acceptance of delivery in CPA orders and regulations unless they contain specific provisions to the contrary. None of these or any other exceptions to CPA inventory restrictions on receipts permit a supplier to disregard any applicable CPA order or regulation which restricts production or delivery.

(1) Exemption of Table 3 materials. Materials listed on Table 3 at the end of this regulation may be delivered and accepted without regard to CPA inventory restrictions.

(2) Materials bought under PR–13. Priorities Regulation 13 provides a limited exemption from inventory restrictions in the case of items bought on special sales.

(3) Imported materials. A person may import any material without regard to CPA inventory restrictions, but if his inventory of it thereby becomes in excess of the amount permitted by this regulation, he may not receive further deliveries of it from domestic sources until his inventory is reduced to permitted levels. The inventory restrictions of this regulation do apply to any deliveries of the imported material he makes, and to the amount of it that any person accepting delivery from him may receive.

(4) Advance stockpiling for civilian production. A person may receive in anticipation of starting or resuming civilian production the minimum amount of material he would need during the first 30 days of such production, provided no priorities assistance is used to get the material. Records of such receipts and the basis on which they were computed must be preserved as required by § 944.15 of Priorities Regulation 1. This 30-day amount is a ceiling as far as advance stockpiling is concerned, and may not be considered as a "bonus" to be added to the amount of any material which a producer expects to have available for making his civilian product. Changes in this 30-day amount may be indicated for a particular material by a note in Table 1.

(5) Minimum sale quantities. Minimum sale quantities and production runs may be accepted to the extent permitted by Interpretation 2 to this Regulation. However, where Column 3 of Table 1 shows a specific amount of a particular material, that is considered to be the minimum sale quantity of it. Thus, if a person would be permitted under paragraph (c) to accept less than the amount shown, he may accept delivery of the full amount. In any event, after receiving a minimum sale quantity of any material, a person may not accept delivery of any additional quantities until his inventory of it is within applicable limits.

(6) Small inventory exemption for particular materials. If a note in Table 1 or 2 shows a specific amount of a particular material as a small inventory exemption a person may accept delivery of any quantities of it as long as his total inventory of it after acceptance is no more than the specified amount.

(h) Receipts permitted after adjustment of orders. Where a person has promptly adjusted his outstanding orders with his supplier as required by paragraph (e) and the supplier is not otherwise prohibited from producing or delivering any material involved, delivery of it may be made and accepted and the inventory restrictions of paragraph (c) exceeded to the following extent only:

(1) Delivery may be made and accepted if the supplier has shipped the material or loaded it for shipment before the receipt of the instruction to adjust; or

(2) Delivery may be made and accepted of any special item which the supplier actually has in stock or in production or special components or special materials which he has acquired for the purpose of filling that contract. A special item, as used above, means one that the supplier does not usually make, stock, or sell, and which cannot readily be disposed of to others; or

(3) Even if the material is not a special item, delivery may be made by and accepted from a producer if it has already been produced or is in production before receipt of the instruction to adjust, and it cannot be used to fill other orders on the producer's books. However, in the case of steel processed beyond the slab, billet or sheet bar stage before receipt of the instruction to adjust, producers are not required to examine other orders on their books. In this case, unless otherwise ordered by the CPA, deliveries may be made and accepted if the producer cannot readily dispose of the material to others without loss of production.

NOTE: For special rules on continuing receipts of special items after contract cut backs, see Direction 3 to this regulation; and as to transfers of idle materials after cancellations or cut backs, see Direction 1. For effect of reduction in consumption rate on permitted inventories, see Interpretation 5.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(i) Previous inventory authorizations. Any specific authorizations, exceptions, or grants of appeals issued under § 944.14 of Priorities Regulation 1 or CMP Regulation 2 remain in effect according to their terms unless individually modified or revoked.

(j) Separate inventories. (1) In figuring his inventory, a person must include all material in his possession and all material held for his account by another person, but not material held by him for the account of another person.

(2) In the case of a person who on August 28, 1945, has more than one operating unit and keeps separate inventory records for them, this regulation applies to each such operating unit or division independently. A person may not make any further separation or consolidation of such operating units without special written approval of the Civilian Production Administration, unless it is purely incidental to a separation or consolidation which is made primarily for other than inventory purposes.

(k) Redistribution of excess inventories. Excess inventories of materials and products, including inventories of materials which are in such form as to be unusable by the holder, are subject to redistribution to other persons by voluntary action pursuant to Priorities Regulation 13, or if necessary for national defense, through requisitioning by the Civilian Production Administration.

(l) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this regulation, or who, in connection with this regulation, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(m) Revisions of tables. Tables 1, 2 and 3, attached to this regulation will be revised from time to time. As materials and products become in more ample supply, it is expected that they will be listed on Table 3. In special cases, particular materials or products may also be removed from Table 3 or added to Table 1. It is, therefore, important to be familiar with the latest revision of the tables.

(n) Appeals, letters and questions. Any appeal or other question regarding any provision of this regulation should be sent by letter in duplicate to the Inventory Control Division, Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: PR 32, unless Table 1 or 2 attached to this regulation indicates otherwise with respect to particular materials or classes of persons.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

Recording Secretary.

TABLE 1—MATERIALS AND PRODUCTS SUBJECT TO SPECIFIC INVENTORY PROVISIONS

Explanation. Materials or products listed in Column 1 are subject to the specific inventory provisions shown, as explained in paragraph (c) (2) of the regulation, except to the extent that different rules may apply as to certain classes of persons under Table 2.

Column 2 shows either the CPA order or regulation which controls inventories of the material, or if no order is specified, there is shown a period of time representing the maximum inventory permitted as explained in paragraph (c) (2). An asterisk (*) indicates that the practicable minimum working inventory limit of paragraph (c) (1) also applies, that is, if it would be less than the specific limit indicated.

If Column 2 shows a specific period of time (e. g., 30 days, 60 days, etc.) for a particular material or product, this restriction applies only to "users" of that material or product, i. e., persons, including Government operated consuming establishments, who use the material or product for production, operating supplies, maintenance and repair, or for construction whether for own account or for the account of another. In addition, the restriction applies only within the 48 States and the District of Columbia. In the case of persons who are not "users", such as persons buying for resale, paragraph (c) (1) applies instead of Column 2.

A figure in Column 3 shows the minimum sale quantity, that is, the amount of the particular material which a person may receive under the conditions stated in paragraph (g) (5), even if it is more than allowed under Column 2. If no figure is shown, the rule in Interpretation 2 must be followed.

Column 4 tells the Division or Office in the Civilian Production Administration to which should be sent any appeals or questions regarding the limitations described. However, if the applicable order says appeals are to be filed somewhere else, such as the nearest CPA field office, that provision controls.

Column 5 (Remarks) gives explanations, exemptions or other special rules applicable to the particular material or limitation.

TABLE 2—CLASSES OF PERSONS SUBJECT TO SPECIFIC INVENTORY PROVISIONS

Explanation. The classes of persons listed in Column 1 are subject to the specific inventory provisions shown, as explained in paragraph (c) (2) of the regulation.

Column 2 shows either the CPA order or regulation which controls the inventories of the particular class of persons, or if no order is specified, there is shown a period of time representing the maximum inventory permitted as explained in paragraph (c) (2). An asterisk (*) indicates that the practicable minimum working inventory limit of paragraph (c) (1) also applies, that is, if it would be less than the specific limit indicated.

Column 3 tells the Division or Office in the Civilian Production Administration to which should be sent any appeals or questions regarding the limitations described. However, if the applicable order says appeals are to be filed somewhere else, such as the nearest CPA field office, that provision controls.

Column 4 (Remarks) gives explanations, exemptions or other special rules applicable to the particular class of persons or limitation. Where this column specifies certain materials, the limitation or exemption for the particular class of person applies only to the materials specified.

INVENTORIES IN SEASONAL INDUSTRIES

Paragraph (c) (1) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits any person from accepting a delivery which will give him "more than a practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet his own deliveries on the basis of his current or scheduled method and rate of operation". This does not prevent a person engaged in a seasonal industry who normally stocks up inventory in advance of the season from accepting delivery of his requirements of the inventory in question, provided (a) that he is not guilty of hoarding, and (b) that the deliveries accepted are no greater and no further in advance than those which he would normally accept in the ordinary course of his business to meet reasonably anticipated requirements. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945.)

MINIMUM SALE QUANTITIES AND PRODUCTION RUNS

(a) Applicable provisions of the regulations. Priorities Regulation 32 forbids the making or acceptance of a delivery which will give the customer more than the "practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary" for him to make his own deliveries. A similar provision in paragraph (c) (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 3 says that a customer who is applying a rating for which no specific quantities have been authorized may use it only to get the "minimum amount needed."

(b) Factors to be considered in determining how much can be ordered and delivered. In determining a customer's minimum inventory "reasonably necessary" under Priorities Regulation 32 or his "minimum amount needed" under Priorities Regulation No. 3, it is proper in some cases to consider not only the immediate needs of the customer's plant but also whether the amount which he orders will be a minimum production run for his supplier. The customer may order and receive (and the supplier may deliver) the customer's requirements for a longer period in advance than he actually needs at the time of delivery if, but only if, it is not practicable for him to get the item from any supplier in the smaller quantities which he presently needs. The supplier may reject his customer's order if it is less than the minimum which he regularly sells or less than his minimum production run of a product which is mass produced under the conditions explained in Interpretation 3 of Priorities Regulation 1.

(c) Relief in exceptional cases. If the conditions stated in paragraph (b) above cannot be satisfied but the customer wants to order or accept delivery of more than his actual needs at the time of delivery, he should apply to the Civilian Production Administration for permission, stating the facts and why it is not practicable to satisfy the condition of paragraph (b).

(d) Special provisions for certain materials. Where a specific minimum sale quantity is shown in Column 3 of Table 1 of Priorities Regulation 32 with respect to any material or product, that quantity controls instead of the rule in this interpretation.

(e) Specific limits on ratings may not be exceeded. This interpretation does not apply to the use of a rating where a specific quantity is stated in the instrument assigning the rating. If a person is assigned a rating for a specific amount of material, he may not use it to get more. If he finds that he can only get the material in larger quantities, he should apply for a modification of the rating.

(f) No effect on contractual rights. The times and amounts in which deliveries are to be made are to be determined by agreement between the supplier and the customer. Nothing in this interpretation relieves a supplier from fulfilling a contract to make deliveries at specified times in specified amounts. For example, if a customer has agreed to buy and a supplier has agreed to furnish 100 units a month for six months, this interpretation does not obligate the buyer to accept 600 units delivered during the first month, although it permits him to do so under the conditions described in paragraph (b). (Issued Oct. 1, 1945.)

MAKING OR DELIVERING MATERIAL EARLIER THAN REQUIRED BY CUSTOMERS

(a) Paragraph (b) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits a person from knowingly making a delivery which will give his customer more than the latter is permitted to receive under the regulation. Paragraph (f) of that regulation prohibits a person from processing or fabricating material if his inventory of the material in its processed or fabricated form will be more than a practicable minimum working inventory. These two restrictions should be borne in mind by any supplier who wants to make or deliver any material to his customer earlier or in greater quantities than required by the customer.

(b) For example: A supplier has accepted his customer's order of a product to be delivered at the rate of 100 a month for six months. The supplier would like to ship 200 a month for three months, or perhaps the entire 600 in the first month. Since the customer's requirements of 100 a month are presumably all he could accept within the inventory limitations of paragraph (c) of the regulation, the requirement that the supplier may not knowingly ship more than this would prevent him from delivering earlier than required by his customer, unless he received notice from his customer that the receipt of the larger amount would not cause him to have an excess inventory.

(c) Thus, before delivering a material or product substantially earlier or in greater quantities than is called for by his customer's order a supplier is requested to satisfy himself that the receipt by the customer of the changed quantities will be within the permissible inventory limitations applicable to the customer. The supplier may rely on any statement or notice to this effect from his customer, unless he knows or has reason to know that it is false.

(d) Similarly, assuming his customer would not be permitted to receive the larger quantities, the supplier should take this into account in his plans for processing the material or product so that he himself will not have an inventory greater than permitted by paragraph (f) of the regulation.

(e) This interpretation, of course, does not change the rule on delivery or acceptance of minimum sale quantities or production runs to the extent described in Interpretation 2 to this regulation, nor does it prevent earlier delivery of iron products, steel, copper and copper base alloys under the conditions described in paragraph (c) (3) of Priorities Regulation 32. Also, if any CPA order or regulation permits increased deliveries to the extent necessary to avoid shipping partly filled containers (such as paragraph (y) (4) of Order M-300), the rule in this interpretation does not prevent such deliveries. (Issued Oct. 1, 1945.)

INVENTORY MATERIAL

(a) Paragraph (c) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits a person from accepting delivery of material if his inventory of it is, or will be, greater than the maximum prescribed. For the purpose of this regulation, material is considered to be inventory until it is actually put into process or is actually installed or assembled. Putting into process does not include minor initial operations, such as painting, and does not include any shearing, cutting, trimming or other operation unless such initial operations are part of a continuous fabricating or assembling operation. Nor does it include operations such as inspection, testing and ageing nor segregation or earmarking for a specific job or operation.

(b) For example, if a manufacturer who uses wire or rod cuts a sufficient quantity of it to length at one time to maintain his operations for a considerable period of time, the cut pieces remain as inventory until processed into another form or until assembled or installed.

(c) If a manufacturer purchases and stores steel castings in the form purchased, the steel castings are not put into process when the castings are painted and stored. Consequently, the inventory of castings includes those painted and stored.

(d) If a manufacturer shears steel sheet and stocks in sheared form, such stock is still part of his inventory, if the material does not continue in production. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945)

EFFECT OF REDUCTION IN CONSUMPTION RATE ON PERMITTED INVENTORIES

(a) Paragraph (c) of Priorities Regulation 32 prohibits the acceptance of delivery of material if a person's inventory of it is, or will be, more than the amount permitted by the regulation. If material is acquired within these restrictions, the regulation does not prohibit the mere possession of an inventory if a change in circumstances makes it greater than the amount permitted. For instance, if based upon current rate of production a manufacturer's permitted inventory of one item of steel is 100 tons and he has in inventory 60 tons, he may receive a further delivery of 40 tons. If after receiving the delivery of 40 tons his rate of consumption, because of contract cancellation or the like, is reduced drastically, the mere fact that he has an inventory of 100 tons, although his permitted inventory may be only 10 tons, is not a violation of the regulation. He may not, of course, accept any further deliveries of that item of steel until his inventory has been reduced below 10 tons (except as provided in paragraph (h) of Priorities Regulation 32 and Direction 3 to that regulation, relating to material already shipped, special items, etc.)

(b) Similarly the regulation does not affect the liability of a customer for material in inventory when the customer cancels his contract. Such liability is controlled by the provisions of the contract between the customer and his supplier and by contract law. (Issued Aug. 28, 1945)

PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION

SPECIAL RESTRICTIONS ON PRODUCTION AND DELIVERY OF TIN MILL PRODUCTS

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to General Preference Order M-21:

(a) What this direction does. The general work stoppages at steel plants have caused a serious curtailment in supplies of tin mill products. This direction requires producers of tin mill products to give special preference to certain certified orders.

The direction also contains special restrictions on the delivery of tin mill products.

(b) Definitions. As used in this direction:

(1) "Tin mill products" means tin plate, terne plate, or tin mill black plate.

(2) "Tin plate" means hot dipped or electrolytic tin plate including primes and seconds but not waste-waste or waste.

(3) "Terne plate" means steel sheets coated with terne metal including primes and seconds but not waste-waste or waste.

(4) "Tin mill black plate" means black plate produced on tin mill equipment in gauges No. 29 and lighter.

(5) "Can" means any unused container made in whole or in part of tin plate or terne plate, which is suitable for packing any product. The term includes any container which has a closure or fitting, made in whole or in part of tin plate or terne plate, but does not include a glass container having such a closure or fitting. The term does not include fluid milk shipping containers.

(6) "Closure" means any new sealing or covering device affixed or to be affixed to a glass container for the purpose of retaining the contents within the container. The term shall not include bulbs or droppers for medicinal bottles.

(c) Sequence in scheduling orders for tin mill products. (1) Where a producer of tin mill products is unable to schedule all orders for these products in the month for which delivery is requested, he should, in selecting the orders for these products to be placed on his production schedule, give preference to orders for tin mill products bearing either (i) a certificate in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 by an official duly authorized for that purpose:

> I certify, subject to the penalties of Section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, that I will use these tin mill products only to make cans for products designated with the letter A in Column 2 of Schedule I to Order M-81, or to make closures for glass containers used to pack foods, for human consumption (including milk, and vegetables and fruit juices, but not alcoholic or non-alcoholic beverages), drugs, medicinals or biologicals.

or (ii) in the case of a Canadian purchaser, a certificate in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 by an official duly authorized for that purpose:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of Section 15 of the Canadian Wartime Industries Control Regulations, to the seller, to the Canadian Priorities Officer, and to the Civilian Production Administration that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized, under applicable Canadian orders to place this delivery order, and to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered.

or (iii) a certificate authorized to be used under Direction 12 to M-21.

Any purchase order certified under this direction or Direction 12 to M-21 must be treated as a rated order under Priorities Regulation 1 and accepted accordingly. Where a conflict exists between certifications, preference is to be given to the certification first received (irrespective of when the purchase order was placed).

(2) No producer of tin mill products is required to schedule more than 85 percent of his total anticipated monthly production of tin mill products for orders bearing either of the certifications described in paragraph (c) (1) (i) or (c) (1) (ii).

(d) Special restrictions on delivery of tin mill products. No person shall deliver any tin mill products to fill uncertified orders, if doing so would interfere with his delivery of tin mill products to fill orders which he has on hand and which bear one of the certificates described in paragraph (c) (1).

(e) [Deleted June 14, 1946.]

(f) Effect of certificates. No person giving a certificate under this direction may receive, use or dispose of the materials obtained with the certificate contrary to its terms. The standard certificate described in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used in place of any of the certificates described in this direction.

(g) Effect of other orders. This direction does not authorize the use of tin mill products contrary to the provisions of Orders M-43 or M-81, or other applicable orders and regulations of the Civilian Production Administration.

PART 3290—TEXTILES, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[Limitation Order L-99, as Amended June 14, 1946]

OPERATION OF LOOMS FOR COTTON BROAD WOVEN FABRIC PRODUCTION

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the production of cotton broad woven fabrics and materials for making cotton broad woven fabrics for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3290.46 Limitation Order L-99—(a) Operation of looms for cotton broad woven fabric production—(1) Purpose. This order controls the operation of looms for the production of cotton woven fabrics of more than 12" in width.

(2) No person shall, regardless of the presentation of rated orders, operate looms contrary to the provisions in the schedules of this order.

(3) No person shall operate looms formerly operated in the production of cotton broad woven fabrics and which were acquired by him after June 30, 1944, except as specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. The term "acquired" refers not only to the direct purchase of looms but also to obtaining operating control over looms by obtaining control of the corporation which owns them. Application for authorization may be made by letter to the Civilian Production Administration, Textile Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-99, stating all facts, including the type of fabric he wishes to produce, the name of the person who formerly owned or controlled the looms, and the fabric formerly produced on them.

(b) Minimum quantities to be produced. Each person in the business of producing in any calendar quarter after March 31, 1946 any broad woven cotton fabric item marked with an asterisk on Schedule A, or any item in the "May Produce Only" column of Schedule B, must produce in that quarter at least as much yardage of the items within the same group as the greater of the following:

(1) Ninety percent of the linear yardage of such items which he produced in the second quarter of 1944, increased or decreased in inverse proportion to any change in pick he has made since then, or

(2) The linear yardage which can be produced by operating each loom producing such items for at least as many hours as any other loom in his mill is operated.

(c) Exemptions—(1) Special looms. Jacquard and box looms, and looms which were Dobby head looms on March 8, 1946, are exempt from the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this order and from Schedules A and B.

(2) [Deleted June 14, 1946.]

(d) Reports and records. All persons operating looms for the production of cotton textiles of any kind shall file with the Civilian Production Administration at the times specified in the reporting forms, reports on Forms CPA-658-A, B, and C giving the information therein required. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years, accurate and complete records concerning inventories, production and sales. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Appeals. (1) Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Textile Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-99, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal. Any person who wishes to produce Schedule B items but is not permitted to do so under the terms of Schedules A or B, need specify only the number of looms, the constructions currently produced on them, and the number of looms proposed to be transferred to each different Schedule B construction.

(2) All appeals granted under this order before March 8, 1946 have been revoked.

(3) In cases of appeal for suspension of the requirements of paragraphs (a) or (b) on the ground that compliance will result in production at a loss, an application for price relief on that ground must first be filed with the Secretary of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., and a copy filed with the CPA appeal. If the CPA appeal is granted, the requirement of these paragraphs for increases above current production will be suspended until the decision by the Office of Price Administration upon the application for price relief. This paragraph does not indicate or limit the extent or kind of price relief, if any, which may be granted by the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the Civilian Production Administration, as amended from time to time.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violated any provision of this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities, assistance.

(h) Communications to the Civilian Production Administration. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: Civilian Production Administration, Textile Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L-99.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

(1) Looms which at any time during the period March 1, 1942 through February 28, 1946, inclusive, produced any item listed in the "Did Produce" column of Schedule B, and did not produce any item now listed in the "Did Produce" column of Schedule A on March 8, 1946 (or the last prior date when the looms were in production), are subject to the following requirement:

(i) If the items shown in the Schedule B "May Produce Only" column opposite the applicable Group Number are marked with an asterisk, only those items may be produced.

(ii) If the items shown in the Schedule B "May Produce Only" column are not marked with an asterisk, those items may be produced and also any item marked with an asterisk in Schedule B or any item listed in the "May Produce Only" column of Schedule A.

(2) If a loom is required as a result of any amendment to this order to shift to production of Schedule B constructions which differ from the construction last produced on the loom before the amendment, the loom need not shift until 30 days after the date of amendment if a change of pick or sley is necessary, or until 45 days after the date of amendment if a change of yarn number is necessary. In cases in which these run-out periods are insufficient, appeal may be filed under paragraph (e) (1) of the order.

(3) If a loom was operated on fabrics listed in more than one Group Number during the base period, any such Group Number of Schedule B may be selected. A loom may be reassigned at any time from the production of the permitted item to the production of any other item permitted for that loom.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATIONS OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

VETERANS' EMERGENCY HOUSING PROGRAM

§ 944.54 Priorities Regulation 33—(a) What this regulation does—(1) General. This regulation provides priorities assistance to carry out the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program which calls for the construction of moderate and low-cost housing accommodations to meet the needs of returning veterans and members of the Armed Forces. It also provides for giving specific authorization under the Civilian Production Administration Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 to persons wishing to construct, repair, make additions or alterations to, improve or convert, or install fixtures or mechanical equipment in housing accommodations. This regulation explains who may apply for such an authorization and for priorities assistance (an HH rating and the right to place certified orders, generally referred to in this regulation simply as HH ratings), the circumstances under which applications will be approved, the way in which the priorities assistance given under the regulation may be used, and the conditions which will be imposed on the builder and succeeding owners in selling or renting the accommodations as long as this regulation is in force. Schedule A to this regulation lists the materials for which priorities assistance given under the regulation may be used. If a person building housing accommodations needs priorities assistance for materials not listed on Schedule A he may apply under Priorities Regulation 28 if he qualifies under its provisions. Directions to the regulation contain additional provisions about using priorities assistance given under this regulation and also contain provisions restricting distributors and producers of the materials.

(2) Housing accommodations covered by this regulation. This paragraph tells what kinds of applications involving housing accommodations are covered by this regulation and are under the jurisdiction of the National Housing Agency. All applications covered by this regulation should be on Form CPA-4386 or other applicable form and should be filed as indicated in paragraph (b) (2) of the regulation. Applications which are not covered by the regulation are under the jurisdiction of the Civilian Production Administration and should be filed as indicated in Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 (if authorization under that order is necessary) or as indicated in Priorities Regulation 28 (if priorities assistance is necessary).

(i) Applications for priorities assistance under Priorities Regulation 33 or for authorization under VHP-1 or both which involve the following kinds of work are covered by this regulation and are under the jurisdiction of the National Housing Agency.

The construction of any building primarily for occupancy by families (i. e., in which 50% or more of the floor space involved is to be used for residential purposes), except military housing. This includes subsidiary buildings on residential property where used for residential purposes, such as private garages, tool sheds, piers, greenhouses and the like. This also includes farmhouses and other farm living accommodations and bunkhouses for transitory farm labor.

The construction of apartment hotels and rooming or boarding houses (not including hotels and other rooming accommodations primarily for transients and overnight guests).

The construction of dormitories and other group housing facilities by educational institutions or public organizations to provide accommodations for veterans or World War II or members of the Armed Forces

Additions, alterations or repairs to a building where 50% or more of the floor area involved in the proposed additions, alterations or repairs will be used for housing accommodations of the kinds described above.

(ii) All applications for priorities assistance under Priorities Regulation 28 are under the jurisdiction of the Civilian Production Administration and should be filed as indicated in that regulation. Applications for authorization under VHP-1 which involve construction, additions, alterations and repairs not covered by subdivision (i) above, or excepted from that paragraph, are not covered by Priorities Regulation 33 and are under the jurisdiction of the Civilian Production Administration. These include the following:

Military housing.

Institutional dormitories except those for veterans described above.

Summer or winter camps.

Hotels and tourist cabins designed primarily to accommodate transients and overnight guests.

Additions, alterations or repairs to a building where less than 50% of the floor area involved in the proposed additions, alterations or repairs will be used for housing accommodations of the kinds described in sub-paragraph (i) above.

If an application covered by this regulation involves construction of which more than 25% is non-residential in the case of applications for 1-family or 2-family dwellings or more than 15% in the case of other applications, a recommendation will be obtained from the Civilian Production Administration as to the essentiality of the non-residential portion of the construction.

(b) Applications. (1) Applications for authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 or for priorities assistance under this regulation or both may be made by the following:

(i) A veteran of World War II or a member of the Armed Forces who wishes to build, alter or repair a house for his own occupancy. A proposed sales price (except in cases of farmhouses) must be stated, if the application covers the construction of a house, to be applicable in case of sale of the house.

(ii) A person who wishes to build, complete or convert moderate or low-cost dwelling accommodations (either by new construction or by alterations or conversion resulting in the creation of an additional unit) to which veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces will be given preference in selling or renting. The maximum sales price for applications of this sort may not exceed $10,000 for a one-family dwelling or $17,000 for a two-family dwelling. The maximum shelter rent may not exceed $80 a month for each dwelling unit, except for conversion units for which rent need not be specified under paragraphs (g) (3) (i) and (g) (4) (i). Priorities assistance will not be granted except where at least 75% of the floor space in the case of 1 family or 2 family houses is devoted to residential purposes, or where at least 85% of the floor space is devoted to residential purposes, in the case of other dwellings. However, authorization under Order VHP-1 without priorities assistance may be granted in other cases.

(iii) A person who wishes priorities assistance to complete dwelling accommodations under construction on March 26, 1946 (and therefore exempt under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1), which cannot come within paragraph (b) (1) (ii) either because it will be impracticable because of commitments made or construction done to sell or rent them within the specified amounts or to give the initial preference to veterans or members of the Armed Forces called for by that paragraph. The governmental agency processing the application may waive the requirements stated in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) where appropriate in such cases. Except in unusual circumstances, applications of this sort will not be approved if the proposed sales price is over $15,000 or if the proposed shelter rent is over $120 a month.

(iv) A person who wishes to reconstruct or repair dwelling accommodations destroyed or damaged by fire, flood, tornado or other similar disaster, where the reconstruction or repair is necessary to eliminate hardship. If the proposed work involves rebuilding more than half of the building, maximum sales prices or rents must be given, and except where this would result in great hardship, these must be limited to $10,000 and $80 a month respectively.

(v) A person who wishes to make repairs or alterations to dwelling accommodations in order to maintain them in a habitable condition or to return them to a habitable condition or to provide space for additional persons. Authorizations will be given where necessary under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, but no priorities assistance will be granted except for repairs necessary to return the dwelling to a habitable condition if it has been vacant for at least six months for lack of repairs.

(vi) A person who wishes to construct, repair or alter dwelling accommodations, where the construction or repairs are necessary to increase or maintain the production of a scarce material or product. Housing accommodations requested under this paragraph will be approved only on the recommendation of the Civilian Production Administration. Sales prices or rents must be stated. The maximum sales price for applications of this sort may not exceed $10,000 for a single family or $17,000 for a two-family dwelling. The maximum shelter rent may not exceed $80 a month for the dwelling or any apartment in it.

(viii) An educational institution or a public organization which wishes to construct, repair or alter a dormitory or other group housing facility for veterans or members of the Armed Forces. The application will not be approved if the maximum shelter rent proposed is more than the amount charged by the builder for similar accommodations in its other facilities.

(2) Applications under this regulation should be made on Form CPA-4386. Applications covering dwelling accommodations on a farm should be filed with the appropriate County Agricultural Conservation Committee. Applications by educational institutions or public organizations should be filed with the appropriate Regional Office of the Federal Public Housing Authority. Other applications under this regulation should be filed with the appropriate State or District Office of the Federal Housing Administration. Applications should not be filed unless the construction is already under way (in the case of construction started before the issuance of Veterans' Housing Program Order 1) or unless the builder plans to start actual construction within 90 days of the approval of the CPA-4386 (the priorities assistance and authorization under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 will expire, and rated orders already placed must be unrated unless construction has started within 90 days of the approval of the CPA-4386 or unless an extension has been obtained from the agency which approved the CPA-4386). The application should not be filed unless the builder has already obtained effective control of the land involved, and gives evidence of readiness to start within 90 days (for example, by getting necessary building permits, getting assurance of financing, making arrangements for utilities and the like). The builder must also state the proposed sales prices or rents for the accommodations, where these are required.

(c) If the application satisfies the requirements indicated in paragraph (b) and any applicable regulations of the National Housing Agency, if the proposed accommodations meet the standards as to space, accommodations and the like which are customary in the community for year-round occupancy, if the proposed sales prices or rents (where required) are reasonably related to the proposed accommodations, and if the available supply of building materials reserved for the program or for the appropriate part of the program has not been fully committed, the application may be approved. One copy of the application will be returned to the builder, bearing a project serial number. A placard or placards will also be sent to the builder, stating that the housing accommodations are being built under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program.

(1) If the application covers the construction of accommodations to be rented or sold to veterans or members of the Armed Forces under paragraph (b) (1) (ii) or paragraph (b) (1) (viii), the placard will contain a statement to this effect and will contain spaces for the maximum sales price or rent and the project serial number. The builder must insert in the placard or placards clearly, legibly and permanently the project serial number and the appropriate rent and sales price, not in excess of those specified in the application as approved. The builder must set up a placard in front of each separate residential building on the project site in a conspicuous location within 5 days after the time construction has started (as defined in paragraph (d) (4), and must keep the placard there until completion of the building, and, unless all the accommodations in the building have been sold or rented to veterans or members of the Armed Forces in accordance with paragraph (h), for 30 days afterwards.

(2) If the application is not based on paragraph (b) (1) (ii) or paragraph (b) (1) (viii), the placard will contain a space for the project serial number which must be inserted by the builder. This placard must be set up in front of the building in a conspicuous location within 5 days after construction has started (as defined in paragraph (d) (4)), or after receipt of the placard in case of an application under (b) (1) (iii), and must be kept there until the work is completed.

(d) Use and effect of HH ratings. (1) The HH rating assigned for a project may be used only to get materials of the kinds listed on Schedule A of this regulation which are required for the project. The rating may be applied to a purchase order only by placing on the order the following certificate (the certificates set forth in Priorities Regulations 3 and 7 may not be substituted for this certificate):

Project Serial Number ------
Rating: HH

I certify to the Civilian Production Administration that the materials covered by this order will be used only in a housing project being built under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program at ---------- (give location of project), and that I will comply with the limitations on sales prices or rents and the preference to veterans provided in Priorities Regulation 33 and my approved application.

Builder

NOTE: If the application on Form CPA-4386 is not based on paragraph (b) (1) (ii) or paragraph (b) (1) (viii) and the placard described in paragraph (c) (2) above is sent to the applicant, he need only use the part of the certificate ending with the location of the project.

(2) The HH rating may be used to get materials by the builder, or by contractors or sub-contractors doing all or any part of the construction work for the builder. Contractors and sub-contractors using the rating must observe all provisions of this paragraph (d) applying to the use of HH ratings by builders. The builder must not use the rating or give others the right to use it before his application is approved. A contractor or sub-contractor may not use it or give others the right to use it unless he has received a statement in substantially the following form from a person who is himself authorized to use the rating (when a contractor or sub-contractor uses the HH rating under this provision, he need only use the part of the certificate in paragraph (d) (1) ending with the location of the project):

Veterans' Emergency Housing Program
Project Serial #------
Rating HH

You are hereby authorized to use the HH rating to get materials of the kinds listed on Schedule A of Priorities Regulation 33 which are required for the project. Your use of this rating is subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 33.

Builder

(3) The preference rating assigned may be used only to get the minimum quantities of the materials on Schedule A which are needed for the project. The builder must not specify delivery dates on purchase orders for rated materials more than 30 days before the time they are to be incorporated in the project. This provision applies to materials ordered with an HH rating, instead of the usual rule in Priorities Regulation 32. Furthermore, the builder must not place rated purchase orders for materials in which delivery is specified later than during the third full calendar month after the time when the purchase order is placed. In accordance with Priorities Regulation 1, materials obtained by using the HH rating must, if possible, be used in the construction of the project.

(4) The right to use the HH rating for a project expires 90 days after the issuance of the rating, unless the builder has begun construction on the project by physically incorporating at the site of the project materials which will be an integral part of the construction. If the builder has not begun construction within this time, he must unrate all orders for materials for the project to which he has applied the HH rating. If the application covers a number of different buildings, the right to use the rating for materials going into any individual building expires unless that particular building has been started within the 90 day period. However, before the expiration of the 90 day period, he may apply to the Federal Housing Administration for an extension of the starting date, showing why he was unable to begin construction in accordance with his original application and giving his revised starting date. Unless the request for an extension is denied, he need not unrate his orders but he must postpone the delivery dates so as to comply with paragraph (d) (2).

(5) [Deleted Apr. 12, 1946.]

(e) Construction of the project. A builder who constructs, converts, alters or repairs housing accommodations under this regulation must do the work in accordance with the description given in the application, except where he has obtained written approval for a change from the agency which approved the original application.

(f) Reports. All persons affected by this regulation shall file such reports as may be requested by the CPA, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(g) Maximum sales prices and rents—(1) General. The restrictions on sales prices and rents contained in this paragraph (g) must be observed so long as this regulation remains in effect. They apply to dwellings of the kinds described below when built or converted under this regulation. Approval of a proposed sales price or rent should be considered merely as a limit upon the price or rent to be charged. It should not be considered as a statement that the sales price or rent represents the value of the dwelling or the apartment for other purposes. In the case of remodelling or rehabilitation, the Office of Price Administration may reduce the maximum rent specified in the application, unless prior approval of the rent has been obtained from that agency.

(2) One-family dwellings. (i) An application to build or convert a one-family dwelling (a building designed for occupancy by one family and to be occupied, rented or sold as a unit, including a detached or semi-detached house or a row house but not including an apartment house or a two family "one-over-one" house) must contain a statement of the proposed maximum sales price, whether or not the builder proposes to sell the building except under the conditions described in paragraph (b) (1) (iv), or (b) (1) (vii). If the builder proposes to rent the building the application must also contain a statement of the proposed maximum rent and maximum shelter rent.

(ii) A builder must not sell a one-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation, including the land and all improvements (including garage if provided), for more than the maximum sales price specified in the application, as approved, including within this sales price the amount of any brokerage fees or commissions paid in connection with the sale, whether paid by the builder or by the purchaser.

(iii) No other person shall sell a one-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation, including the land and all improvements, for more than the maximum sales price specified in the application as approved, plus the amount of any normal and customary brokerage fees or commissions actually paid for services which have been rendered in connection with the sale being made, whether paid by the seller or the purchaser, plus normal and customary brokerage fees actually paid for services rendered in connection with previous sales of the dwelling (after the sale by the builder) whether paid by previous sellers or purchasers.

(iv) No person shall rent a one-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation for more than the maximum specified in the application as approved. If no rent is specified in the application, the person wishing to rent the dwelling may request the Federal Housing Administration to set a rent on the basis of information given in the original application and any supplemental information filed, and no person shall rent the dwelling for more than the amount set. A rent of more than $80 a month will not be approved except as a result of an appeal showing that unusual hardship would result.

(3) Two-family dwellings. (i) An application for a two-family dwelling (a building designed for occupancy by two families which will be sold as a unit, not including semi-detached or row houses covered by paragraph (g) (2)) must contain statements of both the proposed maximum sales price for the entire dwelling and the proposed maximum rent and maximum shelter rent for each apartment in the dwelling, whether the builder proposes to sell the dwelling or rent it or the apartments in it. However, if a person wishes to convert a one-family dwelling to a two-family dwelling and he or a continuing tenant is going to occupy part of the dwelling himself, he need not specify a proposed maximum sales price for the entire dwelling nor need he specify a proposed maximum shelter rent for the part of the dwelling he or a continuing tenant is to occupy.

(ii) A builder must not sell a two-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation, including land and all improvements (including garage if provided), for more than the maximum sales price specified in the application, as approved, including within this sales price the amount of any brokerage fees or commissions paid in connection with the sale, whether paid by the builder or the purchaser.

(iii) No other person shall sell a two-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation, including the land and all improvements, for more than the maximum sales price specified in the application as approved, plus the amount of any normal and customary brokerage fees or commissions actually paid for services which have been rendered in connection with the sale being made, whether paid by the seller or the purchaser, plus brokerage fees actually paid for services rendered in connection with previous sales of the dwelling (after the sale by the builder), whether paid by previous sellers or purchasers.

(iv) No person shall rent an apartment in a two-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation for more than the maximum rent specified for the apartment in the application as approved.

(4) Multiple-family dwellings. (i) An application for a multiple-family dwelling (a building containing three or more separate living accommodations for three or more families) must contain a statement of the proposed maximum rent and the proposed maximum shelter rent for each apartment or for each group of apartments having the same maximum rents However, if a person wishes to convert a one or two-family dwelling to a multiple-family dwelling and he or a continuing tenant is going to occupy part of the dwelling himself, he need not specify a proposed maximum shelter rent for the part of the dwelling he or a continuing tenant is to occupy.

(ii) No person shall rent an apartment in a multiple-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation for more than the maximum rent specified for the apartment in the application as approved.

(5) Dormitories and group housing facilities. (i) An application by an educational institution or public organization for a dormitory or group housing facility must contain a statement of the maximum shelter rent to be charged to each occupant.

(ii) As long as this regulation remains in effect, no person (whether the builder or any other person) shall rent accommodations in a dormitory or other group housing facility built under this regulation for more than the maximum shelter rent specified in the application as approved.

(6) Definition of maximum rent and maximum shelter rent. "Maximum rent" means the total consideration paid by the tenant for the accommodations including charges paid by the tenant for tenant services specified on the application and including charges paid by the tenant for garage as specified on the application, but excluding charges covering the actual cost on a pro rata basis for gas and electricity for the tenant's domestic purposes when the application specifies that such charges will be made. "Maximum shelter rent" means the maximum rent, less charges for tenant services and garage. The total charge for tenant services will not be approved if more than $3 per room per month. The charge for garage will not be approved if more than $10 per month and will be allowed only for multiple-family dwellings.

(7) Requests for increases in sales prices and rents by builders. A builder may apply to the Federal Housing Administration for an increase in the sales price or rent specified in the application before the house is sold (i. e. before title has passed) or initially rented. The application will not be approved unless he can show that he has incurred or will incur additional or increased costs in the construction over which he had, or has, no control, or if he can show that he will incur additional or increased costs in the operation of rented accommodations over which he has no control, and that these increased or additional costs will make it impracticable for him to sell or rent at the price or rent specified in the application. No increase in sales price or rent will be granted in excess of the increase in construction cost, or a proper proportion of it, or the increase in operating cost, as the case may be. However, no increase in sales price to an amount more than $10,000 (or $17,000 in the case of a two-family dwelling) will be granted and no increase in shelter rent to more than $80 a month will be granted except on appeal where unusual hardship would result.

(8) Requests for increases in sales prices or rents by subsequent owners. An owner of a dwelling built under this regulation, other than the builder, may apply to the Federal Housing Administration for an increase in the sales price or rent specified in the application if the subsequent owner has made improvements to the dwelling which would warrant an increase. No increase will be granted in excess of the cost of construction of the improvement, or a proper proportion of it in the case of a requested increase in rents. However, no increase in sales price to an amount more than $10,000 (or $17,000 in the case of a two-family dwelling) will be granted and no increase in shelter rent to more than $80 a month will be granted, except on appeal where unusual hardship would result. If an increase in rent is needed because of subsequent improvements, and the accommodations have previously been rented and are in a Defense Rental Area established by the Office of Price Administration, the owner should apply to the Area Rent Office of the Office of Price Administration for an increase (or in the District of Columbia to the Office of Administrator of Rent Control for the District of Columbia). If an increase is granted, one copy of the instrument granting the increase must be filed with the appropriate office of the Federal Housing Administration. Upon the filing of this copy with the Federal Housing Administration, the new rent granted becomes the maximum shelter rent under this regulation. (Note: Under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1 it may be necessary to get authorization to make these alterations.)

(h) Preferences for veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces—(1) General. This paragraph tells how preferences will be given under this regulation to veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces as long as this regulation remains in effect. As used in this regulation, "veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces" (sometimes referred to in this regulation as "veterans" or as "veterans of World War II") include the following: (i) A person who has been on active service in the U. S. Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Marine Corps or in the U. S. Merchant Marine during World War II (i. e., on or after September 16, 1940) and who was discharged or released under condtions other than dishonorable; (ii) a person who is serving in the U. S. Army, Navy, Coast Guard, Marine Corps or in the U. S. Merchant Marine; (iii) the spouse of a member of the Armed Forces who died in service during World War II or the spouse of a deceased veteran of World War II, if the spouse is living with a child or children of the deceased; or (iv) a citizen of the United States who served in the Armed Forces of an allied nation during World War II. Although the preference for veterans and members of the Armed Forces lasts during construction and for 30 days after completion, or for 30 days at the time of a later sale or rental, the restrictions of paragraph (g) on sales prices and rents continues as long as this regulation remains in effect. The preferences for veterans and members of the Armed Forces provided by this paragraph (h) do not apply to sales in the course of judicial proceedings. Sales subsequent to such judicial sales, however, are subject to the provisions of this paragraph. The provisions of paragraph (h) do not apply to dwellings for which neither a maximum sales price nor a maximum rent is established under this regulation and do not apply to dwellings approved on applications under (b) (1) (vi) or to the initial occupancy of a dwelling or an apartment in it approved under this regulation for the occupancy of the applicant or the continued occupancy of his tenant.

(2) One-family dwellings. (i) A builder who has built or converted a one-family dwelling under this regulation must, during construction and for 30 days after completion, publicly offer it for sale or for rent at or below the maximum sales price or the maximum rent specified in the application as approved to veterans of World War II or members of the Armed Forces for their own occupancy.

(ii) If a one-family dwelling built under this regulation is being offered for sale, the owner (whether the builder or any subsequent purchaser) must not sell or otherwise dispose of it to any person other than a veteran of World War II unless he has publicly offered it for sale to such veterans for at least 30 days (or during construction and for 30 days afterwards in the case of the builder) at or below the maximum sales price.

(iii) If a one-family dwelling built under this regulation is being offered for rent, the owner (whether the builder or any subsequent purchaser) must not rent it to any person other than a veteran of World War II unless he has publicly offered it for rent to such veterans for at least 30 days (or during construction and for 30 days afterwards in the case of the builder) at or below the maximum rent.

(3) Two-family dwellings. (i) A builder who has built or converted a two-family dwelling under this regulation must, during construction and for 30 days afterwards, publicly offer it for sale or the apartments in it for rent at or below the maximum sales price or the maximum rent specified in the application, as approved, to veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces for their own occupancy.

(ii) If a two-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation is being offered for sale, the owner, whether the builder or subsequent purchaser, must not sell or otherwise dispose of it to any other person than a veteran of World War II unless he has publicly offered it for sale to such veterans for at least 30 days (or during construction and for 30 days afterwards in the case of the builder) at or below the maximum sales price.

(iii) If an apartment in a two-family dwelling built or converted under this regulation is being offered for rent, the person offering it for rent must not rent it to any person other than a veteran of World War II unless he has publicly offered it for rent to such veterans for at least 30 days (or during construction and for 30 days afterwards in the case of the builder) at or below the maximum rent specified for the apartment in the application as approved.

(4) Multiple-family dwellings. (i) A builder who has built or converted a multiple-family dwelling under this regulation must, during construction and for 30 days after completion, publicly offer the apartments in it for rent to veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces for their own occupancy at or below the maximum rent given in the application as approved.

(ii) As long as this regulation remains in effect, no other person shall rent an apartment in a multiple-family dwelling built under this regulation to any person other than a veteran of World War II unless he has publicly offered the apartment for rent to such veterans for at least 30 days (or during construction and for 30 days after completion) at or below the maximum rent specified in the application as approved to veterans of World War II or members of the Armed Forces for their own occupancy.

(5) Dormitories and group housing facilities. A builder who has built or converted a dormitory or other group housing facility under this regulation must make the accommodations available exclusively for veterans of World War II and members of the Armed Forces otherwise eligible to occupy the accommodations, except that if an educational institution builds a dormitory under this program it may make available to non-veterans 40% of the accommodations in the dormitory if it makes available to veterans of World War II an equivalent number of similar or better accommodations in other dormitories at rents not larger than the rents specified in the application as approved.

(6) [Deleted Apr. 12, 1946]

(i) Notices in advertisements and deeds. (1) If the placard described in paragraph (c) (1) is sent to the applicant, as long as this regulation remains in effect a builder who has used the HH rating to get materials for a dwelling, or who could not, under Veterans' Housing Program Order 1, have built or converted the dwelling without approval under this regulation, and every other person who has acquired title to such a dwelling (whether completed or not) must include a statement in substantially the following form in any deed, conveyance or other instrument by which the dwelling is sold, transferred or mortgaged to any other person:

> The building on the premises hereby conveyed was built (converted) under Priorities Regulation 33 (Builder's Serial No. —). Under that regulation a limit is placed on either the sales price or the rent for the premises or both and preferences are given to veterans of World War II or members of the Armed Forces in selling or renting. As long as that regulation remains in effect, any violation of these restrictions by the grantee or by any subsequent purchaser will subject him to the penalties provided by law. The above is inserted only to give notice of the provisions of Priorities Regulation 33 and neither the insertion of the above nor the regulation is intended to affect the validity of the interest hereby conveyed.

(2) If the placard described in paragraph (c) (1) is sent to the applicant, as long as this regulation remains in effect the builder and every subsequent owner, and their agents and brokers, must include a statement in substantially the following form in any advertisement printed or published in which accommodations built under Priorities Regulation 33 are offered for sale or for rent:

> This house (apartment) is being (was) built under the Veterans' Emergency Housing Program for sale (for rent) at or below $---------- (insert maximum sales price or rent). It is offered for sale (for rent) only to veterans of World War II or members of the Armed Forces during construction and until 30 days after completion (for the next 30 days in the case of sale or rent after initial occupancy).

(j) Transfer of ratings forbidden. No person to whom an HH rating has been assigned shall transfer the rating to any other person (as distinguished from applying the rating to purchase orders) and any transfer attempted is void. If for any reason a builder wishes to abandon a project and another builder wishes to continue with the project, the new builder should apply to the appropriate FHA office, attaching to his application a letter from the former builder or the representatives of the former builder joining in the request for the assignment of ratings to the new builder.

(k) Appeals. Any person affected by this regulation or a direction to it who considers that compliance with its provisions would result in an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may appeal for relief. An appeal from any provision of this regulation except paragraph (d) should be filed with the appropriate local office of the Federal Housing Administration or other agency with which applications may be filed under this regulation, and the appeal shall be forwarded to the Washington office of that agency for consideration together with any recommendations made by the local office. An appeal from paragraph (d) of this regulation or a direction to this regulation, unless the direction expressly states otherwise, should be filed by letter in duplicate addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Direction —— to PR–33.

(l) Amendments and supplemental applications. A builder may apply to the agency which approved his application for an amendment to it. PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

APPAREL AND MATERIALS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Article IV is added to Supplementary Regulation 14E to read as follows:

ARTICLE IV—ADJUSTED MAXIMUM PRICES FOR SPECIFIED MANUFACTURED ITEMS

SEC. 4.1 Adjusted maximum prices for specified manufactured items—(a) What this section does. This section provides a method for the adjustment of manufacturers' ceiling prices for specified commodities subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation by the addition of certain labor and material costs increases to such ceiling prices.

(b) Scope of this section—(1) What commodities are covered. This section applies to a sale of a commodity only if both of the following two tests are met:

(i) The commodity falls within a group which is listed in Appendix A; and

(ii) The ceiling price for a sale of the commodity to a purchaser of the same class is established under § 1499.2 (a) (1) [2] of the General Maximum Price Regulation.[3]

Example 1. During March 1942, a manufacturer delivered Style 543 nurses uniforms at $18.00 per dozen. He now produces Style 642 nurses uniforms which cannot be priced under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the GMPR since it is not "the same" as any nurses uniforms which he delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 but can be priced under § 1499.2 (a) (2) of the GMPR since it is "similar" to his Style 543. Therefore, although he may establish a ceiling price of $18.00 per dozen for his Style 642 under the GMPR since it is "similar" to his Style 543 which he delivered in March 1942, he may not adjust his $18.00 ceiling price for Style 642 under this section since it does not meet the second test set forth above.

Example 2. During March 1942, a manufacturer delivered mechanics' aprons but neither delivered nor offered for delivery butchers' aprons. In August of 1943, he began to produce and sell butchers' aprons whose ceiling price he established under § 1499.2 (b) of the GMPR by reference to a "similar" butchers' apron delivered during March 1942 by his most closely competitive seller of the same class. He may not adjust his ceiling price for his butchers' aprons under this section since the ceiling price for his butchers' aprons are not established under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the GMPR.

Example 3. During March 1942, a manufacturer delivered Style 765 doctors' gowns to jobbers at $17.50 per dozen. He now wishes to sell doctors' gowns identical to his Style 765 to jobbers. Under this section, he may adjust his ceiling price of $17.50 per dozen for these doctors' gowns.

(2) What sales are covered. This section covers all manufacturers' sales of the commodities described in (1) above.

A "manufacturers' sale" is any sale of a commodity by the person who fabricated or processed the commodity or for whom it was fabricated or processed by a contractor or agent from basic materials owned or otherwise furnished by the principal. Manufacturers' sales includes sales to ultimate consumers, industrial, commercial and institutional users, as well as to persons who resell.

(c) How to calculate permitted cost increases. A seller may adjust his ceiling price in accordance with the instructions in paragraph (d) below, by adding the cost increases described in this paragraph.

(1) Material cost increases. Increases in the cost of each principal material consumed in manufacturing a commodity covered by this section may be added to the ceiling price.

NOTE: The term "principal material" is given a special meaning. As used here "principal material" means all fabrics used in the commodity which are identical in construction to the fabrics used in the body of the commodity. It also includes fabrics used in the lining and pocketing. It does not include thread, buttons, fasteners, zippers, pads, shields, elastic or any separate fabrics or other materials used for trimmings or decoration or embroidery (e. g. piping, braid, bindings, epaulets, emblems, bows, etc.). A separate fabric is a fabric which is not identical in construction to the fabric used in the body of the garment.

(i) When the principal material falls within a group listed in Appendix B. In the case of any principal material which falls within a group listed in Appendix B, the seller determines the permitted cost increases for that principal material as follows:

[2] The ceiling price of a commodity may be established by a seller under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the GMPR only if it is "the same" as a commodity which the seller delivered during March 1942 or offered for delivery during that month.

In general there are two cases in which two commodities will be considered the "same". (1) The usual case is where there is a physical identity of the two items (including construction of materials, finish, weight, size, color, physical outline, workmanship etc.) and anyone examining them objectively would have no doubt that they were identical. (2) Depending largely upon trade practice and consumer acceptance, two commodities which vary slightly in minute physical detail may also be "the same" under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the GMPR if all four of the following conditions are met: (a) All basic elements of the two commodities are identical; (b) Both commodities must be made from the same constructions of materials; (c) Both commodities must be regarded as identical by the trade; (d) In actual practice, both commodities, when sold by the same seller, must have been invariably sold at the same price under the same conditions.

Sellers may apply to OPA for official interpretations in particular cases.

Step 1. Find the number of yards of that principal material consumed in manufacturing the commodity (per dozen or each).

Step 2. Multiply the number of yards of that principal material as found in Step 1 by the cost increase (in dollars and cents) listed in Column 2 of Appendix B for that material. This amount is the permitted cost increase for that principal material.

(ii) When the principal material does not fall within a group listed in Appendix B. In the case of any principal material which does not fall within a group listed in Appendix B,[3a] the seller determines the permitted cost increase for that principal material as follows:

Step 1. Find the base period average net cost per yard of that principal material as shown in all invoices from the seller's suppliers of that principal material bearing dates from January 1, 1942 to March 31, 1942.

Step 2. Find the current average net cost per yard of that principal material as shown on all invoices from the seller's suppliers of that principal material bearing dates from March 15, 1946 to June 13, 1946.

NOTE: As used here, "net cost" means the amount paid to the supplier for the material. In the event that the material is purchased in the greige, the net cost of finishing shall be included by the seller in calculating the "net cost" of material. Incoming transportation charges for shipment of the material by the supplier shall also be included in "net cost" of materials if paid by you. Average "net cost" is determined by totalling all "net costs" (as calculated above) for the particular material shown on all invoices for the specified period and dividing this total by the number of yards shown on all invoices. In finding "average net cost", any differences in width of fabric should be allowed for, so that both period average net cost and current average net cost are on an equivalent basis. In making the calculations in Step 1 and Step 2 above no material cost may be included at an amount higher than the legal ceiling price.

Step 3. Subtract the amount found in Step 1 from the amount found in Step 2.

Step 4. Calculate the amount which represents 90% of the figure found in Step 3. This amount is the permitted cost increase per yard for that principal material.

Step 5. Find the number of yards of that principal material used in manufacturing the commodity (per dozen or each).

Step 6. Multiply the number of yards found in Step 5 by the amount found in Step 4. This figure is the permitted cost increase for that principal material.

(2) Direct labor cost increases. A portion of the legal increases since January 1, 1942 in the "direct labor" cost of producing a commodity covered by this section may be added to the ceiling price. These increases must be based on "legal wage rates" as defined in paragraph (f) below. "Direct labor" includes only operations performed directly on the finished piece goods and trimmings which are necessary to make it into a finished end product covered by this section.[4] It does not include maintenance, supervisory or administrative labor or other overhead or make-up and overtime payments.

This increase in "direct labor" may be found as follows:[4]

(i) Where labor is paid on a "piecework" basis, subtract the piece rate paid by the seller (or his contractor) in January 1942 for each direct labor operation from the current legal piece rate for the same operation. 90% of the sum of the amounts so found for all operations on the commodity is the permitted increase in piece rate direct labor on the commodity.

(ii) Where labor is paid on a "time" basis (hourly, daily, weekly or monthly rate), find the length of time consumed in performance of each direct labor operation and subtract the amount paid by the seller (or his contractor) in January 1942 for such period of time from the current legal wage paid for the same period of time. 90% of the sum of the amounts found for all operations on the commodity is the permitted increase in time rate direct labor on the commodity.

(d) Adjustment of maximum prices. On and after June 13, 1946, any commodity covered by this section may be sold or delivered at the adjusted maximum price described in this paragraph. The adjusted maximum price under this paragraph for a sale to any class of purchasers is found as follows:

Step 1. Determine the maximum price of the commodity (per dozen or each) under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the General Maximum Price Regulation for a sale to a purchaser of the same class.

Step 2. Find the amount of the permitted material cost increase for each principal material consumed in manufacturing the commodity (per dozen or each) in accordance with the instructions in (c) (1) (i) or (c) (1) (ii) above, whichever is appropriate.

Step 3. Add together the amounts found in Step 2 for all principal materials consumed in manufacturing the commodity (per dozen or each).

Step 4. Determine the amount (in dollars and cents) of the permitted "direct labor" cost increase (as described in paragraph (c) (2) above) of the commodity (per dozen or each).

Step 5. Add the amounts found in Step 3 and Step 4 to the maximum price found in Step 1. This total is the adjusted maximum price of the commodity to that class of purchasers.

NOTE: If the seller uses Step 1 a gross maximum price (i. e. before all discounts, allowances and other price differentials to that class) the adjusted maximum price found in Step 5 is subject to the seller's customary discounts, allowances and other price differentials. If the seller uses in Step 1 a net maximum price (i. e., after all discounts offered) the adjusted maximum price found in Step 5 is a net maximum price which may be converted to reflect customary discounts.

(e) Records and reports. — (1) Records. The records required by this paragraph must be maintained for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

Every person who makes a sale covered by this section must prepare and maintain the records required by the General Maximum Price Regulation, except that the adjusted maximum price established under this section shall be substituted for the original maximum price in all records of deliveries made or maximum prices established after the effective date of this order.

In addition, he must keep:

(i) In the case of all principal materials for which he calculates his permitted material cost increases under paragraph (c) (1) (ii) above, all invoices for such materials bearing dates between January 1, 1942 and March 31, 1942 and those bearing dates between March 15, 1946 and June 13, 1946.

(ii) A copy of the report required to be filed with OPA under (2) below.

(2) Reports. No person may deliver any commodity at an adjusted maximum price established under this section until he has received approval of the adjusted maximum price from the OPA, but the adjusted maximum reported to OPA by the seller shall be deemed approved on the twentieth day after he has mailed to the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the report required by this paragraph (and all additional information which may be requested by the OPA) unless within that time, the OPA notifies the seller that his reported adjusted maximum price has been disapproved. Under this paragraph, the seller must file two copies of a report signed by an owner, officer or principal and containing the following information:

(i) Date of report.

(ii) Seller's name and business address.

(iii) A list of the commodities whose maximum prices he wishes to adjust under this section, showing each style of each commodity separately.

(iv) A description of each style listed in (iii) including style number and specifications and number of yards (per dozen or each) of each principal material consumed in manufacturing of the commodity.

(v) An identification by style or lot number or other method of each style of the commodities which the seller delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942 and which is the same as a particular style listed in (iii).

(vi) The maximum price under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the General Maximum Price Regulation to each class of purchaser to whom the seller is selling each style listed in (iii).

(vii) 90% of the amount (in dollars and cents) by which the cost of direct labor (at legal wage rates) on each style (per dozen or each) listed in (iii) has increased between January 1, 1942, and the date of this report. (If the contractor's labor is used, so specify.)

(viii) The amount of material cost increases (per dozen or each) permitted by this section for each style listed in (iii). Also specify for each principal material used in each style whether the material cost increase has been calculated under paragraph (c) (1) (i) or (c) (1) (ii).

(ix) Adjusted maximum price under this section of each style listed in (iii).

(x) A list of all legal wage increases made by the seller to his employees between January 1, 1942, and the date of the report, and, as to each such increase, the date such increase went into effect, and the authority under which it was made (e. g. Order of National or Regional War Labor Board or Wage Stabilization Board, etc.).

(3) Form of report. The report required by this section must be made in the following form:

APPENDIX A—COMMODITY GROUPS

NOTE: Where a commodity listed below contains a price limitation as part of its description, the ceiling price for such commodity may be adjusted under this section only if the net ceiling price, established under § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, is at or below the price limitation specified for that commodity below.

1. The following items of washable service apparel made of cotton body material:

(a) Uniforms designed specially for nurses (including caps, collars, cuffs, aprons and bibs);

(b) Uniform dresses, gowns, smocks, frocks, coats, jackets and men's pants (but not including pants covered by RMPR 208) designed specially for doctors, dentists and internes, and hospital gowns for patients;

(c) Uniform dresses, gowns, smocks, frocks, coats, jackets, vests, aprons, caps (including shop caps) and men's pants (but not including pants covered by RMPR 209) designed specially for commercial, industrial and institutional use (e. g. for druggists, barbers, bakers, chefs, hospital workers, laundry workers, commercial food handlers, beauticians, waiters, waitresses, etc.)

2. Men's and boys' corduroy pants, including knickers.

3. Playsuits and sunsuits made of cotton body material, in sizes six months to 6x only, up to $5.50 net per dozen.

APPENDIX B—MATERIAL COST INCREASES

NOTE: If a commodity is made of a material listed in Column 1 of this Appendix B for which the permitted cost increase in Column 2 is "None" then no material cost increase whatsoever is permitted to be made for that commodity under any of the provisions of this section.

[3a] Where a material is listed in Column 1 of Appendix B and the permitted cost increase specified for that material in Column 2 of Appendix B is "none" no cost increase whatsoever is permitted to be taken for that material.

[4] However, where the manufacturer of any commodity in which the principal material is wool or rayon is also the producer of the wool or rayon material, his "direct labor" under this paragraph may include all direct labor operations performed in producing the commodity.

[4] Where the manufacturer either in January 1942 or currently has paid, or is paying, different wage rates for the identical operation because the operation was, or is, performed in more than one plant or in both an inside and outside shop, he must use the following rules in computing his direct labor increase: (a) Base period rates. (1) If he had more than one inside shop in January 1942 he must use the lowest rate then paid by him. (2) If he had an inside shop and one or more outside shops in January 1942 he must use the rate paid in the inside shop. (3) If he had more than one outside shop in January 1942 and no inside shop he must use the lowest rate then paid by him. (b) Current rates. (1) If he has more than one inside shop he must use the lowest current rate now paid. (2) If he has one or more inside shops and one or more outside shops he must use the lowest current rate in his inside shops. (3) If he has more than one outside shop and no inside shop he must use the lowest current rate paid in his outside shop.

SECTION 1. What this revised supplementary order covers. (a) This revised supplementary order fixes ceiling prices for resales in substantially the same form of commodities (except food) sold by Government agencies, including contractors or subcontractors subject to Supplementary Order 94 or Supplementary Order 130, except where:

(1) The resale is subject to any of the price regulations listed in Appendix A;

(2) The resale is subject to any order issued under Supplementary Order 94 (see Appendix B for partial list of Supplementary Order 94 Orders);

(3) The resale is of a new commodity by a manufacturer who regularly manufactures or produces the same commodity;

(4) The resale is of commodities designated by the Government agency as "salvage" (as defined in section 13): Provided, That any "salvage" which is purchased as a completed commodity and resold in substantially the same form shall be subject to this supplementary order. The term "completed commodity", as used herein, shall not include component parts, semi-processed and semi-fabricated material;

(5) The resale is exempt or suspended from price control under any existing price regulation or supplementary order.

SEC. 2. Where this supplementary order applies. The provisions of this supplementary order shall be applicable in the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. How to fix maximum prices. Subject to the provisions of section 5 for cross-stream and up-stream sellers and buyers, maximum prices are determined as follows:

(a) Calculation of mark-up. (1) To fix your maximum price for any sale of a commodity governed by Maximum Price Regulation 580, Maximum Price Regulation 590, or Revised Maximum Price Regulation 330, you must first determine your category average percentage mark-up which is permitted by those regulations for the commodity you are selling.

Example. If you are a retailer and have bought some Government surplus U. S. Navy gray shirts, you would consult your base date pricing chart prepared according to the instructions in Maximum Price Regulation 580 for Category 117, Shirts. If your average percentage mark-up on cost for the category is 21%, that is the mark-up you would use for the surplus shirts.

(2) To fix your maximum price for any sale of a commodity of a class specified in Appendix C, and which commodity is not governed by any of the regulations listed in (1) above or is not listed in either Appendix A or B, you must first determine your applicable percentage mark-up from Appendix C.

(3) To fix your maximum price for any sale of any other commodity, you must first figure your percentage mark-up over net invoice cost for a comparable commodity, having the same general use, purchased by you from your normal commercial (non-government) sources of supply, which you sold to the same class of buyer during the year June 1, 1944–June 1, 1945. In figuring your percentage mark-up you must use a selling price for the comparable commodity which is no higher than your legally established maximum price. The comparable commodity must meet all of the following tests:

(i) It has been sold by you during the year June 1, 1944, to June 1, 1945, and a maximum price has been legally established;

(ii) It has been purchased by you from a regular commercial supplier and, to your knowledge, it has not been acquired directly or indirectly from the Government;

(iii) Both it and the commodity you are pricing must have the same general use and must belong to a class of commodities to which, according to your customary practice, you usually apply an approximately uniform initial percentage mark-up.

If you are selling a used commodity and did not sell a comparable used commodity in the year June 1, 1944, to June 1, 1945, you may use the mark-up on a comparable new commodity sold during such period. However, if you are selling a new commodity and did not sell a comparable new commodity in such period you may not use the mark-up on a comparable used commodity sold during such period.

Example. If the maximum price for the comparable commodity is $5.00 and the net invoice cost therefor is $4.00, you figure your percentage mark-up by dividing the margin (difference between maximum price and invoice cost) by the invoice cost as follows:

$5.00 maximum price—comparable commodity
−4.00 invoice cost
1.00 margin

$1.00 ÷ $4.00 = 25% your percentage mark-up.[1]

Example

Percentage mark-up (step 1)—25%
Unit invoice cost item being priced	$3. 50
Mark-up (25% of $3.50)	.87
	4. 37
Incoming freight ($4.00 for 100 units)	.04
Your maximum price	4. 41

If you purchased the same commodity from more than one Government or distributor source you may average the unit invoice cost by dividing the total invoice cost for the whole quantity purchased by the total quantity purchased, and you may average the unit incoming freight by dividing the total incoming freight by the total quantity purchased. However, if additional quantities of the same commodity are later purchased you must redetermine your maximum price by either of the following methods:

(1) You may fix a maximum price for each later purchase in the same manner that you originally fixed your maximum price. If you follow this method, you must keep your new stock separate from the old, where your maximum price for your new stock is different from that for the old stock. However, if both new and old stocks are sold at the same price at or below the lowest maximum price applicable to either the old or the new stock, stocks need not be kept separate.

(2) You may refigure the original maximum price by dividing the total cost of all purchases in stock by the total quantity of such purchases. You may then apply the percentage mark-up on the comparable commodity to the resulting average invoice cost for all purchases and determine your maximum price in the manner specified above.

(c) Chain stores. If the seller is a chain or has a number of selling outlets it may establish its maximum prices for each outlet separately or on the basis of central pricing, according to its lawful practice in determining maximum prices on comparable commodities.

(d) Adjustment of unit invoice cost for commodities which are broken, deteriorated, damaged, reconditioned or repaired—(1) For broken, deteriorated or damaged commodities. In fixing his maximum price under paragraph (b), the purchaser who buys directly from the Government (but not any subsequent purchaser who buys from the first purchaser) may adjust his unit invoice cost for the salable part of the quantity of the commodity purchased when part of the quantity purchased is broken, deteriorated or damaged to the extent of being unsalable, except as scrap, in the following manner:

(i) You may divide the total invoice cost (less the estimated scrap value of the portion not salable) by the quantity of commodities which you have determined as salable after inspection and segregation. The result will be your adjusted unit invoice cost. However, in the case of new commodities, the adjusted unit invoice cost must not exceed the Government ceiling price per unit; if it does, you must reduce the adjusted unit invoice cost to the Government unit ceiling price. In the case of used commodities, the adjusted unit invoice cost must not exceed one-half the Government unit ceiling price new; if it does, you must reduce the adjusted unit invoice cost to one-half the Government unit ceiling price new.[2]

Example. You have purchased "as is" 100 used metal bomb chests for $100.00 for the lot. The Government ceiling price new as furnished by the Government agency is $4.00 each. Twenty-five chests are found to be badly rusted and dented, and salable only as scrap. To obtain your adjusted unit invoice cost you may calculate the cost of the 75 salable chests as follows:

Scrap value of 25	2. 00
Cost of salable units	$98. 00

Adjusted unit cost = $98.00 ÷ 75 = $1.31

You may calculate your mark-up on $1.31 and add it to $1.31, just as though you had $1.31 for each chest.

NOTE: If the adjusted unit invoice cost exceeded $2 (½ Government ceiling price new), you would have had to reduce it to $2.

(2) For reconditioned, repaired or repackaged commodities. In fixing his maximum price under paragraph (b), the purchaser who buys directly from the Government (but not any subsequent purchaser who buys from the first purchaser), when he reconditions, repairs or repackages salable commodities, may adjust his unit invoice cost in the following manner:

(i) You may add to the total invoice cost (less the estimated scrap value of the portion not salable except as scrap), the actual cost incurred for labor and materials used in reconditioning, repairing or repackaging any of the commodities, or the price paid to a supplier for such services. You may then divide this total cost by the quantity of commodities which are salable other than as scrap. The result will be your adjusted unit invoice cost. However, in the case of new commodities the adjusted unit invoice cost must not exceed the Government ceiling price per unit; if it does, you must reduce the adjusted unit invoice cost to the Government unit ceiling price new; if it does, you must reduce the adjusted unit invoice cost to one-half the Government unit ceiling price new.[2]

If you make the adjustment provided in this subparagraph (2), you must use the percentage mark-up determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, calculated, however, on your unit invoice cost before this adjustment but added, after such calculation, to your adjusted unit invoice cost as determined hereunder.

Example. You have purchased 100 used metal bomb chests for $100. The Government ceiling price new as furnished by the Government agency is $4.00 each. Twenty-five chests are scratched and rusted, but are salable after repainting. Cost of repainting is $1.25 for paint, and $5.00 for labor. You may calculate your unit invoice cost as follows:

Cost of reconditioning 25 chests:
Labor	$5. 00
Material	1. 25
	6. 25

Adjusted unit cost—$106.25 ÷ 100 = $1.06

You may calculate your mark-up on $1.00 and add it to $1.06.

NOTE: If the adjusted unit invoice cost exceeded $2 (½ Government ceiling price new), you would have had to reduce it to $2.00.

(3) If you adjust your unit invoice cost under this paragraph (d), you must, at least five days before you offer the commodities for sale, file with the Surplus Goods Price Coordinator of the District or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration in the district or region in which you are located the following information:

(i) Your name, business address and type of business;

(ii) Description of the commodities purchased by you, and name of Government selling agency;

(iii) The Government ceiling price as furnished by the Government agency;

(iv) Quantity of broken, deteriorated or damaged commodities, if any, which are unsalable except as scrap;

(v) Quantity and total invoice cost of commodities purchased by you;

(vi) Estimated scrap value of portion not salable, if any;

(vii) Breakdown of labor and materials cost for reconditioning, repairing or repackaging, or price paid to a supplier for such services, including name and address of supplier;

(viii) Your adjusted unit invoice cost;

(4) You may not apply the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (d) where the condition of the commodity is war-

[1] You may, if you wish, figure your percentage mark-ups as "mark-ups on selling price" instead of on your net cost, but you must use the same method in figuring all percentage mark-ups and in applying all percentage mark-ups.

[2] This adjustment may not be made unless the Government selling agency has furnished to you the Government ceiling price.

ranted or guaranteed by the Government agency.

(e) Low price Government sales. If you pay to the Government or to your supplier for a new commodity a price less than one-half the Government ceiling price for such new commodity, you may apply the percentage mark-up obtained under paragraph (a) above to one-half of the Government's ceiling price new instead of the actual unit invoice cost or the unit appraisal item cost determined in accordance with Section 4 of this order. If you pay to the Government or to your supplier a price less than one-fourth the Government ceiling price new for a used commodity, you may apply the percentage mark-up obtained under paragraph (a) above to one-fourth of the Government ceiling price new instead of the actual unit invoice or the unit appraisal item cost determined in accordance with Section 4 of this order. You then add the dollar-and-cents mark-up so obtained to the actual unit invoice cost in order to get your maximum price.[4] You may then add your incoming freight.

Example. If you buy a new commodity for $1.00 for which the Government ceiling price is $10.00 and your percentage mark-up according to Section 3 (a) is 25%, you may calculate your ceiling price as follows:

Purchase price paid Government	1.00
Total	2.25
Incoming freight	.04
Your maximum (ceiling) price	$2.29

(f) Commodities same as regular stock. If the commodity which you purchased directly or indirectly from the Government is the same as a commodity, not acquired directly or indirectly from the Government, which you have currently in stock and are offering for sale, and your regular stock commodity currently available for sale has a lawfully established maximum price higher than the maximum price established under the foregoing provisions, you may sell the commodity purchased directly or indirectly from the Government at the lawfully established maximum price for the same commodity currently in stock. Similarly, if the lawfully established maximum price for the commodity you have in stock is lower than the price which would be established under the foregoing provisions, such lawfully established price must remain in effect for the commodity acquired directly or indirectly from the Government.

SEC. 4. Heterogeneous lots of commodities. If you purchase a heterogeneous lot of commodities directly or indirectly from the Government and intend to resell the lot on an individual item basis, you must place an appraisal, not to exceed your actual or estimated replacement cost, upon each item in the lot, including items whose resale is not subject to this order. Such item appraisals must bear a reasonable relationship to the relative sales values of the items. The total of the individual appraisals must not exceed your original purchase cost of the entire lot plus incoming freight. If you recondition, repair or repackage any item, the actual labor and materials cost incurred for such reconditioning, repairing or repackaging, or the price paid to a supplier for such services, may be added to the individual item appraisal. In selling individual items which are subject to this Supplementary Order from the lot, fix your maximum price in accordance with section 3 except that the unit appraisal item cost (plus the actual labor and materials cost of reconditioning, repairing or repackaging where incurred or the price paid to a supplier for such services) will be substituted for the unit invoice cost.

A record must be kept of the individual item appraisals and must be made available for inspection by any authorized agent of the Office of Price Administration.

When you resell the entire lot to one purchaser, you fix your maximum price for the entire lot by adding to the invoice cost of the lot the percentage mark-up applying to the principal class of commodities (by value) in the lot. Then add to such sum the incoming freight.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for cross-stream and up-stream sales. For the purposes of this supplementary order, the regular sequence of distribution is assumed to consist of three successive levels. These three levels are (i) sales by the Government to wholesalers, exporters, or retailers (ii) sales by wholesalers to industrial users or retailers and (iii) sales by retailers to consumers. A sale by one wholesaler to another or to an exporter, by one exporter to another, or by one retailer to another is a cross-stream sale. A sale by a retailer to a wholesaler or any other similar sale is an up-stream sale.

For the purposes of this section 5, a person is a retailer if a major portion of his sales of comparable commodities is to ultimate consumers; a person is a wholesaler if a major portion of his sales of comparable commodities is to persons other than ultimate consumers.

Maximum prices for cross-stream or up-stream sales shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the seller has a legally established practice of selling commodities comparable to those sold by the Government, to other sellers of his class, as defined herein and has legally established maximum prices to that class of buyer (that is, if he is a wholesaler and customarily sells to other wholesalers or to exporters, etc.), he may fix his maximum price in accordance with section 3: Provided, That he files with the Surplus Goods Price Coordinator of the District or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration in whose district or region he is located, a statement in duplicate supplying the following information:

(1) His name, business address, and type of business;

(2) Each type of commodity which he normally sells to other sellers at the same level of distribution;

(3) For each type of commodity listed in (2) above, the names of at least three purchasers at the same level of distribution who normally purchased from the supplier;

(4) The precise method by which he established his maximum price for sales of the comparable commodity to the class of buyers to whom he proposes to sell. For example, if you regularly sold to this class of buyer in March 1942 and the commodity is priced under the General Maximum Price Regulation, or you have an order under the General Maximum Price Regulation, you should report this as your method.

Filing of this statement will permit cross-stream sales at maximum prices determined under section 3 or 4 of only those classes of commodities which the seller has customarily sold in such channels.

(b) If the seller cannot qualify under paragraph (a), he may fix his maximum price for cross-stream sales only by splitting his mark-up with the purchaser at the same level of distribution. He does this by determining the mark-up applicable on sales to the next succeeding level of distribution (e. g. if he is a wholesaler, the mark-up applicable to the same quantity for sales to a retailer). He may then make the cross-stream sale at any price below his maximum price for a sale to a purchaser at the next succeeding level: Provided, That he gives notice to the cross-stream buyer that the buyer's maximum price for sales to the next buyer is the original cross-stream seller's maximum price. The cross-stream buyer's maximum price shall be the maximum price of the cross-stream seller determined as specified. For example, if you are a wholesaler selling to another wholesaler and your maximum price for sales to retailers is $1.00 each, you may sell to another wholesaler at, say, 90¢ if you notify the buyer as follows: "Your maximum price for sales to retailers under section 5 (b) of Supplementary Order 122 is $1.00."

(1) If any cross-stream seller fails to furnish his buyer the notice required in (b) herein, his maximum price shall be the net invoice cost of the commodity to him plus incoming freight, regardless of the other pricing provisions of this Supplementary Order 122.

(c) Any other person who proposes to make cross-stream sales or any person who proposes to make up-stream sales who cannot qualify as a regular cross-stream or up-stream seller under paragraph (a) and who does not choose to sell under paragraph (b), must request authorization of maximum prices from the nearest District or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration for cross-stream or up-stream sale. He may make application by writing a letter to the appropriate District or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, giving his name and business address, a complete description of the commodity which he proposes to sell to cross-stream or up-stream buyers, the reasons why he believes such selling would not add unnecessarily to the level of prices and the cost of distribution, his invoice cost and the mark-up which he proposes to take on the sale, and the basis for his computation of the mark-up proposed. Any such cross-stream or up-stream sale may not be made without the approval in writing from the Office of Price Administration.

(d) Any person who has purchased commodities sold by the Government from a seller other than a Government agency and who proposes to sell these commodities to an exporter for export sale shall be considered a cross-stream or up-stream seller.

(e) If any person makes a cross-stream or up-stream sale and does not qualify under paragraph (a), nor sell under paragraph (b), nor request authorization under paragraph (c), his maximum price shall be the net invoice cost of the commodity to him plus incoming freight, regardless of the other pricing provisions of this Supplementary Order 122.

SEC. 6. New sellers and sales that cannot be priced under section 3 or 4. (a) Any seller who proposes to make sales of commodities sold by the Government which cannot be priced under section 3 or 4 must file with the Regional or District Office in the region or district in which he is located, or with the National Office of the Office of Price Administration, an application to use applicable mark-ups or pricing methods for all classes of commodities and buyers to whom he expects to sell.

The application must contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the seller, and a description of his facilities for conducting a business;

(2) The date on which the business was or will be established;

(3) The name of the owners of the firm, and a statement of their financial interest in any other firm engaged in distribution of commodities;

(4) The classes of buyers to whom the firm proposes to sell, e. g., retailers, consumers, exporters;

(5) The classes of commodities which the firm proposes to sell, e. g., builders hardware, surplus army apparel, etc.;

(6) The reasons why the pricing provisions of section 3 or 4 cannot be used;

(7) His proposed pricing method for each class of commodities listed under (5) for sales to each class of buyer listed under (4) and his justification of the method proposed. He may propose the mark-ups used by a competitor if he gives the name of the competitor;

(8) The name and address of two competitors whom he regards as being most closely competitive.

If the applicant does not hear from the Office of Price Administration to the contrary within 15 days after filing his application, and if the application contained all the information required, he may use the pricing method proposed. OPA may at any time adjust his prices or pricing method non-retroactively.

NOTE: Any mark-up obtained under section 6 may be used together with all the privileges contained in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f) of section 3.

SEC. 7. Application by Government agencies for special maximum resale prices or exemptions.—(a) When Government agencies may apply. Any Government agency prior to a sale by it may apply to the OPA for special maximum prices applicable to the resales of specific lots of commodities sold by it and subject to this supplementary order or for exemption from price control of such resales.

(b) Special maximum prices to be applied for.—(1) Used commodities. In the case of used commodities, the Government agency may apply for the establishment of a maximum price for sales at retail of the commodity in Class I and II condition. If the maximum price requested for a used commodity in Class I condition is no higher than the Government ceiling price for the commodity in new condition, and if the maximum price requested for a used commodity in Class II condition is no higher than 66⅔% of the Government ceiling price for the commodity in new condition, the requested retail ceiling prices will not be disapproved by the Office of Price Administration. Where the retail ceiling price is established hereunder, all resales except sales at retail or sales to exporters shall be exempt from price control: Provided, That every seller (except a retailer), including the Government agency, gives the buyer written notice in any convenient form of the retail ceiling price when he offers the commodity for sale, and Provided further, That the invoice of sale or equivalent document furnished to the buyer by the seller states the retail ceiling price.

(i) Class I. A commodity is in Class I condition if no part is missing which is necessary to make the commodity fully useful; the commodity is in good working condition; can be used by the consumer for the purpose intended without further repair; and the commodity is clean and its appearance is good.

(ii) Class II. A commodity is in Class II condition if it is not in Class I.

(2) New commodities. In the case of new commodities, the Government agency may apply for the establishment of maximum prices for sales of the commodity at wholesale and sales at retail or sales at any other normal level of distribution. The requested maximum prices may be expressed in terms of prices at retail with specified discounts, as mark-ups over Government selling price or in any other appropriate manner. If the maximum prices requested permit generally fair and equitable percentage margins for normal levels of distribution, and if the Government selling price to wholesalers or jobbers is no higher than the Government ceiling price, the requested maximum prices will not be disapproved by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) When a requested maximum price may be deemed approved. Any maximum price requested by a Government agency in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (b) herein shall be deemed approved unless OPA gives notice to the contrary within 7 days from the date the application is filed with the Office of Price Administration.

(d) Actual notice of special resale maximum prices.—(1) Invoicing. Every reseller, except a retailer, shall furnish his buyer with an invoice of sale setting forth the maximum prices for sales at each level of distribution established under this section 7.

(2) Failure to furnish invoice. If any reseller who has been furnished the resale maximum prices as provided herein fails to furnish his buyer the information required by subparagraph (1) herein, his maximum price for the sale shall be the net invoice cost of the commodity to him plus incoming freight, regardless of the other pricing provisions of this supplementary order.

(e) Resale maximum prices applicable in absence of actual notice. In the absence of receipt of actual notice by resellers of prices established or exemptions granted pursuant to this section, the resellers shall compute their maximum resale prices in accordance with the provisions of section 3.

(f) Exemptions. Where the Government agency applies for an exemption from price control of resales of specific lots of commodities, the Office of Price Administration may grant the requested exemption from price control of the particular resales when, in its opinion, inflationary consequences will not result from the exemption because of market conditions, the use to which the commodity may be put, or the fact that the prices that may be charged will not tend to increase the cost of living or other prices.

(g) Applicability of special maximum resale prices and exemptions to resales of subsequent lots of the same commodities. Unless the Government agency otherwise requests, and subject to the foregoing provisions of this section respecting notice, special maximum resale prices established under this section for specific lots of commodities shall be applicable to resales of subsequent lots of the same commodities: Provided, That the Government agency's selling price of the subsequent lots is no higher than its selling price of the lot for which special maximum resale prices were originally established. Similarly, exemptions requested and granted under this section shall apply to resales of subsequent lots of the same commodities.

SEC. 8. Records, invoices, notification—Records. The records required by this section must be kept for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect. All such records must be kept at your place of business.

(a) Current records.—(1) Preserving invoices. You must preserve the purchase invoices which you receive for all commodities purchased from your supplier. You must keep these invoices in alphabetical, numerical, or chronological order, or according to some other recognized filing system. Upon request of any authorized agent of the Office of Price Administration, you must permit him to examine your purchase invoices for any commodities covered by this Supplementary Order, for which such request is made.

(2) "Wholesaling" or "Retailing" invoices. Every reseller must "wholesale" or "retail" his supplier's invoice. To "wholesale" or "retail" his supplier's invoice he must write on the invoice or upon a separate sheet (which must refer to the purchase invoice) one of the following, whichever is applicable: the appropriate category under Maximum Price Regulation 580, 590, or 330, the appropriate class of commodity, under Appendix C, or the name of the comparable commodity, and the percentage mark-up which this supplementary order allows. He must also show the calculations of his maximum price for the commodity sold by the Government by applying the permissible mark-up to the unit invoice cost (adjusted as permitted) of the commodity sold by the Government. Incoming freight, if added, must be shown separately. However, if the seller prices under section 3 (f) he need only write the name of the same commodity and its maximum price upon the invoice. If his price for a commodity is established under section 7, he is not required to "wholesale" or "retail" his invoice.

[4] This adjustment may not be made unless the Government selling agency has furnished to you or your supplier the Government ceiling price.

(b) Base period records. You must preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration all existing records relating to the commodities which you purchased from your normal commercial sources of supply and which you sold during the year June 1, 1944–June 1, 1945.

(c) Notification. Every reseller of commodities sold by the Government who sells to anyone except an ultimate consumer must furnish the buyer an invoice identifying the commodity and setting forth the words "Government Surplus priced under Supplementary Order 122."

(d) Marking and tagging. Any person who sells at retail commodities subject to this Supplementary Order 122 must mark the maximum prices or selling prices of each commodity by either of the methods described in sub-paragraphs (1) and (2), in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public.

(1) Marking. He may mark the maximum price or the selling price on the shelf, bin, rack, or other holder or container upon or in which the commodity is kept provided all the commodities kept on or in the shelf, bin, rack, holder or container have the same maximum price or selling price.

(2) Tagging. If he does not wish to mark the prices as described in (1), he must mark the maximum price or the selling price on each commodity by writing the price directly on the commodity or by attaching to the commodity a tag or ticket stating the maximum price or selling price.

(3) Ways to mark or tag maximum prices. If he wishes to mark or tag the maximum prices, he may do so in either of the following ways:

(i) "Ceiling price $------," or

(ii) "Our ceiling $------."

(4) How to mark or tag selling prices. If he does not wish to mark or tag the maximum prices, he must mark or tag the selling price as follows:

PART 1349—ELECTRICAL GENERATION, TRANSMISSION, CONVERSION AND DISTRIBUTION APPARATUS

[MPR 82, Amdt. 11]

WIRE AND CABLE

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 82 is amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph (1) of paragraph (a) of Section 16 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Manufacturers' prices. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (4), the maximum manufacturer's price for the sale of armored cable shall be determined pursuant to the pertinent portions of the schedule of prices set forth in Appendix D to this regulation, subject to the same price differentials in effect to purchasers of the same class on May 7, 1946. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (4), the manufacturer shall apply to the prices applicable to him, as set forth in Appendix D, all discounts (including the standard 5% cash discounts), and other conditions of sale which the manufacturer had in effect on that date. If the manufacturer was not selling armored cable on that date, he must determine his maximum prices under Section 10.

2. Subparagraph (2) of section 16 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Resellers' prices. The maximum resellers' prices for armored cable shall be determined by adding to his maximum prices in effect on June 13, 1946, to which have been applied the discounts, allowances and other deductions in effect on that date to a purchaser of the same class, the corresponding and pertinent amount listed in the column entitled "Resellers to add", in the schedule set forth in Appendix D. If the reseller was not selling armored cable on that date, he must determine his maximum prices under Section 11.

3. Subparagraph (4) of section 16 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(4) The zones set forth in Appendix D are the standard geographical shipping zones uniformly recognized in the industry. Zone adjustments which increase the net delivered prices of armored cable are not permitted, except in the case of manufacturers who, on the base date (October 15, 1941) customarily sold armored cable to chain stores, wherever located, at Zone 1 prices. In that case, the maximum prices for sales by manufacturers to chain stores, wherever located, shall be the maximum prices for sales in Zone 1, provided the sales are made to those chain stores to which such sales were customarily made on the base date.

4. Appendix D is amended to read as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 16 percent.

(2) For an article not in its line during October 1941, but which has a properly established ceiling price, in effect before the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the article's properly established ceiling price for the particular sale (exclusive of all permitted increases or adjustment charges) increased by the percentage determined in accordance with "Note 3" in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or thereafter properly established under OPA regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

SECTION 1. Purpose of this order. This order specifies a price increase factor to be used by manufacturers of articles of semi-vitreous china and pottery; and it sets forth specific pricing provisions which all sellers are to follow in calculating their maximum prices for sales of the product.

SEC. 2. Articles covered by this order. This order covers all articles of semi-vitreous china and pottery which are covered in Maximum Price Regulation No. 116, as amended.

SEC. 3. Manufacturers' maximum prices—(a) Determination of maximum prices. The maximum price for sales of any of the articles of semi-vitreous china or pottery covered by this order by a manufacturer to a purchaser for resale shall be the higher of the applicable of the following:

In the case of articles customarily sold on a pound sterling basis, the price may be increased to the price on the pound sterling price scale, which price scale, to the nearest quarter of a dollar pound sterling, equals 107 percent of the pound sterling price scale established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 116.

(b) Determination of packing charges. The maximum charge for packing for sales of any of the articles of semi-vitreous china or pottery covered by this order by a manufacturer to a purchaser for resale shall be the higher of the applicable of the following:

(i) His charge for packing for sales permitted under Maximum Price Regulation No. 116 (exclusive of any permitted increase or adjustment) increased by no more than 7 percent.

(ii) His charge for packing for sales as adjusted by any order issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices for sales at wholesale. (a) The maximum price for a sale by a wholesaler of any of the articles of semi-vitreous china or pottery covered by this order to a purchaser for resale shall be 98 percent of his supplier's invoice plus the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration. However, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for on OPA Form 620-759, with regard to how he determines his maximum resale price. These records shall be kept available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

(b) If the wholesaler cannot determine his maximum price under (a) above, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of his maximum price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. A maximum price established in this way will be in line with maximum prices established generally under this order.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices for sales at retail. (a) The maximum price for a sale by a retailer of any of the articles of semi-vitreous china or pottery covered by this order shall be 95 percent of his supplier's invoice in the case of those articles which he has purchased from a wholesaler, and 93.5 percent of his supplier's invoice in the case of those articles which he has purchased directly from the manufacturer plus the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a maximum price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

(b) If a retailer cannot determine his maximum resale price under (a) above, he shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of his maximum resale price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. A retailer's maximum price established under this section will be in line with retailers' maximum prices established generally under this order.

SEC. 6. Terms of sale. Every seller of an article covered by this order must maintain all of his terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials in effect during March 1942, or which have been subsequently properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations or orders.

A wholesaler or retailer who did not sell semi-vitreous china or pottery during March 1942, or whose discounts, allowances, terms and other conditions of sale have not been thereafter established under OPA regulations, shall allow the same cash discounts, delivery terms, allowances, and other price differentials which his closest competitor, who was distributing semi-vitreous china or pottery during March 1942, is required to allow in accordance with the provisions of this order.

A wholesaler or retailer who cannot ascertain the cash discounts, delivery terms, etc., which his nearest competitor is required to allow, shall apply to the nearest District Office of the Office of Price Administration for an order under this section, establishing the conditions to which his ceiling prices are subject. Such application may be by letter and shall state the type of business he is operating (wholesaler, retailer), when he started to sell semi-vitreous china or pottery, and the class of purchasers to whom he sells. An order will be issued under this section establishing the terms, allowances and other price differentials and conditions of sale in line with the conditions of sale generally fixed by this order.

If a wholesaler or retailer who did not sell semi-vitreous china or pottery during March 1942 does not allow the same discounts, delivery terms and other price differentials allowed by his nearest competitor who did sell semi-vitreous china or pottery during March 1942, or does not file an application in accordance with the provisions of this section, or if he fails to provide any of the information required by this section, the Price Administrator may, on his own motion, issue orders under this section fixing discounts, allowances and other price differentials in line with such conditions of sale fixed by this order. Conditions of sale so established will apply to all sales and deliveries made on and after June 13, 1946.

SEC. 7. Compliance with this order.—(a) No buying or selling at over ceiling prices. Prices established by this order are ceiling prices. Prices lower than ceiling prices may be charged and collected at any time. However, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or deliver, and in the course of trade or business, no person shall purchase or accept delivery of any semi-vitreous china or pottery at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by this order or before the manufacturer has properly determined his ceiling price under this order.

If, in violation of this provision, a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of any semi-vitreous china or pottery is made before its ceiling price has been properly established in accordance with this order, the ceiling price applicable to the sale, offer to sell, or delivery shall be the correct ceiling price for such semi-vitreous china or pottery properly determined in accordance with this order.

(b) Certain practices forbidden. It shall be a violation of this order to charge a price above the applicable ceiling price in connection with any sale, of semi-vitreous china or pottery, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration, even though the price increase appears only indirectly.

The following is illustrative of the things a seller is not permitted to do. A seller is not permitted to require the purchaser, as a condition of the sale or transfer of semi-vitreous china or pottery to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchaser through any particular lending agency; to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts or services so as to increase the total compensation above the article's ceiling price; to require him to purchase any other commodity or service; or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging, transferring, or trading in any other semi-vitreous china or pottery or other commodity. Where there is an exchange, transfer or trade-in in connection with a sale, it is a violation for the seller to give the purchaser an allowance for the commodity exchanged, transferred or traded in, which is less than its reasonable value.

SEC. 8. Credit charges on dealers sales. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the retail ceiling prices established by this order or by any order issued under this order unless otherwise provided. No such credit charge may exceed that permitted by this section.

(a) Dealers who in March 1942 collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of semi-vitreous china or pottery, may collect a charge for the extension of credit on sales under this order, not exceeding such charge in March 1942 on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser. Dealers who did not then so state and collect an additional charge, may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment plan sales; and the charge shall not exceed the separately stated additional charge collected for the extension of credit on a similar sale on similar terms to the same class of purchaser in March 1942 by dealer's closest competitor who made such a separately stated charge.

An installment plan sale as used in the above paragraph means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (1) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (2) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

(b) All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately. Any charge which is not quoted and stated separately or which otherwise does not conform to this section shall for the purpose of this order, be considered to be part of the price charged for the article sold.

(c) No dealer may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

(d) "Dealer" refers to a person making sales at retail as defined in the General Maximum Price Regulation.

SEC. 9. Notification to purchasers for resale. At the time of, or prior to, the first invoice to a purchaser for resale showing a price adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing that:

(a) If he is a wholesaler, he must determine his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order under section 4 of this order.

(b) If he is a retailer, he must determine his maximum resale prices for articles covered by this order under section 5 of this order.

SEC. 10. Definition. Unless otherwise defined herein or the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in the General Maximum Price Regulation, and Maximum Price Regulation No. 116, whichever is applicable, shall apply to all terms used herein.

SEC. 11. Relationship between this order and other orders and regulations. The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 and the General Maximum Price Regulation, and of any other regulations or orders issued under that regulation, including orders issued under Supplementary Order No. 133, Supplementary Order No. 148, and Maximum Price Regulation No. 116, with respect to resellers' sales and deliveries for which ceiling prices are established by this order to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of those regulations or orders.

SEC. 12. Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator or District Administrator authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may issue orders under sections 4, 5 and 6 of this order.

SEC. 13. Modification of the provisions of this order. Any provisions of this order, as applicable to articles or persons subject thereto, may be modified by order of general applicability issued under this section.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall become effective on the 13th day of June 1946.

Issued this 13th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

FERROUS WINDOWS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to section 22 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591, It is ordered: Order No. 48 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 is amended in the following respect:

1. A new section 2.12 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 2.12 Ferrous windows—(a) Manufacturers' increase for items having an October 1, 1941, price. On and after June 14, 1946, the maximum price for the sale by any manufacturer to any class of his purchasers of ferrous windows, or metal repair and service parts therefor, shall be determined by increasing the applicable maximum price which he had in effect to such purchaser on October 1, 1941, by 13 percent.

(b) Manufacturers' increase for items not having an October 1, 1941, price. A manufacturer may not increase his properly established maximum price for any ferrous window, or metal repair and service part therefor, for which he does not have an October 1, 1941, price without specific individual authorization from the Office of Price Administration.

A manufacturer desiring to modify his presently established maximum price for any ferrous window and metal repair and service part therefor for which he does not have an October 1, 1941, price shall file an application for such modification of his maximum price to reflect the adjusted price levels established for similar articles under (a) above, setting forth the following:

(1) Full description of the item. Cuts or detailed sketches should be supplied.

(2) Previously established maximum price for the item, and the section and regulation under which the maximum price was established.

(3) If possible, the name of competitors marketing a similar item for which such competitors had an October 1, 1941 price.

Such applications shall be filed with the Prefabrication and Building Equipment Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(c) Optional use of this section. Since the provisions of this section are not intended to reduce properly established maximum prices, any manufacturer whose price in effect to each class of purchaser on October 1, 1941, plus the increase provided for under (a) is less than his maximum price as established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591, may continue to use as his maximum price, the maximum price properly established under that regulation.

(d) Notification by manufacturers. Any manufacturer who applies the increase permitted under this section shall notify each purchaser, in writing, at or before the issuance of the first invoice after June 14, 1946, of the actual dollar-and-cents increase for each type of ferrous window over his maximum price to that class of purchaser in effect on June 13, 1946.

(e) Resellers' increase. The maximum price of a reseller to any class of his purchasers shall be determined by adding to the maximum price which had in effect to such class of purchaser on June 13, 1946 the percentage by which his acquisition cost has been increased by his supplier pursuant to the provisions of this section.

(f) Profit factor for use in connection with adjustments under section 1.2 (a) or (b). Any manufacturer of the types of ferrous window or repair and service parts therefor covered by this section, filing an application for adjustment in accordance with section 1.2 (a) or (b) may use in connection with such an application the industry profit factor of 2.2 percent.

(g) Definition. For the purposes of this section a ferrous metal window shall mean a frame or framework, with or without movable sash or ventilators, fabricated from hot or cold formed, or hot or cold rolled ferrous metal shapes, sections or members, together with hardware, operating devices, anchors, erection fittings, subframes, surrounds, weatherstripping, stools, casings or any other accessories required to provide a complete window unit used to fill a window opening.

This amendment shall become effective June 14, 1946.

NOTE: All reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040 ff. 21 U.S.C. 301 et seq., as amended by Public Law 139, 79th Cong., 1st Sess., July 6, 1945), the regulations for tests and methods of assay for antibiotic drugs (10 F.R. 11478-11485), as amended, are hereby amended as indicated below:

1. Section 141.1 (e) is amended by striking out the second and third sentences and substituting therefor the following: "Distribute the agar evenly in the plates and allow it to harden. Use the plates the same day they are prepared."

2. Section 141.1 (e) is also amended by adding the following at the end of the first paragraph. "A suspension of the test organism may be used in place of the broth culture described above in preparing the inoculum for the seeding of plates. Prepare such suspension as follows: Wash the organisms from an agar slant which has been incubated for 24 hours at 37°C with 2.0 ml of sterile physiological saline onto a large agar surface such as that provided by a Roux bottle containing 300 ml of agar. Spread the suspension of organisms over the entire agar surface with the aid of sterile glass beads. Incubate 24 hours at 37° C. Wash the resulting growth from the agar surface with about 50 ml of sterile physiological saline. Standardize this suspension by determining the dilution which will permit 20% light transmission through a filter at 6500 Angstrom units in a photoelectric colorimeter. Add 1.5 to 2.0 ml of this resulting dilution to each 100 ml of agar which has been melted and cooled to 48° C to prepare the inoculum for the plates. The suspension may be used for one week."

3. Section 141.1 is amended by adding a new paragraph as follows:

(h) The potency of a sample may also be determined by the standard curve technique using a single dose of standard and unknown.

Dilute the sample to be tested to 1.0 unit per ml. (estimated) in 1% phosphate buffer pH 6.0 using the 50 unit (estimated) dilution prepared as described in § 141.1 (d). Place six cylinders on the inoculated agar surface so that they are at approximately 60° intervals on a 2.8 cm radius. Use three plates for each sample. Fill 3 cylinders on each plate with the 1.0 unit/ml standard and 3 cylinders with the 1.0 unit/ml (estimated) sample, alternating standard and sample. Incubate the plates for 16 to 18 hours at 37°C. and measure the diameter of each circle of inhibition. At the same time prepare a standard curve using concentrations of the standard of 0.6, 0.7, 0.8, 0.9, 1.0, 1.1, 1.2, 1.3, 1.4, and 1.5 units/ml in sterile 1% phosphate buffer pH 6.0. Use three plates for the determination of each point on the curve a total of 27 plates. On each of three plates fill 3 cylinders with the 1.0 unit/ml standard and the other 3 cylinders with the concentration under test. Thus there will be 81 one unit determinations and 9 determinations for each of the other points on the curve. After the plates have incubated read the diameters of the circles of inhibition. Average the readings of 1.0 unit/ml concentration and the readings of the point tested for each set of 3 plates and average also all 81 readings of the 1.0 unit/ml concentration. The average of the 81 readings of the 1.0 unit/ml concentration is the correction point for the curve. Correct the average value obtained for each point to the figure it would be if the 1.0 unit/ml reading for that set of three plates were the same as the correction point. Thus, if in correcting the 0.8 unit concentration, the average of the 81 readings of the 1 unit concentration is 20.0 mm, and the average of the one unit concentration of this set of 3 plates is 19.8 mm, the correction is 0.2 mm. If the average reading of the 0.8 unit concentration of these same 3 plates is 19.0 mm the corrected value is then 19.2 mm. Plot these corrected values including the average of the 1 unit/ml concentration on 2 cycle semi-log paper using the concentration in units per ml as the ordinate (the logarithmic scale) and the diameter of the zone of inhibition as the abscissa. Draw the standard curve through these points. The 10 points selected to determine the curve are arbitrary and should be so chosen that the limits of the curve will fill the needs of the laboratory. However the potency of the sample under test should fall in the interval of from 60% to 150% of the correction point of the standard curve.

To estimate the potency of the sample average the zone readings of the standard and the zone readings of the sample on the three plates used. If the sample gives a larger average zone size than the average of the standard, add the difference between them to the 1.0 unit zone size on the standard curve. If the average sample value is lower than the standard value, subtract the difference between them from the 1.0 unit value on the curve. From the curve read the potencies corresponding to these corrected values of zone sizes.

PART 602—GENERAL ORDERS AND DIRECTIVES

ORDER EXCEPTING SURPLUS COAL PRODUCED IN DISTRICT 1 FROM PROVISIONS OF INTERIM DIRECTION ISSUED MAY 31, 1946

Certain producers at mines in District No. 1, because of a temporary curtailment of export and some lake shipments, have accumulated, and are accumulating surplus coal after fulfilling their obligations as prescribed by the Interim Direction issued May 31, 1946. Therefore, in order to permit the free movement of such surplus coal and to avoid any suspension or reduction of mining at such mines, the following order is issued pursuant to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9332 (8 F.R. 5355):

Exception to the provisions of the "Notice of Interim Direction to Shippers of Bituminous Coal Produced in All Districts and to Lake and Tidewater Commercial Dock Operators and Retail Dealers" issued May 31, 1946, is hereby granted with respect to all bituminous coal produced in District No. 1 as follows:

Notwithstanding the limitations imposed by the Stock Limitation Table prescribed by the Interim Direction issued May 31, 1946, shippers of bituminous coal produced in District No. 1 may ship, and consumers may receive, surplus coal remaining after fulfilment of the shippers' obligations as prescribed by Section 1 of said May 31 Interim Direction: Provided, That:

(a) The shipper shall have reported such surplus coal to the Area Distribution Manager in conformity with section 1 (e) of the May 31 Interim Direction.

(b) Any consumer receiving such surplus coal shall set forth on his order to the shipper, the information required by paragraph (b) of SFAW Order No. 32, as amended by Amendment No. 2 to SFAW Order No. 32, issued May 31, 1946, separately with respect to (1) the coal ordered in conformity with the provisions of the May 31 Interim Direction, and (2) the surplus coal ordered and obtained by virtue of this exception.

(c) Any shipper shipping such surplus coal shall report the information required by paragraph (a) of SFAW Order No. 32, as amended by Amendment No. 1 to SFAW Order No. 32, issued May 10, 1946, separately with respect to (1) the coal ordered in conformity with the provisions of the May 31 Interim Direction, and (2) the surplus coal ordered and shipped by virtue of this exception.

This order shall become effective immediately.

1. Section 3 is amended by inserting the word "net" before the words "maximum price of the item" when it first appears in Step 1.

2. Section 3 is amended by adding a new paragraph at the end thereof to read as follows:

An item of footwear covered by this order may be billed at a gross price provided the terms or discounts added are unconditional and that the net price, after discounts, does not exceed the net maximum price determined in Step 3, above.

3. The heading of Section 4 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Records, reports and notification.

4. Section 4 (b) is amended to add at the end of the first sentence of the second paragraph the following: "However, a manufacturing-retailer chain subject to a uniform pricing order shall file with the office which issued the uniform pricing order, or the office to which has been delegated the responsibility for the administration of the uniform pricing order."

5. Section 4 is amended by adding a new paragraph (c) to read as follows:

(c) Notification. In addition to any other notification requirements in other regulations affecting the sale of footwear covered by this order, each manufacturer shall, in connection with each sale of an item of such footwear, state on the invoice (or on a separate statement (1) which of the items being sold were priced under this order and (2) with respect to sales to wholesalers, for each such item the maximum price established under § 1499.2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, exclusive of all adjustments (this is the same maximum price as determined under Step 1 of section 3 of this order).

6. Section 7 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 7. Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator, and any District Director who has been authorized to act by the appropriate Regional Administrator, may at any time approve or revise maximum prices proposed or established under this order so as to conform such prices to the standards for adjustment set forth in this order, or may at any time disapprove maximum prices improperly proposed or established under this order.

7. Part B of OPA Form No. 6064-2847 in Appendix B is amended by adding a parenthetical phrase after the word "comparable" in the title of Part B to read as follows: "(To be 'comparable' the item of footwear must meet all of the tests described in section 2 (a) (2) of this Supplementary Order 162.)"

8. OPA Form No. 6064-2847 in Appendix B is amended to substitute for the sentence "Submit with this report a sample or samples (single shoe) of the shoes described in Parts A and B" under the heading "Samples and Patterns", which follows Part D, the following: "A sample or samples (single shoe) of the shoes described in Parts A and B may be required and shall be furnished on request from the Office of Price Administration."

[MPR 602,[1] Amdt. 3]

WOMEN'S NYLON HOSIERY

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 602 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Sales at retail. A sale at retail is a sale in compliance with the provisions of this regulation to an ultimate consumer, by a seller who regularly conducts a retail business. "Ultimate consumer" also includes industrial, commercial, and institutional users who do not buy for resale.

Appendix B provides specific prices for sales by "chain stores" and "mail order houses" as defined below.

(1) "Chain stores"—(i) Who are "chain stores." Certain sellers at retail are classified as "chain stores" and must sell women's nylon hosiery at no higher than the chain store ceiling prices set forth in Appendix B. As used in this regulation, a chain store means a store which is one of a group of five or more commonly owned or controlled retail stores. However, if half or more of the stores which comprise the group were in the business of selling women's full length hosiery prior to January 1, 1943 and these stores, considered together, had an "average percentage of initial markup" of more than 34% on women's full length hosiery during each of the calendar years 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942 (or during each of these specified calendar years in which such stores were in business) then, upon filing the computation set forth in (ii) below, such group of stores will be exempt from the chain store classification.

(ii) Computation of "average initial percentage markup." To determine the average initial percentage markup for any given year under (i) above the group must:

(a) Compute the total of the initial retail prices at which all purchases of women's full length hosiery were marked during that year;

(b) Compute the total of all invoice charges on purchases of the hosiery during the same year (figured after all discount deductions and including all transportation costs);

(c) Subtract the total secured in (b) from the total secured in (a); and

(d) Divide the remainder by the total obtained in (a). Sellers who are eligible for exemption from the chain stores classification on the basis that they had an average percentage of initial mark-up of more than 34% in accordance with the provisions of (i) above should prepare the above computation for each of the calendar years 1939, 1940, 1941 and 1942 (or for each of these specified calendar years during which they were in business) and send this computation, signed by the seller or a responsible official of the seller, to Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail. Until this computation is mailed to the Office of Price Administration, sales made by any store which is one of a group of five or more commonly owned or controlled retail stores shall be considered sales by a chain store and priced accordingly.

(iii) Exception for certain chain store sales. Any group of stores classified under this section as "chain stores" may file an application for permission to sell and deliver at the ceiling prices specified in column (g) of Table 1, Appendix B, such full-fashioned women's nylon hosiery as it purchases at the ceiling prices specified in column (d) of Table 1, Appendix B, from establishments making sales at wholesale, if it can establish that more than 50 percent (in dozens) of all the women's full-fashioned full length hosiery which was delivered to it during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 in which it has been engaged in the business of selling women's full-fashioned full length hosiery) was purchased by it from establishments making sales at wholesale. Such application must be filed in writing with the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall contain the following information:

(a) The name and address of the applicant, and the number of stores in its group;

(b) The date on which applicant first engaged in the business of selling women's full-fashioned full length hosiery;

(c) Facts showing that the applicant is a "chain store" under the provisions of section 2 (a) (1) (i) of this regulation;

(d) The number of dozens of pairs of women's full-fashioned full length hosiery which were delivered to it during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling women's full-fashioned, full-length hosiery);

(e) The number of dozens of pairs of women's full-fashioned hosiery as specified in subdivision (d) which were delivered to it by establishments making sales at wholesale and the number of dozens of pairs which were delivered to it by manufacturers during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling full-fashioned full length hosiery);

(f) The name and address of each establishment making sales at wholesale which delivered women's full-fashioned full length hosiery to the applicant during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 (or during each of the years 1941, 1942, and 1943 in which it was in the business of selling women's full-fashioned full length hosiery) and the number of dozens of pairs delivered to the applicant by each such establishment during each of those years.

No sales or deliveries may be made by "chain stores" at higher than the ceiling prices specified in column (e) of table 1 of Appendix B until specific authorization is granted in writing by the Office of Price Administration pursuant to this subdivision. An order by the Office of Price Administration granting permission to sell rayon hosiery at prices in column (g), Table 1, of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 339 shall constitute authorization to sell, at prices in column (g), Table 1, of this regulation, nylon hosiery lawfully purchased (in a sale at wholesale) at ceiling prices in column (d), Table 1, of this regulation.

(2) "Mail order houses." A mail order house is an establishment making sales at retail which does a "mail order business" (i. e. makes offerings through retail catalogs or price lists and receives orders and delivers by mail to ultimate consumers). Such establishment must sell at or below "mail order house" prices. However, if the establishment was doing a mail order business prior to January 1, 1943 and had an average percentage of initial markup (computed in accordance with the provisions of subparagraph (1) (ii) above) of more than 34% on women's full length hosiery not produced by it during each of the calendar years 1939, 1940, 1941 or 1942 (or during each of these specified calendar years in which it was in the mail order business) that establishment, upon filing with the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail, the computation described in (ii) above (signed by an officer or principal) showing that its average percentage of initial markup was more than 34% in each of those calendar years, will be exempt from the "mail order house" classification.

2. Section 2 (c) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Limitation of distribution by manufacturers to persons other than sellers at retail and ultimate consumers—(i) As it affects manufacturers generally. No manufacturer shall deliver to persons other than sellers-at-retail and ultimate consumers, in any calendar quarter year, a larger percentage of his total deliveries of women's nylon hosiery (including finished and greige goods) than his "wholesaler percentage." A manufacturer's "wholesaler percentage" is the percentage that his deliveries in 1941, of women's full length hosiery of all fibers (including finished and greige goods) to persons other than sellers-at-retail and ultimate consumers bore to his total deliveries in 1941 of women's full length hosiery of all fibers (including finished and greige goods). If a manufacturer did not deliver any women's full length hosiery in 1941, his wholesaler percentage will be based on the deliveries of women's full length hosiery made during the first calendar year after 1941 in which he delivered this hosiery. In the case of a manufacturer who first delivered women's full length hosiery in 1945, his wholesaler percentage will be based on deliveries of women's full length hosiery made between January 1, 1945 and November 1, 1945. Deliveries by a manufacturer's agent or selling representative are to be considered as deliveries by the manufacturer. Deliveries to retailers' buying agencies, such as buying syndicates and central buying offices are to be considered as deliveries to sellers-at-retail. Export sales are included in the term "deliveries" as used in this subparagraph.

If a manufacturer did not deliver any women's full length hosiery in 1941, but has, since January 1, 1942, succeeded to the ownership and operation of a manufacturing plant which did deliver such hosiery in 1941 his wholesaler percentage is based upon his predecessor's deliveries in that year.

(ii) Special "wholesaler percentages" for circular knit hosiery. Manufacturers of circular knit hosiery may apply to the Office of Price Administration for special wholesaler percentages for circular knit hosiery, separately for such hosiery having a needle count of 370 or higher and such hosiery having a needle count lower than 370. Such special circular knit hosiery wholesaler percentages will be based upon the manufacturer's deliveries during 1941, or if he made no deliveries of circular knit hosiery during that year, upon his deliveries of such hosiery during the first subsequent calendar year (or first quarter year) in which he did deliver such hosiery. Applications for special circular knit wholesaler percentages shall be filed with the Apparel Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and shall contain all of the information required by section 2 (c) (4) (i) below, showing separately, deliveries of circular knit hosiery having a needle count of 370 or higher and deliveries of circular knit hosiery having a lower needle count.

In granting special circular knit wholesaler percentages under this section the Office of Price Administration may revise the manufacturer's wholesaler percentage established under (i) above.

3. The period at the end of the second sentence of section 5 (a), after the word "stated", is changed to a colon, and section 5 (a) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) The words "O. P. A. Ceiling" or "O. P. A. Ceiling Price", accompanied by the maximum price at retail under this regulation.

(i) Where the retail price established under the tables of Appendix B for the hosiery (unbranded) is a maximum price for sales by retailers "buying from wholesalers", then the letter "W" must precede the maximum price. No manufacturer may sell hosiery marked with a "W" to anyone other than a "qualified wholesaler" who has furnished the manufacturer with his OPA "Qualified wholesaler's registration number". No other person who first sells the hosiery in a finished state may mark hosiery with a "W" unless he is a qualified wholesaler under this regulation and has been issued a "Qualified wholesaler's registration number". No retailer may sell hosiery marked with a "W" unless he has purchased such hosiery from a "qualified wholesaler" and unless the qualified wholesaler's OPA registration number appears on the invoice delivered to the retailer for such hosiery in accordance with section 5 (c) (2) below.

(ii) If the hosiery meets the definition of "branded" as stated in this regulation and is permitted to be sold at branded ceiling prices, the letter "T" must precede the maximum price.

4. Section 5 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Temporary marking provisions for hosiery finer than 30 denier. For hosiery finer than 30 denier, the marking required under paragraph (a) above may be made by tag, insert or other device contained in or attached to the hosiery, Provided, That the hosiery so marked is delivered prior to July 1, 1946 by the person who first sells the hosiery in the finished state.

5. Appendix B is amended to read as follows:

Notes to Tables

[1] How to use tables. "Chain stores" and "Mail order houses" will find the maximum prices at which they may sell nylon hosiery in column (e) above, except that they may sell "branded" hosiery at branded prices in a sale at retail. Other retailers who buy unbranded hosiery direct from manufacturers will find the maximum prices at which they may sell nylon hosiery in column (f) and they will find in column (g) the maximum prices at which they may sell branded hosiery purchased from a manufacturer or hosiery (branded or unbranded) which they bought from a "qualified wholesaler" in a sale at wholesale. Hosiery sold "house to house" may be sold at the prices shown in column (g). Only first quality hosiery may be sold at branded ceiling prices.

Drop shipments under sales at wholesale are sales which qualify as sales at wholesale and in addition involve delivery to the retailer either from a place of business other than that of the seller-at-wholesale, or shipment by such seller to the retailer in substantially the same shipping case, shipping container, or outer covering in which the seller received the hosiery.

Manufacturers who are not retailers have but two possible types of sales. When they sell "branded hosiery" (as that term is defined in section 3 of the regulation) they will find their ceilings in column (c). Their unbranded hosiery ceilings are found in column (b). Hosiery classed as irregulars, seconds, or thirds may not be sold at "branded" ceilings. Manufacturers should likewise note that no hosiery which they sell to wholesale establishments may be sold at prices higher than those shown in column (d). Manufacturers who are also retailers will find an explanation of their retail prices in section 2 (c).

(a) Extra length stockings are those with a minimum length of 32½" finished.

(b) Lace and mesh stockings are those with a distinctive lace or mesh pattern throughout the leg portion, knit with full lace or modified lace tackle on a full-fashioned knitting machine. No lace or mesh premium may be applied to gauges higher than 51 if such premium results in a price greater than the corresponding lace or mesh price for 51 gauge.

(c) Outsize hosiery 14" and 14½" outsize hosiery is hosiery which:

(i) Is knit on 14" and 14½" needle bar using the full needle bar (with tolerance of 4 needles);

(ii) Is knit with no fashionings or narrowings in the flare;

(iii) Is boarded on outsize forms in accordance with accepted trade practice. 15" and 16" outsize hosiery is hosiery which is knit on a full 15" or 16" needle bar (with a tolerance of 4 needles) and is boarded on outsize forms in accordance with accepted trade practice. No outsize premium may be applied to gauges higher than 51 if such premium results in a price greater than the corresponding price of 51 gauge.

(d) Non-run stockings are those which are knit throughout the leg portion by one of the generally accepted methods of knitting non-run fabric. No non-run premium may be applied to gauges higher than 51 if such premium results in a price greater than the corresponding non-run price for 51 gauge.

(e) All nylon. If hosiery is made entirely of continuous filament nylon thread, or if the entire stocking is made with continuous filament nylon thread and any part of the foot is reinforced with another fibre; the hosiery is considered all-nylon. In the case of outsize hosiery, if the stocking is made with a cotton welt and is otherwise all-nylon except for foot reinforcement it is considered all-nylon.

(f) Nylon leg. If the leg is knitted entirely of continuous filament nylon thread, but some other portion of the stocking is made of another fibre (except for foot reinforcement described in (e) and cotton welt in outsize hosiery), the stocking is considered "nylon leg."

(g) Jacquard stockings are those made with a distinctive ornamental pattern or design on a full-fashioned knitting machine using a full Jacquard premium tackle. No Jacquard premium may be applied to gauges finer than 51 if such premium results in a price greater than the corresponding price for 51 gauge Jacquard stocking.

(h) When additions for special constructions are allowed. Permissible additions for special constructions are applicable to "all-nylon" and to "nylon-leg" stockings if the welts are made entirely of cotton or combinations of cotton and nylon and the feet are nylon.

	20 percent or more fiber	15 percent or more but less than 20 percent
Minneapolis, Minn.	$17.50	$28.50
Seattle, Wash.	29.50	40.50

(b) In Area A. The maximum f. o. b. plant price and the maximum carload delivered price at any point in Area A not listed in paragraph (a) above shall be the basing point price at Minneapolis, Minn., plus the lowest proportional grain products railroad rate from Minneapolis, Minn., to the point where the plant is located or at which delivery is made, as the case may be.

(c) In Area B. The maximum f. o. b. plant price and the maximum carload delivered price at any point in Area B not listed in paragraph (a) above shall be the basing point price at Seattle, Wash., plus the lowest proportional grain products railroad rate from Seattle, Wash., to the point where the plant is located or at which delivery is made, as the case may be.

(d) The above maximum f. o. b. prices at processing plants may be increased by $1.00 per ton for less than carload lots.

In explanation of the above: The term "f. o. b. plant price" as used above in paragraphs (b) and (c) shall apply only to deliveries made within the switching limits of the railroad point at which the plant is located; for deliveries of carload lots or pool car lots to all other destinations in Areas A, or B, the maximum delivered price shall be used.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales by processors. Section 3.1 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for processors, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. The base price referred to in section 3.1 is the appropriate base price found in section 6 of this supplement.

If you are the importer as well as the processor of the lot, your base price is the applicable base price for a plant located at the port of entry.

(b) Maximum markup. As a processor you are not permitted to add a maximum markup in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot unless you have unloaded such lot into a warehouse or store operated by you at a separate place of business not located at the production plant, and you sell from such warehouse or store. If, as to any lot, you comply with this requirement, you may add the appropriate one of the following markups per ton:

If you sell to a feeder from a store	$4.50
In all other cases	1.50

(c) Transportation cost. Sections 3.1 refers to "transportation cost". It is defined in section 1.20 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales by trucker-merchants. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for trucker-merchants, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.2 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in Section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Hauling allowance. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 also refers to "hauling allowance". That term is defined in section 1.21 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales by jobbers and car door sellers. Section 3.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for jobbers and car door sellers, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.3 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markup—(1) Jobbers. If you are a jobber and no other jobber has already handled the same lot and taken his markup thereon, you may add $1.00 per ton for car lot or pool car shipments.

(2) Car door sellers. If you are a car door seller, you may add a maximum markup of $3.50 per ton.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers. Section 3.4 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for wholesalers and retailers, and section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides base prices for wholesalers and retailers, are applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. Base prices referred to in section 3.4 are the base prices set out in section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markups. This regulation aims to prevent the inclusion in any maximum price of more than one markup for any class of seller. As a retailer you can always add a retailer's maximum markup since a seller can qualify as a retailer only when he is selling a particular lot to a person who will use the lot and will not resell it. It is therefore impossible for two retailers to handle the same lot. As a wholesaler, however, you are permitted to add the maximum markup set out below in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot, only if and to the extent that any other wholesaler who has already handled the lot has not taken the markup. On this condition, the following maximum markups may be added:

Wholesalers	$2.50
Retailers	5.50

SEC. 11. Charges for sacks and sacking. Section 3.6 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, dealing with increases for sacks, and section 3.7, dealing with charges for sacking, are applicable to this supplement.

This supplement shall become effective on June 14, 1946.

NOTE: The record-keeping provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

PART 1340—FUEL

[MPR 120, Corr. to Amdt. 138]

BITUMINOUS COAL DELIVERED FROM MINE OR PREPARATION PLANT

At the time of the issuance of Amendment No. 138 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 120, it appeared that Mine Index No. 209 of Eastern Coal Company, Bokoshe, Oklahoma, operated in the upper and lower Hartshorne Seams in District No. 14; consequently, its coals were classified under Production Group No. 7AA. Under the regulation, Production Group No. 7AA includes only those mines operating either in both the upper and lower Hartshorne Seams, or in the upper Hartshorne Seam only.

It now appears that the said mine operates only in the lower Hartshorne Seam, and that the producer thereof had submitted information to that effect, which was apparently misdirected or misplaced and failed, therefore, to be taken into consideration at the time of the issuance of the amendment. If such consideration had been given to this matter, Mine Index No. 209 would have appeared in a different production group. Therefore, the production group number appearing in § 1340.225 (b) (5) (i) for Mine Index No. 209 should be changed from 7AA to 7A, the appropriate production group number for mines operating in the lower Hartshorne Seam.

After due consideration of the foregoing, It is ordered:

Amendment No. 138 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 120 is hereby corrected in the following respects:

In § 1340.225 (b) (5) (i), the mine index number "209" appearing under Production Group No. 7AA is deleted from that production group, and is inserted in Production Group No. 7A, immediately above.

This correction shall become effective as of May 4, 1945.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

PART 36—REGULATIONS UNDER SERVICEMEN'S READJUSTMENT ACT OF 1944, AS AMENDED

ARMY SPECIALIZED TRAINING PROGRAM; NAVY COLLEGE TRAINING PROGRAM; CONSIDERATIONS FOR DETERMINING EFFECT OF STATUTORY PROVISIONS

Army Specialized Training Program; Navy College Training Program; considerations for determining effect of statutory provisions, "• • • exclusive of any period he was assigned for a course of education or training under the Army Specialized Training Program or the Navy College Training Program, which course was a continuation of his civilian course and was pursued to completion, * * *". Title II.

In considering the application of the statute regarding the exclusion of periods of assignment for courses of education or training under the Army Specialized Training Program or the Navy College Training Program, determinations will be made in the individual cases in accordance with the following principles: (Subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of paragraph (c), § 36.216, are hereby revoked and superseded as follows:)

§ 36.216 Deduction in computing active service. * * *

(1) "Continuation of his civilian course * * *". (i) Any course in the ASTP or the NCTP (V–12) which was a continuation of the civilian course of education of a trainee prior to his entrance into the active service will meet the statutory definition "continuation of his civilian course". If the course in the ASTP or NCTP (V–12) was not in fact a continuation of the civilian course of the trainee but presented deviations therefrom by reason of the requirements of the Service Department, the rule is not for application and exclusion of the period represented by such course is not in order. However, a deviation from the civilian course shall not be considered to have occurred unless the ultimate educational objective was changed; that is, deviation merely by reason of acceleration of a course, or by inclusion of certain elective subjects, or other minor curricular changes for whatever purpose, will not remove the course from the definition "continuation of his civilian course" so long as the general educational objective is not altered or changed.

(ii) Continuation by virtue of voluntary application. The definition "continuation of his civilian course" shall have been met when education or training under the ASTP or NCTP (V–12) was applied for upon volition by the service person. In the absence of a showing to the contrary, there is a prima-facie presumption that education or training under the ASTP and the NCTP (V–12) was upon application of the service person and the burden of proof for overcoming this presumption will be upon the applicant, if he contends that such education or training was not voluntarily applied for. However, even where such presumption is overcome by the applicant, his case will still be subject to consideration under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, as to whether the course was a continuation of his civilian course. (Attention is invited to the general directive issued personally by General Marshall in the spring of 1943, necessitating army-wide screening of personnel in continental United States for transfer to the ASTP as an assigned military duty. This may be considered for evidential development when indicated in the individual case.)

(2) "And was pursued to completion"—(i) Pursued to completion—(a) Completion of curriculum to which assigned. A course in either of the service programs was pursued to completion upon substantial fulfillment of the immediate educational objective, that is the completion of the terminal (or last) term of the curriculum of the civilian course. For example, a pre-medical course will have been pursued to completion upon completion of the final (5th) semester or term of the course approved during the war for admittance to a course in medicine. A course in medicine will have been completed upon the completion of the academic work required for an MD degree. A course in engineering will have been completed upon the completion of the final term of academic work ordinarily required for the granting of the first baccalaureate degree.

(b) Election of option to continue course as civilian. Where any course in the ASTP or NCTP (V–12) was terminated on election of the service person to be separated from the active service as a result of an offered option, to continue his course of education as a civilian, the case is within the definition "and was pursued to completion" (Administrator's Decision 595).

(ii) Not pursued to completion. A course in the ASTP or NCTP (V–12) will not be held to have been "pursued to completion" for the purposes of this act when in any case the course was terminated under the following conditions:

(a) Curtailment of ASTP, March and April, 1944. Separated from the ASTP as the result of the curtailment of the program during the period March and April, 1944, prior to completion of curriculum assigned.

(b) Termination of training for reasons other than specified in (a) and (b) under (2) (i) hereof. All cases of termination of education or training under ATSP or NCTP (V–12) prior to completion of the scheduled curriculum established by the ASTP or the NCTP under any conditions other than those specified in subdivision (i) (a) and (b) of this subparagraph (even where such training was within the definition "continuation of his civilian course" as defined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph). For example:

(i) This paragraph would apply to a considerable number of ASTP trainees separated from the Program in March and April, 1944, for assignment to regular enlisted service and would also apply to another large group separated from the program at the end of 1945, when the ASTP engineering curriculum was terminated, and trainees were assigned to military duties prior to completion of the scheduled curriculum, to another group separated from the service on termination of the Navy V–12 Program in June, 1946, and to other groups of veterans who, upon exercise of an offered option, elected assignment to regular active duty rather than release from the active service, upon discontinuance of courses in medicine, dentistry, etc.

(ii) Also, cases of termination of education or training in either Program by reason of scholastic failure, lack of officer qualifications, physical disqualification, or "special graduates."

(iii) Cases of certain advanced course ROTC students who were assigned to the ASTP about August 1943, pending vacancies in Officer Candidate Schools.

(iv) NROTC students who were commissioned prior to the completion of the regular established schedules in March 1944.

(3) Acquisition of service data. (i) Determinative actions will not be taken upon incomplete service data. In all cases where additional service data are required they should be secured from the Service Department through a request prepared on the appropriate form of the 3101 series before a final determination is made. These requests will in every case be made in following exact form:

(a) Date of assignment to and release from college training program—including date of interim duty.

(c) Highest term completed?

(4) Issuance of temporary certificate. If the record establishes a period of active service of 90 days or more, exclusive of the time spent in the questioned course, a temporary certificate for one year should be issued. Upon the receipt of the complete evidence a finding of fact will be made as to whether the course was a continuation of the veteran's civilian course and was pursued to completion, after which a supplemental certification of the period of entitlement will be furnished the veteran.

(5) General Observations (Army)—(i) Medicine, dentistry and veterinary medicine. ASTP Training in medicine, dentistry and veterinary medicine is given in accredited professional schools in accordance with the regular curricula of those schools, and consists of the number of terms or semesters required to complete such regular curricula. Whether or not the veteran is selected for assignment to a medical, dental or veterinary school, the successful completion of the terminal (or last) term of the course in pre-medicine, pre-dentistry or pre-veterinary medicine, shall constitute the completion of the course within the meaning of the law.

(ii) ROTC. Where a degree was granted by an institution, time expended by an ROTC trainee in the ASTP prior to the granting of such degree shall be excluded in the computation of time in the determination of entitlement to educational or training benefits.

(iii) ASTP curricula of a special military nature which are not to be considered as the continuation of a civilian course within the meaning of the law are as follows:

(a) Foreign Area and Language, offered under the Advanced Phase of ASTP.

(b) United States Military Academy Preparatory Training Program; program of preparatory training for officers, warrant officers and enlisted men on active duty holding War Department letters of appointment as candidates for admission to the United States Military Academy.

(c) Army Specialized Training Reserve Program; program of training for qualified 17 year old members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps. This is inactive status, and not within the service provisions of the law.

(6) General observations (Navy)—(i) Theological candidates. Upon the successful completion of the eight terms the candidate was assigned to a theological seminary of his denomination and remained there the number of terms necessary to obtain a B. D. degree in the shortest possible time.

(ii) Medical and dental candidates. Upon the successful completion of the five terms, the candidate may have been selected for medical or dental training, in which case he was assigned to an appropriate medical or dental school, where he remained the number of terms necessary to complete that school's requirements for a degree in the shortest possible time. Whether or not selected for assignment to a medical or dental school, the successful completion of the five terms of pre-medical or pre-dental training shall constitute the completion of the course within the meaning of the law.

(iii) Basic courses. All basic courses were the same with the exception of the first two terms basic for pre-medicine and pre-dentistry.

(iv) Navy training courses not considered within the Navy College Training Program within the meaning of the law.

(a) Pre-midshipman training.

(c) Hospital corpsmen duty. Assignment to U. S. Naval Hospitals, laboratories, or similar institutions, for the performance of hospital apprentice or corpsmen duties, following the completion of pre-medical or pre-dental curricula and pending further assignment to an approved medical or dental school, does not come within the meaning of a "continuation of his civilian course", and therefore time so expended while assigned to such interim duty may be included for the purpose of computation of active service.

(d) In-service training. In-service training schools such as Yeoman Schools, Diesel Engine Schools, Machinist Mate Schools, etc., which were conducted on college and university campuses for the purpose of the utilization of instructional staffs and physical equipment of the institutions, were not part of the Navy College Training Program within the meaning of the law.

(7) Review. (i) Regional Offices will immediately institute a review of the files of all cases for the application of the principles set out herein. First in the order of review will be the cases wherein Certificates of Eligibility and Entitlement have been returned showing commencement of education and training, and they will be reviewed with all possible dispatch. When necessary by reason of the application of these principles, a new Certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement will be issued to show the extent of education or training to which the veteran is entitled and the veteran will be notified of the necessity to present the Certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement for proper endorsement by the institution and return to the Veterans' Administration. The necessary actions will be taken to establish proper entries in the records in accordance with established procedure.

(ii) Following the completion of the review of cases above referred to, and without any interference with the expedition of current necessary actions, each case wherein a Certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement has been issued will be reviewed in the order in which such cases were processed and action will be taken in accordance with the foregoing to issue a new Certificate of Eligibility and Entitlement in each case when in order, recalling the certificate previously issued. FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

BUTTREY BROADCAST, INC. (KFBB) [1]

PUBLIC NOTICE CONCERNING PROPOSED TRANSFER OF CONTROL

The Commission hereby gives notice that on March 6, 1946, there was filed with it an application (B5-TC-481) for its consent under section 310 (b) of the Communications Act (47 USCA 310) to the proposed transfer of control of Buttrey Broadcast, Inc. (licensee of standard broadcast station KFBB, Great Falls, Montana) from F. A. Buttrey and seven other stockholders to Fred Birch, 314 Ford Building, Great Falls, Montana. The proposed transfer of control of the above licensee is based upon contracts, as follows: A contract entered into October 5, 1945, between F. A. Buttrey as seller and Fred Birch as purchaser, pursuant to which said seller agreed to sell all his 1469 shares of stock in the licensee of KFBB for $107 a share, or for $157,183. Separate contracts were entered into in October 1945 between the remaining seven stockholders and Birch under which they also agreed to sell their respective holdings (1331 shares in the aggregate) for $107 a share, or for a total of $142,417. There are in all 2800 shares outstanding all of which are proposed to be sold. The contracts provide that they shall terminate October 5, 1946, if the Commission fails to approve the sale by that time, in which event the down-payments will be returned. Further details as to the arrangements between the parties and pertaining to the application may be determined from an examination of the application and associated papers on file at the offices of the Commission.

In the Commission's decision of September 6, 1945, granting the application for transfer of control of the Crosley Corporation (Docket No. 6767), it was announced that public hearings would be held to consider proposed new rules and regulations for the handling of assignment and transfer applications including provision for public notice by the applicant and the Commission of the filing of such applications and pertinent details in cases where a controlling interest is involved. Thereafter, on October 3, 1945, the Commission also gave public notice (10 F.R. 12926) that pending the issuance of such proposed new rules, hearing thereon, and final adoption, consideration of such applications would be deferred unless applicants desired to follow the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision, and supplement their applications so as to come within the framework of the announced procedure including the provision for public notice. Subsequently, on December 13, 1945, the Commission adopted tentatively a proposed rule of procedure to govern the handling of assignment and transfer applications including the character of notice required of applicants in such cases. Pursuant thereto the Commission was advised on May 29, 1946 that beginning on said date notice would be inserted in a newspaper of general circulation published at Great Falls, Montana, concerning the proposed transfer of the controlling interest in the licensee.

In accordance with the procedure proposed in the Crosley decision and that announced in the Commission's release and the proposed rule, no action will be had on the application for a period of 60 days from May 29, 1946.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held in its offices at Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of June 1946;

Whereas, on August 24, 1945, the Commission adopted a report announcing its decision with respect to certain suggested rules and regulations relating to FM broadcasting, and in connection with the issue of reservation of channels, stated therein as follows: "The Commission does not propose to reserve any FM channels from assignment at the present time"; and

Whereas, on December 19, 1945, the Commission issued an allocation plan indicating the tentative number of metropolitan FM channels which might be available for assignment in the various areas throughout the United States; and

Whereas, based upon its experience since such dates, the Commission is of the opinion that the purpose of section 307 (b) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, may be better effectuated and the public interest may be better served by a reservation of metropolitan FM channels under certain conditions;

Now, therefore, It is ordered, That oral argument be held before the Commission en banc on the 12th day of July 1946, upon the following issue:

1. To determine whether the public interest would be served by the reservation for the period of one year of every fifth channel tentatively indicated as available for the various areas in the Commission's news release of December 19, 1945.

It is further ordered, That any person or party desiring to participate in said oral argument file notice of intention to do so on or before the 9th day of July 1946.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF MECHANICAL RECORDS

ORDER PROVIDING OPPORTUNITY FOR ORAL ARGUMENT

In the matter of amendment to § 3.407 of the Commission's rules and regulations governing the announcement of mechanical records; Docket No. 7611.

At a meeting of the Federal Communications Commission held in its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 29th day of May 1946;

Whereas the Commission is of the opinion that public interest, convenience and necessity may be served by amending § 3.407 of the rules and regulations to read as follows:

§ 3.407 Mechanical records. (a) No recorded program consisting of a speech, news events, news commentator, forum, panel discussion, special event, or any other recorded program in which the element of time is of special significance and a presentation of which would create, whether intentionally or otherwise, the impression or belief on the part of the radio audience that the event or program being broadcast is in fact occurring simultaneously with the broadcast, shall be broadcast without an appropriate announcement being made at the beginning and conclusion of the broadcast that it is a recorded program: Provided, however, Any recorded program of one minute duration or less need only be announced at the beginning. The identifying announcement shall accurately describe the type of mechanical record used.

(b) Any other program consisting of a mechanical record or series of mechanical records need not be announced as provided in subsection (a), but the licensee shall not attempt affirmatively to create the impression that the program being so broadcast consists of live talent.

And, whereas the Commission is of the opinion that it will best conduce to the proper dispatch of business and to the ends of justice that all interested persons be given an opportunity to file statements or briefs and to appear before the Commission and argue orally why the above proposal should not be adopted, or why it should not be adopted in the form proposed by this order;

Now, therefore, It is hereby ordered, That, upon the written request of any interested person, oral argument be held before the Commission en banc on a date to be specified in the future, as to why the proposed rule should not be adopted or why it should not be adopted in the form proposed by this order. Such requests for oral argument shall be filed by all persons desiring to appear on or before June 24, 1946, and each such request shall be accompanied by a brief.

[Public Notice 93896]

RESERVATION OF FM CHANNELS[1]

NOTICE OF HEARING

JUNE 6, 1946.

The Commission today adopted an order[2] proposing to withhold for the period of one year the assignment of every fifth channel tentatively indicated as available for allocation to a given area, in the Commission's news release of December 19, 1945. Oral argument will be held on this proposed policy on the 12th day of July, 1946, and persons desiring to participate therein are required to file their appearances on or before the 9th day of July 1946.

Under the proposed policy, no reservation of channels would be made if a maximum of four channels was indicated for a particular area in the December 19, 1945, release. However, if at least five but no more than nine channels were indicated for an area, one channel would be withheld for the period of one year from the date of the adoption of this policy. Two channels would be withheld if 10–14 channels were listed; three, if 15–19 channels were listed; and four, if 20 were listed.

The object of this policy is to permit an equitable distribution of FM frequencies, pursuant to section 307 (b) of the Communications Act. If a policy of reserving every fifth channel were adopted, each area could have a maximum of four stations assigned to it at this time if four channels were indicated for it in the release of December 19, 1945; however, provision is made for the future consideration of an applicant for an FM station in an outlying city which has not applied at this time, if at least five channels are indicated for the area. The policy thus permits the establishment of FM service in every area and yet prevents an unequal distribution of FM channels among the various communities.

NELSON BROS. AND STROM CO.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. U. S. Slicing Machine Company of La Porte, Indiana may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all meat and bread slicing machines which it manufactures as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 10.0 percent.

(2) For an article not in its line during October 1941, but which has a properly established ceiling price, in effect before the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the article's properly established ceiling price for the particular sale (exclusive of all permitted increases or adjustment charges) increased by the percentage determined in accordance with "Note 3" in section 8 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 186; and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order is his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

The adjustment charge determined in accordance with this order must be separately stated by the manufacturer on each invoice to a purchaser for resale.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to his supplier.

If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to, his supplier. To find his maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges) for this purpose the reseller shall add to his invoice cost, less the adjustment charge stated on that invoice, the same percentage mark-up which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has properly established ceiling prices. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620-759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, allowances and other price differentials in effect during March 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Modification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale, showing a price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(f) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 15th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. Heywood-Wakefield Company, Gardner, Massachusetts, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all tubular steel and wood school furniture which it manufactures as follows:

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order is his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

In all other respects, the provisions of Order No. 11 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, including invoicing and reporting provisions and determination of resellers' prices, apply to maximum prices of tubular steel school furniture adjusted in accordance with this order, and which falls within the definition of "metal commercial furniture" as set forth in that order.

The adjustment charge determined in accordance with this order must be separately stated by the manufacturer on each invoice to a purchaser for resale of articles of school furniture not covered by Order No. 11 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of an article not covered by Order No. 11 which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjusted charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he had paid to his supplier.

If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to his supplier. To find his maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges) for this purpose the reseller shall add to his invoice cost, less the adjustment charge stated on that invoice, the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has properly established ceiling prices. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to sections 15 and 16 of Revised Supplementary Order No. 119, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's ceiling prices. Heywood-Wakefield Company, Gardner, Massachusetts, may compute its adjusted ceiling prices for all tubular steel and wood school furniture which it manufactures as follows:

(1) For an article in its line during October 1941, the adjusted ceiling price is the highest price charged during that month to each class of purchaser increased by 18.57 percent.

(3) For an article which is first offered for sale after the effective date of this order, the adjusted ceiling price is the maximum price hereafter properly determined or established in accordance with Maximum Price Regulation No. 188; and prices so fixed may not be increased under this order.

(4) The manufacturer's adjusted ceiling price fixed in accordance with this order is his new ceiling price if it is higher than his previously established ceiling price including all increases and adjustments otherwise authorized for him individually or for his industry.

In all other respects, the provisions of Order No. 11 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, including invoicing and reporting provisions and determination of resellers' prices, apply to maximum prices of tubular steel school furniture adjusted in accordance with this order, and which falls within the definition of "metal commercial furniture" as set forth in that order.

The adjustment charge determined in accordance with this order must be separately stated by the manufacturer on each invoice to a purchaser for resale of articles of school furniture not covered by Order No. 11 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of an article not covered by Order No. 11 which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjusted charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he had paid to his supplier.

If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to his supplier. (4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to resale prices or articles covered by this order.

INDIAN SPLINT, INC.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. Indian Splint, Inc., 56 Rutter Street, Rochester 6, New York, may increase its maximum prices properly established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (exclusive of any adjustment charges) for articles of wood and upholstered furniture, which it manufactures by 9.5 percent of each such maximum price.

(b) Resellers' ceiling prices. Resellers of articles which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

(1) A retailer who must determine his ceiling price under Maximum Price Regulation No. 580 and a wholesaler who must determine his ceiling prices under Maximum Price Regulation No. 590, shall compute their ceiling prices in the manner provided by those regulations. However, if the supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, the reseller shall compute his ceiling prices under those regulations as they have been modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(2) A reseller who determines his maximum resale price under the General Maximum Price Regulation, and whose supplier's invoice states both an "unadjusted maximum price" and a selling price, shall compute his ceiling price under that regulation as modified by Order No. 4800 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

If his supplier's invoice does not state an "unadjusted maximum price", the reseller shall calculate his ceiling prices by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage mark-up which he had on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose, the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of article to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage mark-up is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form No. 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method, the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(3) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to the determination of ceiling prices for resales of articles covered by this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Ceiling prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, and allowances on sales to each class of purchaser in effect during March 1942, or, thereafter, property established under Office of Price Administration regulations.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale on and after the effective date of this order, showing prices adjusted in accordance with this order, the seller shall notify the purchaser in writing of the method established in paragraph (b) of this order for determining adjusted maximum prices for resale of the articles. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

[SO 133, Order 50]

CENTRAL DESK MFG. CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to Supplementary Order No. 133, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturer's maximum prices. The Central Desk Manufacturing Company, 454–456 Armour Street, Chicago, Illinois, may increase by 5 per cent, its maximum prices in effect immediately prior to August 14, 1945, for sales of wood office furniture which it manufactures.

(b) Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. Resellers of any article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum prices as follows:

A reseller who had a properly established maximum price in effect before this order was issued for an article covered by this order may add to that maximum price an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment charge authorized by this order for, and which he has paid to, his supplier.

If the reseller did not have a properly established maximum price for the article in effect before this order was issued he shall first determine a maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges), and to that price he may add an adjustment charge in the same dollar-and-cents amount as the adjustment authorized by this order for, and which he has paid, to his supplier. To find his maximum price (exclusive of adjustment charges) for this purpose the reseller shall add to his invoice cost, less an adjustment charge stated on that invoice, the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established ceiling price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(1) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(2) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(3) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(4) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called for by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling prices, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

(c) Terms of sale. Maximum prices adjusted by this order are subject to each seller's terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials, in effect during March, 1942, or which have been properly established under the applicable OPA regulation.

(d) Notification. At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to a purchaser for resale showing a maximum price adjusted in accordance with the terms of this order, the seller shall notify such purchaser in writing of the methods established in paragraph (b) for determining adjusted maximum prices for sales of the articles covered by this order. This notice may be given in any convenient form.

(e) Reports. The manufacturer shall file the report described in section 5 of Supplementary Order No. 133 with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(f) Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(g) The provisions of Supplementary Order No. 153 shall not apply to resale prices of articles covered by this order.

(h) Effective date. This order shall become effective on the 15th day of June 1946.

Issued this 14th day of June 1946.

[RPS 40, Order 38]

BRONZE AND COPPER INSECT SCREEN CLOTH

ADJUSTABLE PRICING ORDER FOR CERTAIN SALES BY MANUFACTURERS

The Office of Price Administration has in progress an industry-wide survey of the prevailing cost-maximum price relationships for manufacturers' sales of bronze and copper insect screen cloth subject to Revised Price Schedule No. 40. At least 90 percent of the affected manufacturers also manufacture ferrous insect screen cloth. For their sales of the ferrous insect screen cloth, they have been authorized by the Office of Price Administration to operate under adjustable pricing. The industry requested that a similar authorization be extended to their sales of bronze and copper insect screen cloth as well.

The granting of such authorization is approached with caution by the Office of Price Administration where the bulk of commodities involved reach the ultimate consumer through varied and often complex channels of distribution, as is the case with most commodities subject to the control of the Mechanical Building Equipment Price Branch. However, such authorization, in the opinion of the Administrator, may be more safely granted in the case of industrial sales, i. e. on sales to purchasers who incorporate the affected commodity in commodities of their own manufacture.

In the opinion of the Price Administrator, pending final action on the industry-wide price increase proposal, this authorization is necessary at least to the extent stated above, in order to promote production of screen cloth, and under the circumstances so limited, will not interfere with the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

After due consideration of the foregoing and pursuant to section 1346.2a of Revised Price Schedule No. 40—Builders' Hardware and Insect Screen Cloth, it is ordered:

(a) Manufacturers of bronze and copper insect screen cloth, on their sales of such cloth to manufacturers who incorporate it in other commodities, are authorized to sell, and such purchasers are authorized to buy, bronze and copper insect screen cloth at prices which may be adjusted upward after delivery in accordance with the action taken by the Office of Price Administration upon a pending review of the maximum prices currently in effect for the sales of bronze and copper insect screen cloth. This authorization shall not extend to sales to purchasers who buy the subject screen cloth for resale.

(b) Manufacturers who make sales in accordance with (2) above may collect and purchasers may pay no higher than the maximum prices currently in effect for bronze and copper screen cloth pending action by the Office of Price Administration. Any balance due may be collected upon establishment by the Office of Price Administration of the new maximum prices.

(c) This order shall be automatically revoked upon the establishment by the Office of Price Administration of new maximum prices for bronze and copper insect screen cloth subject to Revised Price Schedule 40.

This order shall become effective June 14, 1946.

Issued this 14th day of June, 1946.

It provides a new method by which manufacturers of articles for which uniform retail ceiling prices have previously been authorized shall use in determining new uniform retail ceiling prices of these articles. It applies only to those articles which the manufacturer sells on or after the effective date of Amendment No. 1 to Revised Order No. 1.

(b) The uniform retail ceiling price in each zone for an article covered by this order shall be the uniform retail ceiling price heretofore established for that article plus, 1½% thereof in the case of prices fixed for door to door sales of sheetware, or plus, 2.5% thereof in the case of prices for other types of sales of articles of sheetware.

(c) Wholesalers' ceiling prices shall be determined by the manufacturer in accordance with the provisions of Revised Order No. 1, based on the new retail ceiling prices computed in accordance with the provisions of this order.

HOUSEHOLD ALUMINUM COOKING UTENSILS

ADJUSTMENT OF CEILING PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, It is ordered, That Revised Order No. 1 under § 1499.159e of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 be amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Manufacturers' ceiling prices—(a) Sales to retailers and wholesalers. A manufacturer's ceiling price for the sale of a household aluminum cooking utensil to each class of purchaser for resale is the highest price of the following:

(1) His f. o. b. factory price to the particular class of purchaser, in effect on January 1, 1941, plus 14% of each such price in the case of sheetware, or plus 9% of each such price in the case of castware.

(2) His f. o. b. factory ceiling price to the particular class of purchaser established for particular articles in accordance with the provisions of the first, second, third, or fourth pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, or by an order of the Office of Price Administration issued under § 1499.159c of that regulation, plus 14% of each such price in the case of sheetware, or plus 9% of each such price in the case of castware. In the case of articles priced under the first, second or third pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, the ceiling price may be calculated in this way only if the ceiling prices of the comparable articles were no higher than prices in effect on January 1, 1941, for sales to the same classes of purchasers.

(3) His f. o. b. factory ceiling price to the particular class of purchaser established for particular articles in accordance with the provisions of the first, second and third pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(4) His price to the particular class of purchaser as established by Order 3827 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

Regardless of any higher price determined in this way, a manufacturer's ceiling price for sales to a retailer, other than a chain store or mail order house, shall be at least 30% less than the retailer's ceiling price fixed by this order.

(b) Sales to ultimate consumers. A manufacturer's ceiling price for the sale of a household aluminum cooking utensil to an ultimate consumer is the highest price of the following:

(1) His ceiling price for sales to an ultimate consumer in effect on January 1, 1941, plus 1½% of such price only in the case of sheetware.

(2) His ceiling price for sales to an ultimate consumer established for particular articles in accordance with the provisions of the first, second, third, or fourth pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 or by an order of the Office of Price Administration issued under § 1499.159c of that regulation, plus 1½% of each such price only in the case of sheetware.

(3) His price to the particular class of purchaser as established by Order 3827 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(c) Terms. A manufacturer's ceiling price fixed by this section is subject to his customary terms, conditions and allowances to each class of purchaser in effect on January 1, 1941, or thereafter properly established under Office of Price Administration regulations.

2. To the end of the first undesignated paragraph in section 5 is added the following sentence: "The retail ceiling price properly calculated at the time that the manufacturer delivers a household aluminum cooking utensil to a purchaser for resale shall be the retail ceiling price for a sale of that article to a consumer regardless of subsequent changes in the provisions of this section."

3. Paragraph (a) of section 5 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Retail ceiling prices for retailers other than "Class I" sellers. The retail ceiling price for a household aluminum cooking utensil sold by a retailer other than a Class I seller (as defined below), shall be determined by adding to the "manufacturer's price" an amount equal to 100% of such price in the case of both sheetware and castware.

For the purposes of this section, the "manufacturer's price" is the highest of the following f. o. b. factory prices for sales of the article to the class of wholesaler or chainstore to whom he sells articles covered by this order in the largest dollar volume.

(1) The price in effect on January 1, 1941, plus only in the case of sheetware 2½% of such price.

(2) The price established in accordance with the first, second, third, or fourth pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (§§ 1499.155 through 1499.158) or by an order of the Office of Price Administration under § 1499.159c of that regulation, plus only in the case of sheetware 2½% of such price.

(3) The price established by Order No. 3827 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

(4) The price established by an individual adjustment order under Supplementary Order Nos. 118, 133 or 148 or Revised Supplementary Order No. 119 or any other supplementary order which may provide for the individual adjustment of a manufacturer's ceiling prices less 11.5 percent of the highest of the following:

(i) The price in effect on January 1, 1941, or

(ii) The price established in accordance with the first, second, third or fourth pricing methods of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 (§§ 1499.155 through 1499.158) or by an order of the Office of Price Administration under § 1499.159c of that regulation, without the inclusion in such price of any individual adjustment that might have been obtained by the manufacturer.

(iii) The price established by Order No. 3827 under Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

4. To the end of the last sentence in the first unnumbered paragraph in paragraph (b) of section 5 is added the phrase, "plus only in the case of sheetware, 2½%."

5. Section 5 (d) (1) (iii) is amended to read as follows:

(iii) The price requested for the article is no higher than the level of retail ceiling prices for that article prevailing during March 1942, plus, only in the case of sheetware, 2½%.

6. Paragraph (a) of section 7 is amended to read as follows:

(a) Terms, discounts and allowances. Except as modified by the foregoing requirement that no ceiling price to a retailer may reduce the retailer's margin on the retail ceiling price below 30% of that price, every seller shall maintain all of his terms, discounts, allowances, and other price differentials in effect on January 1, 1941, in the case of a manufacturer, or during March 1942, in the case of a wholesaler or a retailer, or which have been thereafter properly established under OPA regulation.

A wholesaler or retailer who did not sell household aluminum cooking utensils during March 1942, or whose discounts, allowances, terms and other conditions of sale have not been thereafter established under OPA regulations, shall allow the same delivery terms, conditions of sale, terms, discounts and other price differentials which his closest competitor who did sell household aluminum cooking utensils during March 1942 is required to allow under the provisions of this order. A wholesaler or retailer who cannot ascertain the delivery terms, discounts, allowances, etc. which his nearest competitor is required to allow shall apply to the nearest District Office of the Office of Price Administration for an order under this section establishing the conditions to which his ceiling prices are subject. Such application may be by letter and shall state the type of business he is operating (wholesale or retail), when he started to sell the household aluminum cooking utensils which he desires to sell and the classes of purchasers to whom he sells. An order will be issued under this section establishing terms, allowances and other conditions of sale in line with the conditions of sale generally fixed by this order.

If a wholesaler or dealers who did not sell household aluminum cooking utensils during March 1942 does not allow the same discounts, delivery terms and other price differentials allowed by his nearest competitor who did sell household aluminum cooking utensils during March 1942, or does not file an application in accordance with the provisions of this section, or if he fails to provide any of the information required by this section, the Price Administrator may, on his own motion, issue orders under this section fixing discounts, allowances and other price differentials in line with such conditions of sale fixed by this order. Conditions of sale so established will apply to all sales and deliveries made on and after June 17, 1946.

7. A new paragraph (e) is added to section 7 to follow paragraph (d) and to read as follows:

(e) Compliance with this order—(1) No buying or selling at over ceiling prices. Prices established by this order are ceiling prices. Prices lower than ceiling prices may be charged and collected at any time. However, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell, offer to sell, or deliver, and in the course of trade or business, no person shall purchase or accept delivery of any household aluminum cooking utensil at a price higher than the ceiling price fixed by this order or before the manufacturer has properly determined his ceiling price under this order.

If, in violation of this provision, a sale, offer to sell, or delivery of any household aluminum cooking utensil is made before its ceiling price has been properly established in accordance with this order, the ceiling price applicable to the sale, offer to sell or delivery shall be the correct ceiling price for the household aluminum cooking utensil properly determined in accordance with this order.

(2) Certain practices forbidden. It shall be a violation of this order to charge a price above the applicable ceiling price in connection with any sale of a household aluminum cooking utensil, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration even though the price increase appears only indirectly.

The following is illustrative of the things a seller is not permitted to do. A seller is not permitted to require the purchasers, as a condition of the sale or transfer of a household aluminum cooking utensil, to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchase through any particular lending agency; to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts or services so as to increase the total compensation above the article's ceiling price; to require him to purchase any other commodity, or service; or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging, transferring, or trading in any other household aluminum cooking utensil, product or commodity. Where there is an exchange, transfer, or trade-in in connection with a sale, it is a violation for the seller to give the purchaser an allowance for the household aluminum cooking utensil product or commodity exchanged, transferred or traded-in, which is less than its reasonable value.

8. A new paragraph (f) is added to section 7 to follow paragraph (e) and to read as follows:

(f) Relationship of this order to Supplementary Orders 118, 148, Revised Supplementary Order 119 and other supplementary orders. All resellers' ceiling prices for household aluminum cooking utensils approved or established by orders issued at any time under Supplementary Orders 118, 133, 148 or Revised Supplementary Order 119 shall not apply to any such articles which are delivered by the manufacturer on or after June 17, 1946. Resellers' ceiling prices for such articles shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this order.

9. A new paragraph (g) is added to section 7 to follow paragraph (f) and to read as follows:

(g) Orders of general applicability. Orders issued under this paragraph may modify the provisions of this order or of any orders issued under any other paragraphs of this order.

10. A new section 8 is added to follow section 7 and to read as follows:

SEC. 8. Delegation of authority. Any Regional Administrator or District Administrator authorized by the appropriate Regional Administrator may issue orders under section 7 (a) of this order.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This amendment shall become effective on the 17th day of June 1946.

LOW-END WOOD SCHOOL FURNITURE

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, it is ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of this order. The purpose of this order is to remove price impedements to the continued supply of certain specified types of low-end wood school furniture.

SEC. 2. Articles covered by this order. This section contains a list of articles of wood school furniture together with a dollar-and-cents "cut-off point" for each type of article. All such articles for which the manufacturers' properly established maximum prices are below the appropriate cut-off points, are called "low-end" articles in this order. The cut-off prices listed are for sales by the manufacturer to jobbers, distributors or equivalent large volume classes of purchasers. Cut-off prices to other classes of purchasers shall be prices which reflect the manufacturer's customary or established differtials for sales to those other classes of purchasers. If, for any reason, the manufacturer has no such customary or established differentials the Office of Price Administration will, upon application, establish appropriate cut-off prices to any other classes of purchasers which reflect customary trade differentials.

Articles of wood [1] school furniture for which maximum prices may be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this order

	Cut-off prices for sales to jobbers, distributors or equivalent large volume classes of purchasers (each)
Tablet arm chairs	$5.00
Side chairs (teachers' or pupils')	3.50
Tables:
48" x 20" plain	8.00
48" x 20" two drawers	9.00
60" x 20" plain	9.00
60" x 20" three drawers	10.25
72" x 20" plain	10.75
72" x 20" four drawers	12.75

[1] As used in this order the term "wood" school furniture means the above articles of school furniture when made with wood which accounts for at least 50% of the cost of materials used exclusive of Joining Hardware.

SEC. 3. Manufacturer's maximum prices. A manufacturer may increase his properly established maximum price for an article of low-end wood school furniture listed in section 2 by 20% of that maximum price or the amount necessary to bring that maximum price up to the appropriate cut-off point, whichever is the lesser. No maximum price adjusted under this section may exceed the appropriate cut-off point as found in section 2 of this order.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices of purchasers for resale. All resellers of an article which the manufacturer has sold at an adjusted ceiling price determined under this order shall determine their maximum price as follows:

(a) A reseller who sold or offered for sale the same article prior to the effective date of this order, shall calculate his new maximum price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he had on that article prior to the effective date of this order.

(b) A reseller who did not sell or offer for sale the same article prior to the effective date of this order, shall calculate his maximum price by adding to his invoice cost the same percentage markup which he has on the "most comparable article" for which he has a properly established maximum price. For this purpose the "most comparable article" is the one which meets all of the following tests:

(i) It belongs to the narrowest trade category which includes the article being priced.

(ii) Both it and the article being priced were purchased from the same class of supplier.

(iii) Both it and the article being priced belong to a class of articles to which, according to customary trade practices, an approximately uniform percentage markup is applied.

(iv) Its net replacement cost is nearest to the net cost of the article being priced.

The determination of a ceiling price in this way need not be reported to the Office of Price Administration; however, each seller must keep complete records showing all the information called by OPA Form 620–759 with regard to how he determined his ceiling price, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended remains in effect.

If the maximum resale price cannot be determined under the above method the reseller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration for the establishment of a ceiling price under § 1499.3 (c) of that General Maximum Price Regulation. Ceiling prices established under that section will reflect the supplier's prices as adjusted in accordance with this order.

SEC. 5. Definition. Unless otherwise defined herein, or the context requires otherwise, the definitions contained in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation and § 1499.163 of Maximum Price Regulation, whichever is applicable, shall apply to all terms used herein.

SEC. 6. Relationship of the order to other orders or regulations. The provisions of this order supersede the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, of the Maximum Price Regulation No. 188, and of orders under those regulations only to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of those regulations.

SEC. 7. Modification of the provisions of the order. The provisions of this order, as applicable to articles or persons subject hereto, may be modified by orders of general applicability issued under this section.

SEC. 8. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

SEC. 9. Effective date. This order shall become effective on June 18, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record keeping provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942, as amended.

Issued this 17th day of June 1946.

Administrator.

Regional and District Office Orders.

[Region II Rev. Adopting Order 21 Under Basic Order 1 Under Gen. Order 68]

SECTION 1. What this order covers. This revised adopting order under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, covers all retail sales of the sizes and types of plywood listed in the annexed price tables made by sellers located in the counties of Niagara, Erie, Chautauqua, and Cattaraugus in the State of New York, and the counties of Warren, Forest, Clarion, Armstrong, Westmoreland, Washington, Beaver, Butler, Allegheny, Lawrence, Mercer, Crawford, Erie, and Venango, in the State of Pennsylvania, which counties constitute the portion of the States of New York and Pennsylvania in which the carload freight rate of plywood from Seattle, Washington is 93¢ per CWT. All provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended, are adopted in this order and are just as much a part of this order as if specifically set forth herein. If said Basic Order No. 1 is further amended in any respect the provisions of said order as amended shall likewise without further action become part of this order. All persons subject to this adopting order are also subject to Basic Order No. 1 as amended under General Order No. 68 as amended, and should be familiar with the provisions of said order. This revised adopting order supersedes Adopting Order No. 21 under Basic Order No. 1 under General Order 68 issued January 17, 1946, and effective February 1, 1946, and said Adopting Order No. 21 under Basic Order No. 1 under General Order No. 68 is revoked as of the effective date of this order.

SEC. 2. Definition of retail sales. A retail sale means any sale to the ultimate consumer, or to a contractor for installation rather than resale, except where the sale is made by a plywood manufacturer, or a plywood distribution plant who in 1941 received more than 20 percent of its dollar income from the sales of plywood or veneer of any kind. These latter types of sales remain subject to the provisions of 3d Rev. MPR 13.

SEC. 3. Definition of construction items. Construction items as the term is used in this order, means plywood items described as follows:

MOISTURE-RESISTANT TYPE

Plyscord (sheathing): 5/16", 3/8", 1/2" and 5/8" rough.

Class I retailers are those who since June 20, 1945, purchased or purchase at least one carload of plywood on direct mill shipment. Any shipment which comes directly from the mill without becoming an integral part of the stock of a distribution plant or a retail yard is a direct mill shipment no matter who the seller is.

Class II retailers are all other retail sellers, principally those who buy their plywood from distribution plants.

Maximum prices for class I retailers on construction items in quantities under 1,000 square feet are set forth in Table IA. Maximum prices for Class I retailers on all other items in quantities under 1,000 square feet are set forth in Table I–B. SEC. 5. Additions for delivery. The above prices include all charges and additions for delivery in the seller's free delivery zone as recognized by him during March 1942. No deduction need be made if the purchaser elects to do his own delivery. If delivery is made outside the free delivery zone, the seller may add for delivery as prescribed in sections 4 and 5 of 3d Rev. MPR 13, namely the amount computed by multiplying the estimated weights in section 22 of 3d Rev. MPR 13 by the applicable rail freight rate. Any addition for delivery must be shown separately on the invoice.

SEC. 6. Discounts and allowances. The maximum prices in this order include all commissions. All customary discounts for cash must be continued. Differentials in price based on quantity sold must be observed as set forth in the price tables.

SEC. 7. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended and to 3d Rev. MPR 13. As previously stated all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by any other regulation or order and specifically by 3d Rev. MPR 13. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order all other provisions of 3d Rev. MPR 13 shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 8. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of his list of maximum prices as fixed by this order in each of his places of business within the area covered by this order. Class I sellers shall post Tables I–A, I–B, I–C, I–D and Class II sellers shall post Tables II–A, II–B, II–C, II–D. Posting of Tables II–A, II–B, II–C, II–D, by Class I sellers is a violation of this order.

SEC. 9 (a). Records and sales slips. The provisions of section (e) of Basic Order No. 1 covering sales slips and records are adopted in and applicable to this order as though specifically set forth herein; and also on any sale of $50.00 or more each seller regardless of previous custom, must keep records showing at least the following:

(1) Name and Address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by the applicable table of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under the applicable table of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 10. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator.

This order shall be effective as of March 30, 1946.

LEO F. GENTNER,

Class I retailers are those who since June 20, 1945, purchased or purchase at least one carload of plywood on direct mill shipment. Any shipment which comes directly from the mill without becoming an integral part of the stock of a distribution plant or a retail yard is a direct mill shipment no matter who the seller is.

Maximum prices for class I retailers on construction items in quantities under 1,000 square feet are set forth in Table I-A. SEC. 5. Additions for delivery. The above prices include all charges and additions for delivery in the seller's free delivery zone as recognized by him during March 1942. No deduction need be made if the purchaser elects to do his own delivery. If delivery is made outside the free delivery zone, the seller may add for delivery as prescribed in sections 4 and 5 of 3d Rev. MPR 13, namely the amount computed by multiplying the estimated weights in section 22 of 3d Rev. MPR 13 by the applicable rail freight rate. Any addition for delivery must be shown separately on the invoice.

SEC. 6. Discounts and allowances. The maximum prices in this order include all commissions. All customary discounts for cash must be continued. Differentials in price based on quantity sold must be observed as set forth in the price tables.

SEC. 7. Relationship of this order to Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order No. 68 as amended and to 3d Rev MPR 13. As previously stated all provisions of Basic Order No. 1 as amended, are adopted by this order. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum price or pricing method previously established by any other regulation or order and specifically by 3d Rev. MPR 13. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order all other provisions of 3d Rev. MPR 13 shall remain applicable to sales covered by this order.

SEC. 8. Posting of maximum prices. Every seller making sales covered by this order shall post a copy of his list of maximum prices as fixed by this order in each of his places of business within the area covered by this order. Class I sellers shall post Tables I–A, I–B, I–C, I–D and Class II sellers shall post Tables II–A, II–B, II–C, II–D. Posting of Tables II–A, II–B, II–C, II–D, by Class I sellers is a violation of this order.

(1) Name and address of buyer.
(2) Date of transaction.
(3) Place of delivery.
(4) Complete description of each item sold and price charged.

(b) Maximum prices for insufficiently described items. Where the seller's records or sales slip upon a sale of any commodity covered by this order in the area covered by this order, do not contain a sufficiently complete description to identify the exact nature, type, size, or quantity of the commodity, and thus determine the maximum price fixed by the applicable table of this order, the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the lowest maximum price which can be computed under the applicable table of this order in accordance with the incomplete description.

SEC. 10. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revised, amended, revoked or modified at any time by the Regional Administrator or the Price Administrator.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region VII of the Office of Price Administration by sections 9 and 20 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251, It is ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. (a) This order fixes maximum prices for plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment and certain other permitted charges by any person, hereinafter called the seller, to any person, hereinafter caller the purchaser, in connection with a residential building, at a fixed site in the State of Wyoming.

(b) Definitions. As used in this order, the term:

(1) "Plumbing" means water, steam, gas, and oil distribution and waste removal systems in a residential building at a fixed site.

(2) "Plumbing services" means the services required to install, alter, repair, maintain or remove plumbing materials or equipment in or from a residential building at a fixed site but not including the cleaning of cesspools, grease traps, and septic tanks which services are covered by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165.

(4) "Residential building" means any building or part thereof used entirely or principally for living or dwelling purposes (including houses, apartments, hotels, and all other properties used for living or dwelling purposes), and all other buildings or structures in connection therewith or adjacent thereto at the same site, such as garages, barns, milk houses, sheds, granaries, and other out-buildings.

(5) "Maximum labor charge" means the amount charged for labor of a specified type or class for plumbing services, made either at a flat rate per hour so as to include a margin for administrative and over-head costs and profit, or as a percentage of the seller's labor cost, which resulting maximum labor charge is also deemed to include a margin for administrative and over-head costs and profit.

(6) "Labor cost" means the seller's actual labor cost based on the wage rates in effect on October 3, 1942 for the same class of laborers, or the seller's actual labor cost based on the wage rates which have been subsequently approved by a Federal wage or stabilization agency. Additional payments for Federal old-age benefits, unemployment compensation taxes, workmen's compensation and public liability insurance shall be regarded as being part of such labor cost.

(2) Measurement of hours. The number of hours which may be charged against any plumbing job consuming one day or less shall be counted from the time the workman leaves the seller's shop or the previous plumbing job (whichever time is later) until he completes the job or proceeds to another job or until he returns to the seller's shop if he proceeds there directly. Whenever any job extends into more than one day, the time in transit to or from the job may be charged only once. The hours for which charges are made shall not exceed those shown in the records which the seller is required to keep under section 9 of this order.

(3) Overtime. (a) When work is performed at the purchaser's request after 12:01 p. m. on Saturday and between the hours of 5 p. m. and 8 a. m. of any other day except Sundays, legal holidays, and on emergency night calls, the maximum labor charge per hour for work during such hours may not be in excess of 150% of the straight time rate authorized in this order.

(5) Self-employed plumber. A self-employed plumber who performs plumbing services himself, either alone or with his employees, may charge for his services not more than the hourly rate charged by him as of the effective date of this revised order but not in excess of the maximum labor charge which would be permissible to be charged for the services of a journeyman plumber in the local area where the services are being performed.

(6) Maximum labor charges for combination work. The maximum labor charge for any combination of master plumber, journeyman plumber, apprentice plumber, helper, common laborer, or other employee may not exceed the total of the maximum hourly rates of each of the types or classes of labor for which maximum charges are provided in this order.

II. Maximum prices of plumbing materials and equipment and other permitted charges. (1) The maximum prices which may be charged by any seller of plumbing materials and equipment, which for the purposes of this order also include all items known as plumbing fixtures and specialties, shall not be in excess of the seller's cost plus the percentage herein specified. (The seller's cost of materials and equipment shall be deemed to be the wholesale net price lawfully charged the plumbing trade for limited quantities of such materials and equipment by established wholesale plumbing supply firms nearest his place of business, based on their published price lists, together with the actual transportation charges paid therefor by the seller but not in excess of the common carrier rate from the nearest point of supply. If the materials and equipment being sold are marked by a manufacturer's label containing the approved OPA retail ceiling price for sales of the commodity by a seller, a seller of such materials and equipment under this order may charge the price marked on the label in lieu of the stated percentage markup herein specified but in no event may the seller charge more than the price marked on the label.

(b) Water heating equipment, including hot water tanks, electric, gas, and oil burning automatic, semi-automatic or manually operated water heaters	50	40
(c) Plumbing materials and specialties including all items used in repairing or installing plumbing equipment or fixtures or water heating equipment such as pipe, pipe fittings, valves, hangers, lead and similar materials and specialities	50	45

1 On plumbing jobs of $350 or less, whenever the unit cost of any plumbing materials or specialties (including pipe nipples in lengths of 12 inches or less) is not more than $1.00, a markup of not to exceed 100% may be made but this permitted markup shall not apply to pipe made of copper, steel, brass, lead, wrought iron or cast iron, clay or asbestos cement, or to cast iron soil pipe or soil pipe fittings.

(2) Sub-contracted work. Where work such as drain laying, excavating, pipe covering, sheet metal ducts, and similar work is sub-contracted by a seller under this order, the seller may charge the purchaser the cost of such sub-contracted work plus a markup of not more than 10% but the charge to the purchaser may not exceed the price which the seller may lawfully charge if he had done the work himself.

(3) Power driven and other special plumbing equipment. If, during March, 1942, the seller made an extra charge for the use of power driven and other special plumbing equipment, but not including the motor vehicle in which the equipment is transported, the maximum prices per hour for such use upon and after the effective date of this order shall not be in excess of the highest price per hour he charged therefor or other maximum charges during March, 1942. If the seller acquired such power driven and other special plumbing equipment after March 1942 but prior to the effective date of this order and thereafter established maximum prices per hour or other maximum charges for such uses under the applicable maximum price regulation, he may continue to charge such established prices. In either case, the seller must have records available to substantiate the charging of such prices and such prices must be filed with the District Office of Price Administration pursuant to Section 9 of this order. If a seller commences the use of power driven and other special plumbing equipment after the effective date of this order he shall establish his maximum hourly prices therefor or other maximum charges under the applicable maximum price regulation and file such prices with the District Office within 10 days.

(4) Out of town travel expenses. A seller who furnishes men on an out of town plumbing job covered by this order shall be reimbursed to the extent of the amount he shall have to pay for travel expense at not to exceed 5¢ per mile for travel beyond the city limits and subsistence where the job necessitates the men being away from their homes. This item shall be explained to the purchaser prior to commencing the job and shall be invoiced separately. Travel expenses and subsistence may not be collected unless the seller actually pays the employee therefor.

(5) Transportation. If a seller uses his truck to transport materials, equipment, and men to and from a job beyond the city limits he may charge not more than 8¢ per mile to and from the job for such travel and similarly if other means of transportation are used.

(6) Charges for permits. Whenever a seller subject to this order is required to pay a permit fee to a municipal or other authority with respect to services or installations under this order he may make an additional charge to the purchaser in an amount not more than the actual fee paid to the municipal or other authority.

SEC. 5. Maximum prices of plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment in excess of $750.00. The maximum prices of plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment for plumbing jobs in excess of $750.00 shall be calculated under section 7 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251.

SEC. 6. Guaranteed price. A seller may offer to sell a plumbing job covered by this order on the basis of a guaranteed price but such guaranteed price shall not be higher than the maximum price figured in accordance with the pricing methods and requirements of this order: Provided, however, That if the guaranteed price is offered with respect to a plumbing job of $350.00 or less then the guaranteed price shall not be more than 10% higher than the maximum price figured in accordance with the pricing methods and requirements of this order.

SEC. 7. Related and incidental construction work. If on any plumbing job any installed building materials are furnished or any construction services are performed by the seller for which maximum prices are not fixed by this order, such materials and services shall be separately priced and billed on all invoices and sales slips. The maximum prices for such related and incidental work shall be determined under Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251 or as fixed by any applicable area pricing order issued by the Regional Administrator of Region VII.

SEC. 8. Notification. (a) Furnishing of statements. Each seller making a sale covered by this order shall, upon completion of the work, furnish to the purchaser a statement and keep a copy thereof at his principal place of business showing the following:

(3) The date the job was completed.

(4) A description of the work performed and the total charged for the job, including plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment and other permitted charges, and a separate statement of the related and incidental construction work performed as provided in section 7 of this order.

(b) Furnishing of further statements upon request. If requested by the purchaser, the seller shall furnish the purchaser an itemized statement showing the information contained in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of paragraph (a) of this section, together with an itemized statement showing the maximum labor charges for plumbing services for each type or class of labor performed and the hourly rates charged therefor, together with an itemized statement of the installed plumbing materials and equipment, and other permitted charges, and the quantities and prices of each, and a separate itemized statement of any related and incidental construction work performed, as provided in section 7 of this order. A copy of any such statements so furnished shall be kept by the seller at his principal place of business.

(c) Order available for inspection. Each seller making a sale covered by this order, if requested by the purchaser shall make available to the purchaser a copy of this order and a copy of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 251. Copies for this purpose may be obtained from the office of the Regional Administrator or from the District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 9. Records. Each seller must keep and retain at his principal place of business so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records concerning each sale covered by this order showing the following:

(1) The name and address of the purchaser.

(2) The location of the job.

(3) A copy of any and all contracts pertaining to each sale.

(4) The time the job was commenced and completed.

(5) A description of the plumbing services and installed plumbing materials and equipment involved, and other permitted charges, and the quantities and prices of each.

(6) The hours worked and labor charges by types and classes of labor.

(7) A separate itemized statement of any related and incidental construction work and the prices charged for such work.

SEC. 10. Filing and reporting of maximum prices. (a) Each seller subject to this order shall within 30 days after the effective date of this order, or within 10 day after any increase in labor cost is put into effect, or in the case of new sellers within 10 days after first entering business, file with the Cheyenne District

Office of the Office of Price Administration the following information.

(1) The "maximum labor charge" as that term is defined in section 1 (b) (5) of this order in terms of the straight time hourly rate to be charged the purchaser for plumbing services covered by this order for each class of workmen employed by him.

(2) The "labor cost" as that term is defined in section 1 (b) (6) of this order in terms of the straight time hourly rate applicable to each class of workmen by the seller.

(3) A statement that the prices charged by the seller for the sale of installed plumbing materials and equipment and the other permitted charges covered by this order will not exceed the maximum percentage markups and other charges permitted by section 4 of this order, and a statement that the maximum charge to the purchaser for plumbing services sub-contracted by the seller will not exceed the maximum price which the seller may lawfully charge under this order if he had rendered the services directly.

(4) A description and list of all power driven and other special plumbing equipment and the maximum hourly charges therefor which were in effect in March 1942 or which were thereafter established pursuant to the applicable maximum price regulation.

(5) The hourly rate charged by a self-employed plumber as of the effective date of this order pursuant to section 4 I (5) of this order or in the case of a new self-employed plumber the proposed hourly rate to be charged but not in excess of the maximum charge which would be permissible to be charged for the services of a journeyman plumber in the local area where the services are performed or are to be performed.

(b) Whenever a new seller files the information required by this section, the District Director may by order approve, disapprove or revise any maximum prices proposed so as to make it in line with the level of maximum prices established by this order. If the District Director fails to act within 20 days after the date of filing, the proposed prices shall be deemed to be in effect.

(c) If a seller subject to Order No. G-9, plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment in the State of Wyoming, issued December 10, 1945 and effective December 20, 1945, has complied with the provisions of section 10 (1) and (2) of that order and the same maximum labor charges and labor costs except for slight variances in the table given in section 4 II (1), of this order, are in effect as of the effective date of this Revised Order No. G-9, it shall be unnecessary for the seller to re-file or report under the provisions of this section. Each seller shall, however, comply with the provisions of this section with respect to its other filing and reporting provisions and also if there have been any changes in his maximum labor charges and labor costs not heretofore filed and reported to the Cheyenne Office.

SEC. 11. Prohibitions against sales at higher than maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this order, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or offer to sell plumbing services or plumbing materials and equipment on an installed basis, or both, covered by this order at higher prices than the maximum prices established by this order: Provided, That plumbing services performed or installations made not more than 30 days after the effective date of this order on bona fide contracts executed prior to the effective date of this order shall not be considered to be violations of this order.

SEC. 12. Evasions. (a) Any practice, scheme or device which results in a higher price to the purchaser of plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment than is permitted by this order shall be deemed a violation of this order and subjects the seller to all the civil liabilities and the criminal penalties provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended and extended.

(b) No seller shall as a part of the consideration or as a condition of a sale of any of the plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment covered by this order, secretly or otherwise receive, either directly or indirectly any side payment, commission, fee, consideration or other thing of value whatsoever nor shall the seller, either directly or indirectly acquire or receive in addition to the maximum prices established by this order the benefit of any services, transportation agreements or other valuable thing, materials or property.

(c) No seller shall eliminate or reduce in any form or manner any maintenance or repair service customarily offered or performed as a part of plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment nor shall the seller lower the quality of the materials and equipment below that called for by the specifications or agreement.

(d) No seller shall by any of the foregoing plans, schemes or devices, or by any other plan, scheme or device, receive or acquire or attempt to receive or acquire anything of value, service, valuable right, property or property right, money or other consideration whatsoever in addition to the maximum prices established in this order for the sale of any plumbing services or installed plumbing materials and equipment.

SEC. 13. Less than maximum prices. Prices lower than the maximum prices for sales covered by this order may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 14. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 15. Revocation of Order No. G-9. Order No. G-9, plumbing services and sales of installed plumbing materials and equipment in the State of Wyoming, issued December 10, 1945, and effective December 20, 1945, is hereby revoked.

SEC. 16. Revocation or amendment. This order may be revoked, modified or amended at any time by the Price Administrator or the Regional Administrator.

This Revised Order No. G-9 shall become effective May 20, 1946.

Issued this 6th day of May 1946.

II. It appearing to the Commission upon the basis of the statement filed by Public Service on Form U-3 (a) (2) pursuant to Rule U-2 of the Commission's rules and regulations under the act, claiming exemption on behalf of itself as a holding company and on behalf of its subsidiary companies as such, and on the basis of other information in the files of the Commission regarding Public Service and its subsidiaries, that a substantial question exists as to whether the continued exemption of Public Service and its subsidiary companies as such, from any provision or provisions of said act may be detrimental to the public interest or the interests of investors or consumers;

Notice is hereby given pursuant to Rules U-6 and U-2 under the act, that any exemption presently available to Public Service and its subsidiary companies as such by reason of the provisions of Rule U-2 shall terminate within 30 days of the date of this Notice as provided in Rule U-6 without prejudice, however, to the right of Public Service as a holding company to file any appropriate application for an order granting it any exemption pursuant to the provisions of any applicable section of the act, and without prejudice to any temporary exemption provided in any provision of the act by reason of the filing of any such application in good faith.

III. It appearing to the Commission, on the basis of the allegations hereinbefore set forth, that the operations of Public Service and its subsidiaries may not be confined to a single integrated public utility system or to a single integrated public utility system together with such additional integrated public utility systems as meet the requirements of section 11 (b) (1) and to such other businesses as can be retained under the standards of section 11 (b) (1), and that proceedings should be instituted under section 11 (b) (1) with respect to the holding company system of Public Service; and

It further appearing to the Commission, on the basis of the allegations hereinbefore set forth, that the corporate structure of the holding company system of Public Service may be unduly and unnecessarily complicated, and that voting power may be unfairly and inequitably distributed among the security holders thereof, and that proceedings should be instituted under section 11 (b) (2) with respect to the holding company system of Public Service; and

It further appearing to the Commission that United, the owner of 21.65% of the voting securities of Public Service, should be made a party to such proceedings;

Wherefore, It is ordered, That proceedings be, and the same hereby are, instituted under sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act with respect to Public Service and each of the subsidiaries of Public Service hereinbefore named, and that Public Service and each of its subsidiaries together with United are hereby made respondents in this proceeding, and said respondents shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before the 5th day of July, 1946, joint or several answers in the form prescribed by Rule U-25, admitting, denying, or otherwise explaining their respective positions as to each of the allegations set forth in Paragraphs 1 through 19 hereof and in section II hereof. Such answer may also include a statement by the respondents of their views as to what constitutes the "single integrated public utility system of Public Service", if any, which may be retainable by Public Service, and as to what additional system and other business, if any, they believe can be retained with such system under the applicable standards of section 11 (b) (1). Such answers may also include a statement as to what steps respondents deem to be necessary or appropriate and are prepared to take for the purpose of limiting the operations of the holding company system of Public Service to a single integrated public utility system, together with such additional systems and other businesses as can be retained by Public Service under the standards of section 11 (b) (1) of the act. Such answers may also include a statement as to what steps respondents deem to be necessary or appropriate and are prepared to take to ensure that the corporate structure or continued existence of any company in the holding company system of Public Service does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure, or unfairly and inequitably distribute voting power among security holders of the holding company system of Public Service or of United.

IV. It is further ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules of the Commission be held on the 16th day of July 1946, at 11 a. m., e. d. s. t., in Room 318 of the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, at which time the Commission will hear respondents and any other interested persons with respect to the matters and questions set forth below in sub-paragraphs (a) through (b), and as to any issues raised in and matters presented by the respondents' answers or regarding any other issues which may be present in this proceeding, and will consider the simplification of the issues, the facts and issues that appear to be without substantial basis of controversy, the order of presentation of evidence most conducive to an orderly and expeditious proceeding, and such other matters as may aid in the disposition of the proceeding:

(a) What steps are necessary to be taken by United, Public Service and the subsidiaries of Public Service to ensure that the corporate structure, or the continued existence of any company in the holding company system of Public Service does not unduly or unnecessarily complicate the structure, or unfairly and inequitably distribute the voting power among the security holders of the holding company system of Public Service or of United;

(b) What action is necessary to be taken by United, Public Service and/or its subsidiaries to limit their operations to a single integrated public utility system and such additional utility systems, or other businesses, as are retainable by Public Service under the standards of section 11 (b) (1) of the act;

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before the 5th day of July 1946, his request or application therefor, as prescribed by Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission. Any such request may state the position of the applicant with respect to the matters hereinbefore set forth and with respect to what action is believed necessary to be taken by any of the respondents to comply with sections 11 (b) (1) and 11 (b) (2) of the act. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to require any interested person to intervene as a prerequisite to being heard as to matters affecting his interest.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and hereby is, reserved to separate, either in whole or in part, or to dispose of, in whole or in part, any of the issues or questions which may arise in these proceedings, or to consolidated with these proceedings, or any portion thereof, any proceedings which may be subsequently instituted under the provisions of such act with respect to United, Public Service and the subsidiaries of Public Service, and to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve notice of the hearing aforesaid by mailing a copy of this notice and order for hearing to United, Public Service and the subsidiaries of Public Service named in paragraph (2), to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey, the Public Service Commission of the State of New York, the Public Utility Commission of Pennsylvania, the Federal Power Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission, not less than twenty days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing; and that notice of said hearing is hereby given to United, to Public Service and its subsidiaries, to their security holders, and to all consumers of the subsidiaries of Public Service, to all states, municipalities and political subdivisions of states within which are located any of the physical assets of said companies or under the laws of which any of said companies is incorporated, all state commissions, state security commissions, and all agencies, authorities and instrumentalities of one or more state municipalities, or other political subdivisions having jurisdiction over United or over Public Service or its subsidiaries of any of the businesses, affairs, or operations of any of them; that such notice shall be given further by a general release of the Commission, distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935; and that further notice be given to all persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER not later than twenty days prior to the date hereinbefore fixed as the date of hearing.

Chapter VI—Federal Public Housing Authority, National Housing Agency

PART 601—URBAN LOW-RENT HOUSING AND SLUM CLEARANCE

MANAGEMENT POLICY, MANAGEMENT PROGRAMS, AND MANUAL OF OPERATIONS

JUNE 15, 1946.

Section 601.401 is amended to read as follows:

§ 601.401 Statement of Management Policy, Management Programs, and Manual of Operations. The local authority shall formalize its determinations on management policy and procedure and submit them to the FPHA for review and approval. The documents in which the local authority will present its determinations are the Statement of Management Policy applicable to all its low-rent housing and Management Programs applicable to the respective developments.

(a) Statement of Management Policy. The Statement of Management Policy comprises the underlying major policies adopted by the local authority for the administration of all developments undertaken by it with the financial aid of the FPHA. The Statement of Management Policy forms a part of each Development Program; it shall be submitted and approved with the first Development Program of a local authority as provided in section 204; and, in its most recently revised form, shall be incorporated by reference in all subsequent Development Programs.

(b) Management program. A Management Program is the statement of management determinations for a specific development. It includes the specific rents and dwelling utility allowances included therein, income limits, occupancy standards, and estimates of average annual income and expense and of required Federal annual contributions and other determinations which shall govern the administration of the development. The Management Program forms a part of the Development Program and shall be submitted and approved as provided in section 204.

(c) Required revisions. Within 30 days after the award of the main construction contract, the local authority shall submit such revision of the Management Program (and particularly of the estimate of average annual income and expense) as is necessitated by any changes made in the Development Program up to that date.

(d) Subsequent revisions and additions. If further changes become necessary in any of the policies or determinations incorporated in the Statement of Management Policy or in Management Programs, such changes shall be made through a formal revision of the appropriate documents, and shall be approved by the FPHA, and adopted by the local authority. These documents, as revised, shall at all times reflect the current policy in respect to all the low-rent housing of the local authority, and the specific determinations in respect to particular developments.

(e) Manual of Operations. Not later than 30 days after the award of the main construction contract, the local authority shall establish, adopt, and file with the FPHA a proposed Manual of Operations for each development. The Manual shall contain (1) specific recording, reporting, and other administrative procedures, (2) procedures, specimen forms and instructions for tenant selection and reexamination and proposed form of dwelling lease or other agreement, (3) procedures and standards for maintenance and operation of the physical plant, and (4) personnel and procurement policies. Such policies, procedures, standards, forms, and instructions shall be in accordance with the requirements set forth hereinafter and such other standards established by the FPHA.

(c) Previous substandard housing condition. The tenant shall at the time of admission have been living in an unsafe, insanitary, or over-crowded dwelling, as defined by the local authority in its Statement of Management Policy, or have been displaced by a slum-clearance project or by off-site elimination in compliance with the equivalent elimination agreement.

The provisions of this paragraph shall not be applicable in the case of the family of any serviceman or the family of any veteran who has been discharged (other than dishonorably) from, or to the family of any serviceman who died in, the armed forces of the United States, where application for admission is made not later than July 1, 1950. The term "veterans" shall mean persons who have served in the military or naval forces of the United States during World War II. The term "servicemen" shall mean persons in the military or naval forces of the United States who served therein during World War II.

TENANT SELECTION

JUNE 15, 1946.

Section 601.405 is amended to read as follows:

§ 601.405 Tenant selection. The local authority shall select tenants on a uniform and objective basis, and in accordance with an established procedure which shall conform to the requirements of this section.

(a) Preference. Among eligible applicants within each income grade, preference shall be given first to families of servicemen and to families of veterans who have been discharged (other than dishonorably) from, and to families of servicemen who died in, the armed forces of the United States, where application for admission is made not later than July 1, 1950, and second, to families who have been displaced from the site of a slum clearance project or displaced by off-site elimination in compliance with the equivalent elimination agreement. Within each of the above categories of families and as among other eligible applicants, preference shall be given to those in the greatest need giving consideration to the degree of substandard housing conditions (or lack of housing in the case of families for whom the substandard housing requirements do not apply) and such other factors of need as the local authority shall determine.

(b) Evidence of eligibility. The local authority shall obtain a written statement from each family applying for admission setting forth the facts which relate to its eligibility. The local authority shall verify and certify to the accuracy of these statements for each family admitted.

(c) Non-discrimination. There shall be no discrimination in the selection of tenants because of religious, political, or other affiliations.

(d) Lease required. A responsible member of the tenant-family shall execute a written lease or other enforceable agreement containing, among other things, an agreement to furnish the local authority with information regarding its eligibility for continued occupancy and an agreement to vacate the dwelling if the tenant-family becomes ineligible for continued occupancy. Such lease or other agreement shall establish a sound landlord and tenant relationship with equitable standards of protection for the tenant and the local authority. Accordingly, such lease shall not contain any provision absolving the local authority from liability for its own negligence nor any provision under which the tenant agrees to confess judgment or to waive any other legal rights of the tenant.

PART 601—URBAN LOW-RENT HOUSING AND SLUM CLEARANCE

ESTIMATE OF AVERAGE ANNUAL INCOME AND EXPENSE

JUNE 15, 1946.

Section 601.408 is amended to read as follows:

§ 601.408 Estimate of Average Annual Income and Expense. The Estimate of Average Annual Income and Expense is a forecast of the average yearly income and expense of the development over the life of the Contract for Financial Aid. It is designed to provide a long-term financial prospectus of the development, and to form the basis upon which reserves are established.

An Estimate of Average Annual Income and Expense for each development shall be included in the Management Program, and a revised Estimate, if necessary, shall be prepared within 30 days after the award of the main construction contract (see section 401 (b) and (c)). The Average Annual Estimate shall be based on the average income and expense anticipated during the first 10 years after the end of the initial operating period. It shall be supplemented by an estimate of the additional average annual expense for repairs, maintenance, and replacements anticipated after the first 10 years. No Contract for Financial Aid shall be approved if the Federal annual contributions estimated to be required for the project during the first 10 years exceed the maximum Federal annual contribution less the estimated additional average annual expense for repairs, maintenance, and replacements required for the developments comprising the project after the first 10 years.

The Estimate of Average Annual Income and Expense will be based upon the estimating factors developed by the FPHA with such adjustments as are required to adapt the factors to local conditions and operating plans. The local authority shall submit to the FPHA for review and approval a revised Estimate of Average Annual Income and Expense if a permanent change in the probable cost of project operation has occurred as a result of permanent changes in cost levels, financing, operating improvements, or other circumstances. Temporary changes in cost levels, however, do not justify revised Average Annual Estimates since these estimates are essentially long-term financial forecasts.

For the purposes of this title (International Organizations Immunities Act), the term "international organization" means a public international organization in which the United States participates pursuant to any treaty or under the authority of any Act of Congress authorizing such participation or making an appropriation for such participation, and which shall have been designated by the President through appropriate Executive order as being entitled to enjoy the privileges, exemptions, and immunities herein provided. The President shall be authorized, in the light of the functions performed by any such international organization, by appropriate Executive order to withhold or withdraw from any such organization or its officers or employees any of the privileges, exemptions, and immunities provided for in this title (including the amendments made by this title) or to condition or limit the enjoyment by any such organization or its officers or employees of any such privilege, exemption, or immunity. An organization designated by the President through appropriate Executive order as entitled to enjoy the privileges, exemptions, and immunities provided in the International Organizations Immunities Act may enjoy the benefits of the exclusion from wages with respect to remuneration paid for services performed for such organization prior to the date of the issuance of such Executive order, if (1) the Executive order does not provide otherwise and (2) the organization is a public international organization in which the United States participates, pursuant to a treaty or under the authority of an Act of Congress authorizing such participation or making an appropriation for such participation, at the time such services are performed. The exclusion from wages is effective only with respect to remuneration of the prescribed character paid on or after December 29, 1945.
